BLOODY BATTLE

By a Clever Bit of Intrigue the Japanese Surprised the Chinese Troops at Songhwan.

Paraded in the Opposite Direction and Then Suddenly Rushed Back Straight at the Fortifications.

About One Thousand Chinese and Seventy Japanese Reported to Have Perished in the Engagement.

The Japanese Officers and Men Fought Like Tigers While the Chinese Troops Acted Cowardly.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 20.—The Examiner prints the following special dated Shichi-Gen, (Cereus), Aug. 5.—A bloody battle has been fought at Songhwan. This place is the headquarters of the Japanese general, Oshima, and is one of the most important villages of the kingdom. The Chinese have very strong fortifications at Songhwan and 17,000 troops are said to be stationed there. The Japanese were determined to capture the arms and provisions and bait the army by a clever bit of intrigue. They gave out that they were going to march back to Assin and, in fact, they did parade for a considerable distance in that direction, but no sooner were they convinced of the success of their scheme in making the Chinese believe that they had left the settlement than they marched with a rush straight up to the fortifications, attacking them in a body. They made a clean sweep of everything in the course of five hours' fighting. The Chinese were unprepared and for the sake of the truth be it known they were "Chin-chinned" the war, that is, knowing and knowing and firing crackers off the big wooden dity set upon a cannonball. About one thousand Chinese were killed in the engagement and seventy Japanese.

The Chinese, with their usual cowardice, deserted many of the fan kwai (foreign devil) officers, and when given orders to resist the advance of the enemy turned and fell upon their swords, preferring to commit suicide rather than be murdered by the Japanese. The Japanese officers and men fought like tigers. Some of the methods of warfare used were ridiculously gruesome and barbaric. For instance, the Chinese, it is told, used old fashioned stink pots (bowls slung on poles, and filled with sulphuric acid and other bad smelling stuff) which they hurled quickly at a man in a fight. One stink pot cast in among a dozen soldiers kills every man inside of a few minutes. The Mongols also resorted to wooden axes and to long bamboo poles. Many of them threw their guns away deliberately when they caught a glimpse of the enemy surrounding them like a demon cloud. It is impossible to accurately describe the barbarities which these poor devils practiced in their methods of war, and also in their penal punishment in times of peace.

S. Kurino, the Japanese diplomat who was recently appointed to the position of secretary to the United States, is here on his way to Washington. He arrived on the China and told the story of the war between the nations as a matter of days and weeks, and from his position in the Japanese government—he is this day of political affairs in the foreign office before he took his present position—his opinion has weight. "In regard to the Chinese forces," he said, "the north fleet is good and probably some of the scattering fleet is fairly competent to make a fight, but so far as training is concerned I consider the Japanese far superior. Our general facilities for fighting are also far better. The Chinese government has no direct control over its navy. It is scattered and the naval control is local. The north squadron has no discipline. The north squadron has some little training and discipline, but the whole navy is untried."

The minister's attention was called to a recent cablegram in which it was stated that the Chinese are offering large special prizes for the destruction of the Japanese naval vessels and for the heads of prominent Japanese officers and men even offering bounties for the heads of Japanese soldiers. "I have not seen this cablegram," said Minister Kurino, "but it would be just like the Chinese. I am informed they placed restrictions on the movements of some of our ambassadors in China. In Japan imperial decrees have been issued for the protection of the Chinese, as the intention of the Japanese government is the peace of the East. Japan is fighting to preserve the peace of the East. The balance of power is as much a factor in Oriental politics as it is in European affairs, and the autonomy of Korea is insisted on by Japan to preserve that balance of power. We are not giving an advantage to Russia, and that is why England is now neutral. Had Japan and Russia acted together this would not be the case. I do not think that France, England or Russia will be brought into this controversy, but that it will be fought by Japan and China alone."

A paper is feared in Japanese finance circles on account of the Korean imbroglio, says the Japanese papers. The banks have suspended their loans, while deposits are being fast withdrawn. Capitalists are unwilling to invest, as they expect to have an opportunity of making large profits through the panic. The money market is now very stiff. This condition is due to the belief that the present war will be far greater and more expensive than the Satsuma rebellion.

One paper says the finances were then quite disorganized. But now they have been organized to such an extent that there is a surplus in the treasury. The surplus alone amounts to about $1,000,000. It will not be difficult to issue $5,000,000 of convertible notes. Thus the expenditure of $58,000,000 would not have much effect on financial circles.

Altogether the popular subscriptions have been opened in Japan to raise money for the support of the troops in Korea and also to provide for the families of reserve soldiers who have been called into service. In many cases these families are left destitute, as the money supply has stopped. About $50,000 had been donated for this purpose prior to Aug. 1 and money was coming in quite rapidly.

THE POPULISTS MUST GO.
So Says Senator Teller Concerning the Election in Colorado.
DENVER, Aug. 20.—Senator Teller arrived from Washington yesterday, and will spend his vacation of several weeks in the west. According to his idea the coming state campaign is to be one for good government. National politics will not figure in the campaign, for the reason that the only issue at stake today is the silver issue, and "every man in Colorado, of whatever political complexion, is for the free coinage of silver."

"It must be apparent to every man and woman at home, as it certainly is to all outsiders who are interested in Colorado, that the Populists must go. It is not a question of the defeat of any one individual, but of the entire party. It is beyond the ken of any man to estimate the damage that has been done to this state by the present administration, and no matter who might be upon the Populist ticket in the coming election, whether the present governor or some other, a complete ruin following."

Speaking of national affairs, he said Cleveland is seriously setting his plans for a fourth term, but does not stand a ghost of a show to get it. Senator Hill, he thinks, is the coming man of the Democratic party, and he has of late become very much stronger politically than he was a year ago.

POPCUN BILLS.

Reported Back to the Senate Today By the Committee and Placed on the Calendar.

The Sugar Bill is Amended By Providing For a Straight Duty Without Any Differential.

This, It Is Claimed, Would Deprive the Sugar Trust of Receiving Any Undue Benefit.

Reciprocity Clause Attached to Coal Bill and the Free Iron Ore Bill Not Amended.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—Mr. Harris reported the amended sugar bill and the coal, iron ore and barbed wire bills. Inquiries were made as to what had become of amendments offered to the sugar bill, but Mr. Harris said it was not usual to report back amendments rejected in committee. Mr. Allison said the action of the senate last Saturday on Mr. Manderson's amendment when the vote was 21 to 20, and only failed for lack of a quorum, should be regarded as an instruction to the committee to report the amendment favorably. Mr. Chandler wanted to know what became of his amendment repealing and cancelling the late tariff act. Mr. Harris gave as his reply that he had been instructed to report the bill back with an amendment providing for a duty of 40 per cent. Mr. Mitchell gave notice that if the bill was called up at this session he would offer an amendment realizing re-enacting the wool schedule of 1890. The bills were ordered placed on the calendar. The senate went into executive session, but owing to the lack of a quorum adjourned until Wednesday. The sugar bill as agreed upon is amended so as to provide for a duty of 10 per cent straight on sugar, without any differential on refined sugar, or any extra duty on sugar imported from countries paying a bounty; in other words, is the new tariff bill rate minus the differential. It is the Jones amendment repealed by his amendment provided for a 30 per cent duty. The idea of the Democratic members of the committee is that rate would furnish sufficient revenue without giving the sugar trust any advantage. The coal bill was so amended so as to provide for reciprocity on this article by the admission free of duty of coal imported from this country free. Coal imported from countries that impose a duty on our coal is to be made dutiable at the rate in existence when this bill shall go into effect. The amendment to the barbed wire bill provides for the free admission of barbed wire and all other fencing wire and the rods from which they are made. The free iron ore bill was not amended. The Republican members of the committee offered amendments of their own to the bill. One of the amendments offered was that the repeal of the income tax. They also sought to have the revenue duty supplanted by a provision for free sugar with a bounty. They voted solidly against the bills, but did not seek to delay the report upon them.

ON TOP OF POPOCATAPETL.
Government Expedition of Scientists is Now at Work.

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 20.—The government expedition of scientists now on the summit of Popocatepetl is making good progress in its surveys of the famous volcano. The altitude is 19,643 Spanish feet above the level of the sea, and the circumference of the crater is 14,000 feet. An elaborate study is being made of the smoking vents of the volcano and the general deposits on the crater, as well as the geological formation of the mountain and the specimens encountered on its lofty slopes. Donald Stewart returned last night from the expedition, with which he spent several days for the purpose of looking into the feasibility of constructing a wire tramway from the base of the volcano to a fourth mountain, which is the source of sulphur mines within the crater. He thinks it possible to construct a tramway for freight and passengers, but has not entirely studied the obstacles to be overcome. The tramway would be over 10 miles in length and the longest line of the kind in the world.

AS TO FRUIT PEDDLERS.
A Plea For the People Who Purchase Fruit From Peddlers.

To the Editor of The Herald: Having read a communication in Saturday's Herald, which details the grocers' side of the fruit peddling ordinance, now before the city council, I thought I would state a few facts on the subject. The Herald's columns, we are told, are a very small proportion of the population of this city, who have the most right to be respected, always understood our city fathers are elected to make laws such as would benefit the public at large and particularly not laws to help a few, or a few grocers, as Mr. Cameron and his grocers' combine would have it.

Under the existing circumstances the poor can enjoy a little luxury for a short season by being able to purchase small lots of good (not decayed) as Mr. C. would have it) fruit for their doors at a price less than they can get the same delivered by the combine. Let our aldermen consider it is not the poorer classes of people who will suffer (not the peddlers) by increasing the fruit peddlers' license, as it will leave them a smaller margin between the grocers' selling price and theirs. The grocer's profits are on a hundred and one things in his business to help pay taxes and incidental expenses.

The writer as a resident and taxpayer of this city for the past fourteen years, sincerely hopes that the present law as to fruit peddlers will be allowed to stand as it is, as it will help money and injure few. Thanking you for this space, yours,
Duluth, Aug. 20.

Will Be Sent Away.
Judge Winje this morning dismissed the charge of incorrigibility against James Cogan, the West Duluth boy who seems to be the victim of an indifferent lousie. He will probably be sent to the state school.

The Crow Was Seized.
The steamer Lucile came in from Ashland at 9 a. m. with the Norwegian Singing society and 200 other excursionists. They had a fine trip yesterday and in the evening gave a concert at the Scandinavian hall, consisting of song music by the Scandinavian Sextet club and Messrs. Modest and C. I. Halling. The large hall was crowded. The return trip was made in rather rough weather and the captain stopped at Bayfield, but the passengers told him they would not mind a little storm. The trip was then continued. About an hour after the Apoc islands were passed there was a storm and seasickness enough to satisfy almost anybody.

WHEAT GRADES REMAIN.

Inspection Fees Fixed by the Warehouse Commissioners.

ST. PAUL, Aug. 20.—[Special to The Herald.]—The railroad and warehouse commissioners this morning decided to make no changes in the grading of Minnesota grain for the coming year, beginning Sept. 1.

Inspection and weighing fees on all grains except flax were fixed at 25 cents per car load for each service. Flax will be 75 cents per car. For inspection into vessels, flax will be charged 50 cents per 1000 bushels and other grains $1.

NEARLY BURNED TO DEATH.
Narrow Escape of Two Men and a Woman in St. Paul.

ST. PAUL, Aug. 20.—Two men and a woman narrowly escaped being burned to death in a fire at 600 Canada street at 2:30 o'clock yesterday morning. They are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Busch and Jack Sickles. Had it not been for the prompt and heroic efforts of Sergeant Ross, of the Central station, all would certainly have perished. The entire loss occasioned by the fire was less than $100.

Bede Yet in Washington.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—[Special to The Herald.]—J. Adam Bede expects to leave Washington for Minnesota on Thursday. By that time the officials of the department of justice anticipate that they will be able to close up the business with the Minnesota marshal growing out of the railroad strikes in Minnesota.

By What Authority?
WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—[Special to The Herald.]—Representative Bingham, of Pennsylvania, has introduced a resolution inquiring by what authority the secretary of war has granted a permit to the Altamonte Water company to build dams across the St. Louis and Cloque rivers as they are navigable streams.

Prize Fight in St. Paul.
ST. PAUL, Aug. 20.—A very exciting bout took place at the Casino club on Dayton's bluff on Saturday night. It was reported between T. W. Henderson, of Milwaukee, and Pete McCoy, the "Black Hurricane" of Omaha. McCoy won in the tenth round. From the start to the finish the match was hotly contested.

Another Record Broken.
ST. PAUL, Aug. 20.—L. Bird yesterday lowered the state 100-mile bicycle road record on a run over the Northfield course. The record has been 7 h 52 m. Bird did it in 7:45, but was stopped by a punctured tire. His actual riding time was 6:50.

Will Leave It to Doran.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—[Special to The Herald.]—Representative Baldwin is not taking any interest in the appointment of a successor to J. L. Stricker, who resigned as assistant United States district attorney for Minnesota but will leave this selection to Mr. Doran.

The Textile Strike.
NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Aug. 20.—The great textile strike, which has far to prove the biggest of its kind in the history of New England, is on. It is estimated that over 11,000 persons have stopped work.

A Wave of Virtue.
MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 20.—The mayor's order to arrest aldermen the same as other people has sent a wave of virtue all over the police force. Yesterday a man was arrested for stealing a banana from a fruit stand.

ST. PAUL, Aug. 20.—After a hard fight Officer Ryan arrested Tony Jans for housebreaking. He stole two boxes of cigars, and although only 22 years old, is an old offender.

Died in a Chair.
ST. PAUL, Aug. 20.—Robert McWilliams, a government teamster for twenty-five years, died in a chair in a Robert street saloon yesterday.

Rain in South Dakota.
HURON, S. D., Aug. 20.—The heaviest rain in two months fell in this county yesterday.

WILL PROBABLY DIE.
D. Mondschnie, the Pawnbroker, Badly Hurt in a Runaway.

D. Mondschnie, the pawnbroker, was driving down Fifth avenue west about 3 o'clock this afternoon, accompanied by Mrs. Doyle, at about Fourth street the horse became frightened and ran away. Mondschnie leaped out near W. M. Spalding's residence. His feet became tangled in the reins and he struck his head on the curb. When picked up his head was a horrible sight, being covered with blood. He was taken to St. Luke's hospital in an unconscious condition and is not expected to live.

Mrs. Doyle seized the blankets and weight and leaped out near the Spalding hotel. She alighted unhurt.

It is undoubtedly true, as Mr. Clews sagely observes, that the work of a year
cannot be undone in a week or a month,
and from time to time there will undoubtedly be falterings and setbacks;
but with it all the foundation of business will gradually assume broader proportions until the restoration of confidence in all lines and all quarters is complete. Wall street is unquestionably the pulse of the country, and as a patient's pulse indicates his condition, so will the security market there reflect the convalescing condition in manufacturing and commercial circles which will prevail
throughout the country from now on.
Europe has already perceived the brightening financial skies here, and has been quick to recognize the advisability of accumulating American railroad properties while it can be done at low figures.
Each day brings fresh buying orders
from abroad, and foreigners are getting as anxious to hold our securities now as they were to let them go a while back.
Added to this, the absorption of bonds
and stocks which are now looked upon
as unreasonably low, continues, that is,
they are being bought and taken out of the market entirely. The long continued
"bear" markets have shaken out weak holders, and securities in general are getting into strong hands.

That the railroads of the United States
are in a better position to recuperate
rapidly than they were a year ago there can be no doubt, says Mr. Clews. The long period of depression has necessitated
the cutting down of expenses
wherever and whenever it was possible.
It has taught railroad managers how to economize and forced them to do business on a cheaper basis than ever before, so that increases in traffic are likely to show much larger net returns, owing to the low basis of operating expenses.
For a while also there is not likely to be many new extensions to old roads, projected, as at present there is little incentive for anything of the kind, and there will not be until the business of the United States gets back to its old magnitude. The corn crop has been less an element of fear in connection with the granger roads this week. There has been considerable rain in the corn belt, and though the government crop report issued on Aug. 10 indicates a deterioration in condition sufficient to reduce the general yield to something under 1,500,000,000 bushels, the impression prevails that the worst of the damage is now known, and that there is no further reason for "bearing" the stocks
of the corn-carrying roads.

Our Trade With China.
Under the operations of the new Chinese treaty, which gives this country access to the twenty-three treaty ports the same as other nations, it is expected that our trade with China will show a large increase. The trouble over the immigration question has had a deterring effect upon the extension of trade relations between China and the United States, although there has been a steady
but slow increase. Naturally our imports have greatly exceeded our exports,
as we buy a great deal of tea and silk
from both China and Japan, while there has not been necessary, however, for actively small. There is good reason to believe that the new treaty will result in large importations by the Chinese from this country.

In 1890, the value of our imports from China was a little over $17,000,000. In the fiscal year ending with June, 1893,
they had increased in value to a little more than $20,000,000, the largest items
being the following: Tea, $7,413,989;
raw silk, $5,470,380; raw wool, $1,812,250;
matting, $755,670; rice, $528,690; furs, $512,382. The importation of hides and skins, materials for hats and bonnets,
and opium for smoking amounted to about half a million for each of these articles; silks and leather were about a third of a million each, and coffee about a quarter of a million.

Our exports to China in the same period amounted to only $3,500,457, of which nearly all was taken up by two articles—$1,638,657 worth of cotton cloths, and $1,860,437 worth of mineral oil. The export of cotton goods, by the way, was much larger in 1891, when their value
was more than $5,300,000.

The Marine Review says: "It is certainly strange that a journal like the Iron Age, of New York, looked upon as the leading trade publication devoted to the iron industry in this country, should publish week after week, in the form of correspondence from Duluth, columns of malice regarding the Mesaba and other Lake Superior mining districts that is almost entirely incorrect, and which is distinctly of the boom order." The Iron Age is not the only paper that publishes
this "fake" stuff, to the utter unreliability
of which The Herald has frequently drawn attention. Probably the managing editors will discover after a while the character of the stuff that is being imposed upon them.

The Anoka Herald says: "If it becomes necessary for the Third regiment
to get a new colonel, what is the matter with Capt. E. L. Reed of this city for the position? He is eminently qualified for the office, lives in the same town with
the colonel, and is of the same company,
and the proximity of this city to the state capital is another point in favor of an Anoka man." This may be true but why not promote Maj. H. C. Braden?

The income tax will not be levied next January, as some people imagine. The trifling bill says the income tax clauses

shall not go into effect until Jan. 1, 1895,
and that no income tax shall be paid until Dec. 31, 1895, and that this proceed-ure shall be continued until Jan. 1, 1900,
when the income tax will have expired.
In other words, the income tax is to be paid on Dec. 31 in each of the years from 1895 to 1899, inclusive.

On the second page will be found interesting extracts from a lengthy article on Duluth, published in Saturday's Chicago Herald. The article is from the pen of Paul Hull, who recently visited this city, and his predictions concerning the future Duluth will be found very interesting. This article will prove a valuable advertisement for Duluth.

Senator Teller says President Cleveland would like a fourth term in the White House. Perhaps he would prefer to occupy it during the remainder of his life.

Maddie Pollard will forfeit much of the public sympathy which her story created, if the report be true that she intends to go on the stage.

"Gen." Coxey is said to be making more money than he ever did before in his life. His deluded followers were not so fortunate.

Life: Proportionally to the size of larger than the brain of any known

ing ability, calculation, reflection and good judgment.—Journal of Zoology.

Is there any way of getting a few of these animals into the United States senate?

THE WHEAT CROP

Secretary Rogers, of Minneapolis, Figures Total Yield This Year at Five Hundred Million Bushels.

The Wheat is Unusually Clean and the Results Surpass the Estimates Made Before Threshing.

Serious Stabbing Affray Occurred Near Mankato, a Man Being Terribly Cut Over the Heart.

Capt. Alexander Griggs, the Pioneer Settler and Founder of Grand Forks, Forced to Assign.

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 21.—Secretary Rogers, of the chamber of commerce, estimates the wheat crop at 115,000,000 bushels in Minnesota and the Dakotas. The straw is light, the wheat unusually clean and the results surpass the estimates made before threshing. The crops in the other spring wheat states will probably raise the production to 170,000,000 bushels for the season.

The winter wheat crop is conservatively placed at 35,000,000 bushels, making the total yield for 1894, 150,000,000 bushels, which is a record for that almost every year except that of 1891.

CUT OVER THE HEART.

A Serious Stabbing Affray But No Details Are Known.

MANKATO, Minn., Aug. 21.—A serious stabbing affray occurred at Madison Lake Sunday night resulting in the wounding of Albert Southwick, by a camper from this city, name unknown. He and others visited the camp late at night, but no details of the trouble are known. Southwick received a terrible cut over his heart with a jackknife and one of his companions narrowly escaped.

CAPT. GRIGGS ASSIGNED.

The Founder of Grand Forks Is in Financial Difficulties.

GRAND FORKS, N. D., Aug. 21.—Word was received here that Capt. Alexander Griggs, the pioneer settler and founder of Grand Forks, has assigned for the benefit of his creditors. His liabilities are $50,000 and assets fully $35,000, even at the present low valuation.

Undue haste of one or two creditors and Capt. Griggs' inability to realize on securities led to the assignment. There is no question but creditors will be paid in full. Capt. Griggs has been for the past year struggling on the Wenatchee river in Washington.

Albert Paddock's Body.

WADENA, Minn., Aug. 21.—The body of Albert G. Paddock, the boy accidentally shot at Duluth by his playmate, was brought home last night for burial to-day.

Shot His Boy.

LONG PRAIRIE, Minn., Aug. 21.—Ex-Sheriff S. J. Davis, who resides 12 miles west, mistook his 13-year-old boy for an owl last night and sent a Winchester bullet through the left shoulder just above the heart. The doctor considers the wound fatal.

Fire at Wadena.

WADENA, Minn., Aug. 21.—The farm dwelling and barn of Byron Wait, adjoining this city, burned yesterday afternoon, being a total loss. It was valued at $3,000; insurance $2,000.

Grain Stacks Burned.

ROYALTON, Minn., Aug. 21.—Sparks set fire to grain stacks on the farm of Matt Klein, while Sealayer Brothers were threshing, burning separator and four stacks, loss $200; no insurance.

A Farmer Killed.

MILLER, S. D., Aug. 21.—A farmer named Novak was thrown from a header box in the harvest field and killed.

Engaged to a Prince.

LONDON, Aug. 21.—The engagement is announced of Miss Florence, daughter of George M. Pullman, to Prince of Eisenberg-Birstein, the oldest son of Prince Charles of Eisenberg-Birstein and the Archduchess Marie Louise of Austria, and a cousin of the emperor of Austria.

Later a relative of Mr. Pullman stopping at his residence was the only representative of the family who could be seen today regarding the possible matrimonial connection of a member of the family with Prince Isenburg-Birstein. This relative denied emphatically that Miss Florence Pullman was engaged to the prince, and pronounced the story absolutely nonsense. Miss Pullman was in Europe, but the relative would say nothing concerning her and Prince Isenburg-Birstein, except to deny the alleged betrothal.

Walker Will Accept.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Aldice F. Walker has cabled the Atchison reorganization committee that he will accept the receivership of the Atchison system. He is now in Paris and will be in New York Sept. 2, and immediately upon his arrival will qualify. Mr. Little, the expert accountant, is in Denver and will not return until September. It is expected that he will make his final report Sept. 15. There will be no further developments in Atchison affairs until that date.

Dislike the Decision.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 21.—The junior O. U. A. M. officials are disappointed with Judge Barker's decision in the Gallatin school case, and will appeal to the supreme court in order to have the matter definitely settled. In case the decision of the court is against them, they will endeavor to have a law passed that will cover the disputed points on sectarianism in public schools.

THREE MEN WERE KILLED.

Fatal Explosion of a Boiler in a Pennsylvania Planning Mill.

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Aug. 21.—A boiler explosion occurred four miles from this place on the Smith farm yesterday. Levi Boiler and his son Harry, of Fum-bell, Mercer county, were both instantly killed and Logan McElvaine, of Wurttemberg, is fatally injured and is dying. All three men worked for Arthur Seton, of Mercer, who owns the planning mill where the explosion took place. In the morning fires were built under an unused boiler, which they were cautioned not to use. The steam gauge failed to work after sixty pounds of steam had been registered.

The boiler was blown 400 feet away. John Longwell, of Zellenoply, was standing beside the boiler and escaped unhurt. The sawmill was completely wrecked. Over 200 pounds of steam was on when the explosion took place and the noise was heard for miles around.

THE RESULT OF JEALOUSY.

A Chicago Sporting Writer Shoots an Iron Age Editor.

CHICAGO, Aug. 21.—Ned White, a writer in the sporting department of a Chicago morning paper, shot a man named Haines at Cass and Erie streets last night. Haines is suffering from a dangerous wound in the right groin. White and Haines quarreled over the latter's attentions to Mrs. White. White and his wife were arrested.

John K. Haines, the wounded man, is connected with the Iron Age in editorial capacity. White came recently from Richmond, Va., and is believed to be well connected. He is distanty related to the family of Gen. Lee. Mrs. White is a handsome woman of 20 years, three years younger than her husband. She was married in New York city May 28 last and came to Chicago with her husband shortly after the wedding. She attracted attention among her new friends and her company was eagerly sought.

WILL SUE FOR DAMAGES.

Coxyites Will Sue for Being Driven Out of Virginia.

MASSILLON, Ohio, Aug. 21.—Before starting for Newcastle this morning J. S. Coxy received the following telegram from Lawyer Ralston, of Hyattsville, Md.: "Governor Brown, shunning habebus corpus trial, releases McKee and Jones unconditionally." Coxy says they will sue for damages. He charges that the Virginia militia, driving out the Coxyites were guilty of atrocities carefully kept from the public. A pet cat was run through with a bayonet and while writhing in agony was slowly roasted over a fire by inhuman soldiers. Flour and other supplies were made unfit for use by unspeakable means and the men imprisoned on a bridge on one long day under a broiling sun.

A Short Session.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—There was not a quorum present when the house began its session today, but members sought to take up measures by unanimous consent. The senate bill for the exclusion and deportation of alien anarchists was called up, but Mr. Warner objected to its consideration. At 1:25 the house adjourned until Thursday.

A Duluth & Winnipeg Bill.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—(Special to The Herald).—Representative Haugen today called up and secured the passage of a bill to connect the Duluth & Winnipeg railroad right-of-way for an extension of its present lines through the Chippewa and White Earth Indian reservations. This bill has already passed the senate and will therefore become a law.

Old Railroad Man Dead.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 21.—F. F. Chandler, general passenger agent of the Wabash railway system, who has been ill for some weeks of a neuralgic gastric affection, complicated by two strokes of paralysis died at the Protestant hospital in this city at 8 o'clock this morning. He was 65 years old.

The Britannia Won.

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 21.—In a 50-mile race today under the auspices of the Royal Yacht Club, the Britannia, of the Royal Navy, defeated the Saturnia, of the Britannia Yacht Club. The former crossed the finish line first, but the prince of Wales cut her on time allowance.

A New Bridge.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Ground was broken at the site of the new bridge over the Hudson river, which is to furnish the Long Island railroad an entrance into New York city. There was no ceremony at the site.

A New Postmaster.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—(Special to The Herald).—On recommendation of Representative Baldwin, F. B. Hannafin was today appointed postmaster at Hewitt, Todd county, vice M. W. Hiltre removed.

Pope Leo III.

LONDON, Aug. 21.—A special dispatch received here today from Rome states that the pope had an attack of syncope on Sunday last, and for some minutes the condition of his holiness caused much alarm.

The Commission Appointed.

Maj. Sears has received notice of his appointment as one of three engineers appointed to make a survey and estimate on the cost of deepening the channels and entrances to the harbors of Superior and Duluth to twenty feet. The other members of the commission are Col. Fox, of Detroit, and Maj. Gregory, Milwaukee. They are to meet when called by Col. Fox.

Returned From His Vacation.

Professor Lohr, principal of the high school returned yesterday from his vacation. He is invited to deliver a lecture at the school on Sunday. He has done little but rest and visit this summer, and despite the hot weather in his home, reports a most pleasant time. Mrs. Lohr will not return to Duluth for some weeks yet.

BLOWN TO ATOMS

A Traction Engine Exploded on an Illinois Farm Today, Causing Heavy Loss of Life.

One Man Was Blown to Atoms and Another Injured So That He Soon Died.

Five Boys Were Badly Torn and Scalded and It Is Thought Four Cannot Recover.

A Team Standing Near Had the Harness Torn From Them and One Horse Killed.

BYRON, Ill., Aug. 21.—A traction engine belonging to Andrew Ross exploded on the farm of Hiram Berksmith, five miles south of here, today. Hiram Berksmith was blown to atoms. Andrew Ross, who was running the engine, had both legs and an arm crushed and was injured internally so that he died a few hours later. Five boys from 9 to 14 years old were standing near the engine and were so badly torn and scalded that it is thought four of them cannot recover.

Two other men received slight wounds. The engine was torn to fragments. Parts of it were scattered over a radius of 500 feet. A team standing near had the harness torn from them and one horse was killed. No cause for the explosion is known.

The Fruit Peddlers.

To the Editor of The Herald: I dislike very much to trespass again upon your valuable space, but wish to reply to the article in Saturday's Herald signed J. H. Cameron, if you will kindly grant the space. Having made no claim to being either a philanthropist or a "luminous exponent of business," I fail to see the reason for such a storm of sarcasm, for Mr. Cameron's article cannot be classified under the head "the retort courteous."

There is not a word in "A Plea for Fruit Peddlers" that reflects in any way upon the grocer, nor was the article written in that spirit.

The grocers of this city are deserving of all honor and respect in the work of the Associated Charities. I know none better—how very generous they are in their contributions to the work of the Associated Charities. The thought of casting any reflection upon them was very far from my mind. The facts were but stated which are true and not controverted that many can afford to buy of the peddlers because their prices are low, but otherwise could not have fruit, and the peddlers are trying to earn a living, which is surely better than depending on charity.

Mr. Cameron says the fruit is unfit for food or to quote him exactly, "the peddlers are deceived." Some may be, but may he not be mistaken in regard to all the peddlers? I have no intention of investigating the matter before writing the article to which Mr. Cameron objects so strongly. I purchased fruit on different days from several different peddlers, and it was good, fair fruit; what is more, I have not seen any decayed fruit on the wagons yet. That there may be some I do not deny, but the purchaser need not take it. If he prefers poor fruit to none, that is his lookout.

If the fruit is unfit to eat, why need the grocer fear the competition? Surely his customers do not use such fruit? Mr. Cameron says "A Reader" willfully misrepresents or was misinformed. The first is not worthy of a denial; as to being misinformed, my informant was a man who was supposed to know whereof he spoke. The grocers should be protected of course, but in fruit raising districts, the farmers bring their fruit into the towns and peddle it without paying any license and the grocers do not suffer by reason of their so doing.

If Mr. Cameron knows of a peddler evading the license, let him report it to the proper authorities. His statements do not disprove the ones in "A Plea for Fruit Peddlers." I have no intention of entering upon a controversy, but both sides of this, as of every other question, are entitled to an unbiased and courteous hearing or we are not "American" in the higher sense of the word.

I thank you, Mr. Editor, for your kindness and promise not to trouble you again for although a woman (and a very inoffensive little one) I am not at all desirous of "having the last word."

Duluth, Aug. 20.

Mr. Cameron Replies.

To the Editor of The Herald: My business will not permit me to eternally continue this wordy warfare with these gentlemen. There is no satisfaction in reasoning with a nom de plume any way and I will hereafter take no notice of such articles. Why should these gentlemen, if, as they pretend, they are fighting the battle of the masses, be ashamed to write over their signatures? Is it not more probable that they are interested in the other side. My few remarks today will not refer to them but to the public whom they try to mislead. Fruit more than any other commodity, will seek a market that furnishes no remuneration. Freight on a car of fruit from California to Duluth is from $50 to $80, which must be paid out of the proceeds of such fruit. At the rate fruit was sold in Duluth for the past few weeks, the proceeds did not cover the freight. It is being sold so cheap was the result, not of ordinary conditions, but of a warfare between the commission men and the grocers, the latter complaining that the former did not do them justice. Do not be led to believe that this state of

POLES SECEDE

Large Convention Held at Cleveland Today of Polish Seceders From the Roman Catholic Church.

High Mass Celebrated by Archbishop Villatte, Who Was Surrounded by the Priests in Attendance.

The Archbishop Said the New Church Is Founded on American Principles and American Power.

They Should Be American and for America, and Not for the Roman Catholic Church.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 21.—The first convention of the Polish National Church of America convened today in Father Kolaszewski's church in Newburg. The seceders from the regular church were of such numbers as to fill the large hall to overflowing and much enthusiasm prevailed. At 9 o'clock high mass was celebrated by Archbishop Villatte, who was surrounded by the priests in attendance.

An open mass meeting, lasting until 1 o'clock in the afternoon, was held before the convention came to order. There were a number of addresses in the Polish language. Father Kolaszewski explained why the convention was called, saying it was for unity in the American Catholic church. Archbishop Villatte followed with a short address in English. He asked the people to be steadfast in their belief. "We should be American, and for America, and not for the Roman Catholic church," he said. "Our church is founded on American principles and American power."

The election of a president then took up some time, the archbishop being unanimously chosen to fill that position.

WORKS A CUTE RACKET.

The "Dakota Farmer" Called Into Play in Selling Watches.

There is a place a few doors west of the Windsor hotel where the purchaser of a $35 watch is given a ticket, and when that ticket bears the right number the purchaser of a watch draws $50 cash. Today three "suckers," who live at Two Harbors, called on the Assistant City Attorney Benham and wanted assistance in either prosecuting the proprietor of the place or in getting back their money. He declined to issue a complaint and the men went down to the place to attempt a return of their money. This is the way the scheme is worked:

A sucker goes in and is induced to look at the watches. Just then a fellow comes in, represents himself as a Dakota farmer, buys a watch, but does not draw a number that gives him the $50 prize. When the proprietor's back is turned, the "farmer" looks at the envelopes containing the numbers and to the sucker declares that he sees the one that secures the prize. He urges the sucker to invest which he does but, for some reason, there is a mistake and the purchaser of a $35 watch fails to get a lucky number. Then there is grief.

Three men have shown up who declare that they've been bitten on the scheme and what makes it look like a scam is the fact that the "Dakota farmer" came in each time and influenced the suckers as well as purchased a watch.

FOR EXTRA WORK.

Engineer Reed Wants a Salary for Superintendent Another Department.

Last evening the board of public works sent a communication to the city council, recommending that City Engineer Reed be allowed $50 a month as superintendent of the maintenance department.

The explanation of that is this: The superintendent of the maintenance department is a separate official from the city engineer. Phil Westaway, when holding that position, received $100 a year. Last year, Mr. Reed performed the duties of both offices and as he drew $200 a year as city engineer, was satisfied to do double duty. Since his salary was cut to $200, however, he don't feel like doing so many duties not falling to his office. He has asked that he be allowed $50 a month and the board recommends that method of disposing of the maintenance superintendency. If that is not done, a separate superintendent will have to be employed.

ANOTHER CALL OUT.

Populist County Committee Calls the Convention for August 29.

The Populist county central committee met last evening and decided to call the county convention for Wednesday, Aug. 29, just one day before the Democrats get together for their county convention. The Populist primaries will be held Monday evening, Aug. 27.

COINAGE OF SILVER

Resolutions Introduced in the House Today Which Declare for the Free Coinage of Silver.

Are Strongly Worded and Are Signed by the Chief Officers of the Labor Unions.

Senator White Opposed the Free Lead Bill and the Senate Will Not Consider It.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—Representative Harlan, of Montana, presented in the house today resolutions for the free coinage of silver which are regarded by the free silver advocates as one of the most significant expressions in favor of their doctrine which have been elicited by the agitation of the past year. The resolutions have been considered and adopted during the present session by the most powerful labor organization of the country; they are strongly worded and are signed by the chief officers of the various unions.

The signers are: J. W. Sovereign, grand master workman, John W. Hayes, secretary and treasurer of the Knights of Labor, Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, Marion Butler, president of the National Farmers' alliance, Henry H. Trenor, president, and P. J. McGuire, secretary of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners; P. M. Arthur, chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers; C. A. Rolison, president of the Farmers' Mutual Benefit association; Frank Sargent, grand master workman, and F. W. Arnold, secretary and treasurer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, and John McBride, president of the United Mine Workers of America.

Accompanying the resolution is an address "to the members of organized labor and all other producers and tollers throughout the United States" which declares that "in view of the general distress at a time when granaries are full and in the natural order of things producers and tollers should be enjoying the fruits of their labors, it seems that time has come for united action on the part of those who create the wealth of the country."

One of the causes which have brought about this condition, the address says, is the departure from the wise bimetallic financial principle of Washington, Jefferson and Hamilton and the substitution of the monometallic policy dictated by the European money holders and their American allies. A review of financial legislation is given to show what part was enacted in the interest of the producing and what of the non-producing classes.

The proposition is set forth before the demonetization of silver 350 bushels of wheat or 35,000 pounds of cotton equalled the annual pay of a senator, or congressman, while today 10,000 bushels of wheat or 1,000,000 pounds of cotton barely suffice; that formerly 350 bushels of wheat or 35,000 pounds of cotton would have paid the salary of the president, while today he receives the equivalent of 10,000 bushels of wheat or 1,000,000 pounds of cotton and the same proportion applies to all other fixed salaries and incomes.

Demoralization of the food producing sections is said to have caused the manufacturers to lose the markets for their goods so that hundreds of thousands of workmen have been thrown out of employment and the demonetization of the world's volume of money to make it comparatively easy for capitalists to corner and manipulate the other half.

In the review of financial legislation it is charged that all acts since the civil war have been in the interest of the bondholders and against the producers and the Sherman law is said to have been repealed at the demand of European financiers, although a grand fight was made by the people's representatives. The resolutions are as follows:

"We demand of the present congress an immediate return to the money of the constitution as established by our fathers, by restoring the free coined coinage of silver at the present ratio of 16 to 1, the coins of both metals to be equally valued.

full legal tender for all debts, public and private, as before the fraudulent demonetization of silver in 1873.

"We also condemn the increase of the national debt, the time of peace and the use of interest bearing bonds at any time."

In the finance committee of the senate, some reference was made to the free lead bill, which has recently been reported to the house by the ways and means committee, and it was suddenly developed that the new member of the committee, Mr. White, was not in favor of free silver lead ores, and as all of the Republicans are of the same opinion, it has been decided that the senate need not take into consideration the lead bill. Mr. White is a Western man, from a mining state, and he sympathizes with the other senators in their efforts to have the duty retained on this ore.

The sugar men have taken a great deal of comfort out of the vote that was recently had on the motion of Senator Manderson to instruct the senate finance committee to report an amendment to the free sugar bill re-establishing the McKinley sugar bounty. It was shown that a majority of the senate was for the bounty. Of course the majority is not at all stable, and it is possible that when the senate meets in December it will be changed.

Senator Stewart may not vote, which would leave the vice president to decide against the bounty on a tie vote. But it is thought by some of those who advocate a bounty that before the vote on the free sugar bill or the amended bill, there will be more public votes in the senate, which will give that side quite a show of strength. At present, there are vacancies from Montana, Washington and Wyoming and it is claimed that the legislatures which are elected this fall will be Republican and as they will assemble early in January the vacancies will be immediately filled.

Of course the assurance that they will be Republican is made on the authority of the Republicans from the Northwest who say that there is little doubt of Republican success in these states. With the two Louisiana senators voting with the Republicans and three additional states they will be able to cut more of a figure in the tariff contest.

Wages of Glass Workers.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 21.—The window glass workers have made a proposition to the manufacturers which makes allowance for the reduction in the size of the panes and will prevent many disputes in the factories. Instead of being paid different prices for different sizes of panes, the manufacturers will pay the same for any size within certain limits, while the matter of quality will not be a factor. The manufacturers look kindly upon the proposition.

MINERS IN ILLINOIS

The Coal Industry Is Said to Be Unprofitable to Both the Owners and Miners.

A Convention Being Held at Springfield Today to Attempt to Find an Effective Remedy.

So Far the Miners Are All at Sea and Do Not Know What To Do.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 21.—The coal trade in Illinois is in such an unsettled condition that the miners are working under such varying prices and conditions that the industry is unprofitable to both owners and miners. In the hope that "order may be brought out of chaos," as President Crawford puts it, a state convention has been called, to meet in the city today. The objects of the convention, as stated in the call are as follows:

First.—The adoption of a plan of mining rates throughout mining districts Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5.

Second.—The establishment and maintenance of a sub-district organization throughout the various fields of the state as will be presented to the convention by the state officials.

Third.—The propagation and maintenance of the state organization throughout Illinois and for the transaction of such other business as may be constitutionally presented to the convention.

President Crawford says that in a period of twenty-five years, during which time the coal industry of Illinois has grown to be so unsatisfactory as at present. There is no uniformity in prices, and the demand for the product of the mines is so light that if all the mines in the district were run full capacity one and a half years per week, the result would be sufficient for the market.

In the Northern Illinois field, where the mines are in operation, the rate paid in most instances is about to cents per ton below the scale adopted by the Springfield. Notwithstanding most of the mines in most other portions of the state are not working at all are paying the scale. This, of course, brings about an unsatisfactory condition.

The Springfield and Peoria and Canton fields are paying the Springfield scale, with the exception of the White Breast company, which operates the Danversfield, the Buckhart and the Bryant mines. This company has imported 125 or 130 negroes from Kentucky and Tennessee, but President Crawford says that he has advised to the effect that the negroes are to be sent out until the white men go to work.

In the Springfield district the scale of 35 cents per ton is being paid, but the miners are not being paid more than a third of the time, the operators declaring that there is very little demand for their product, as they cannot compete in the market with Pennsylvania, which is mined for 29 cents per ton. The condition in the Danville district is unsatisfactory, owing, President Crawford says, to the fact that the operators of a written agreement entered into with the miners.

But little is being done in the Southern Illinois field, where some of the consolidated companies' mines are in operation; others are not. So far the miners are all at sea and do not know what to do. The state officials are in a position to be remedied, but they are going to find a remedy at today's convention.

The Nicaragua Canal Scheme.

There has been a strong effort made to induce congress to extend very large aid to the Nicaragua Canal company in order to secure the construction of that great work. So far as the present session of congress is concerned, the work of the lobbyists has been fruitless, but it is certain that another effort will be made at the December session. The present proposition is that the United States government should guarantee the bonds of the company, the government being given as security at least 70 per cent of the company's stock, and allowed to appoint a considerable majority of the board of directors. This, it is claimed,
would secure the government against loss or misappropriation of funds.A writer in the Manufacturers' Record, of Baltimore, in advocacy of the scheme, gives some figures to show how profitable it would be. He claims that $3,000,000 tons of shipping would use the canal on the first year of its operation, owing to the large economy resulting therefrom. This tonnage, at a toll of $2 per ton, would yield a gross revenue of $6,000,000. The toll for passing through the canal is $1.50 per ton, and the maximum distance saved by that canal
over the route around the Cape of Good hope is 4,480 miles, while the distance saved by the Nicaragua canal between
New York and San Francisco is 2,675
miles, and between New Orleans
and San Francisco the saving would be 9,392 miles. The maintenance and operation of the canal would be exorbitant at $3,000,000 per annum, thus
there would remain a net income of $3,000,000
a year from the beginning out of which to reimburse the government for its advances on interest account, to meet the current interest and to provide a sinking fund to take up the bonds at maturity. So much for the claims of those who advocate a government guarantee of the scheme by indorsing the company's bonds.There are others who do not look upon the enterprise in so favorable a light.
The Railroad Gazette of New York
urges careful study of the scheme by congress before voting for a guarantee.
Nineteen months, it says, it made an investigation which did not show that the canal can be constructed for $200,000,000,
as the company claims. The Gazette also knows of one great contracting firm which had the ground examined
by its own engineers, for its own business purposes. Those engineers had the best of all reasons for getting at the truth—private, financial and professional interests—and they reported the canal would cost at least $400,000,000. In view of this statement, congress should hesitate to pass any bill guaranteeing the company's bonds until, at least, a scientific and impartial study of the facts has been made by a board of disinterested engineers.

Interesting Railroad Data.

The annual publication relating to the railroads of the United States, known as Poor's Manual, has just been issued for the year ending Dec. 31, 1893, and contains a vast amount of information about the organization and condition of the great carrying corporations of the country. This makes it a very valuable work for investors. In the introduction to the volume is given the statistical abstract of the railroad data for 1893,
which shows that there were laid in the United States and Canada up to Dec.
31, 1893, 177,253 miles of railroad lines,
an increase of 2,149 miles for the year,
and an increase of 3,575 miles in the mileage of railroads reporting in the fiscal year 1893. Of this there were completed at the close of the fiscal year
of the respective companies 75,441
miles. It is this mileage which is resented in the statistics of combined capitalization and operation.According to the Messrs. Poor, the capital stock of these roads at the dates

named aggregated $5,080,032,004

against $4,920,555,225 a year ago, an increase of $159,477,779, while their bonded
debt is $5,570,292,613, compared with$5,403,611,204 in 1893, a gain of $166, 681,400, while the unfunded debt is$410,361,503 against $285,831,888, an increase of $124,529,615. Thegross traffic earnings for the fiscal years are $1,227,038,299 against $1,204,915,004, an increase of only $22,123,295, and thenet for the same period appears as $364,591,109 against $358,638,520, or anincrease of only $5,952,589, these last figures being very significant as to the unfavorable conditions which affected railroad operations during the last halfof the calendar year 1893 and the first months of the current year.Interest payments show a slight increase, the aggregate being $239,616,284,
an increase of $6,977,195, while theamount paid in dividends is put at $95,337,681,
or $21,773 less than in the preceding fiscal years of the companies. Onthe other hand, the increase in rolling stock is of a normal character, the number of engines in service being reported as 36,486, or 1,387 more than in 1892; thepassenger cars 28,624, a gain of 1,580, and the freight cars 1,161,300, or an increase of 43,554.There is said to be a probability that the constitutionality of the income tax will be attacked in the courts, and perhaps the supreme court will finally be called upon to settle the question. The law provides that the tax bill shall go into effect Jan. 1, 1895, and that it shall apply to all incomes of over $3,000 earned during the preceding calendar year. It would seem reasonable to regard such a bill, as far as its application to the present year is concerned, as ex post facto.
At least, this claim is made, and if it were sustained, the law would be invalid.Senator Kyle wants the very attractive bar room in Washington, known as the Boston Record says that probably

he feels that they are in no danger,

North Carolina, has made but one speech
during his fifteen years of service in the senate. Before he was sent to Washington he had the reputation in his own state of being a fine orator. He gave up being eloquent on account of a tendency to bleed disease. It is a pity that some of the senatorial "wind-bags" do not imitate the North Carolina senator's example.The Memphis Commercial-Appeal

He has shown superb skill in attending seldom, however, that sentiment in Washington is confirmed by the action of the national convention.Populist Stanley, a farmer at Pendle-

and did not heed the play.
But when upon her lovely face
She sat two seats away.
Her eyes like lightning flashed,
Her teeth like gleaming pearls,
Her eyes like lightning flashed,
Her teeth like gleaming pearls,
A wealth of golden curls.And as I gazed upon her face
There came a look of pain;
No cloudy shadow on the faint
It passed, then came again.
I read the story of her eyes,
The rose tint fade away,
And that she looked so deadly pale
In speechless agony.She turned and touched her escort's arm,
Then slowly went away;
My heart beat fast with sympathy,
I did not feel the play.
I turned and touched her seat,
I gazed in great surprise,
I read the question I would ask
Fit from my eager eyes.And as the music died away
His lips this answer bore:
"My sister's feet are number four,
Her shoes are number four."

cians and others may as well learn first as last that if a Minneapolis man is elected United States senator next winter, it must be W. D. Washburn. One of the reasons that Mr. Washburn is opposed is that a strong feeling exists that one of the representatives from this state in the upper branch of the national legislature should be from outside the two large cities. Mr. Washburn has made a good senator, as a whole, but his place of residence is considered an objection by many.Expelled to Surrender. The only use the St. Paul and Minneapolis political managers have for the Republicans
of the country is to re-elect Senator Washburn. The private interest of the great cities is to crush all the small towns by railroad discrimination, is the issue, and the small fry politicians of the country are expected to surrender to Washburn.Visit From Uncle Hank. Tennessee

For neglect of it by inflicting upon us
sick headache, by drying the skin,
yellow, coating the tongue with fur,
producing vertigo, pains in the right side
and souring the breath, we are little less than lunatics if we disregard the chastise-ment. If we call Hostetter's Stomach Bitters to our aid, tranquility and health
follow speedily, and with the departure of the symptoms mentioned, departs also irregularity of the bowels, which invariably attends disorder of the liver. In malaria complaints, the liver is always involved, and it is a fortunate circumstance that this fine anti-bilious medicine is also the finest specific in existence for every form of malaria disease. Not less effective for dyspepsia, failure of appetite and strength, nervousness and a rheumatic tendency. It renews the ability to sleep, and greatly promotes convalescence after wasting diseases.Money to loan without delay; lowest

A FAMOUS CASE

Decision By Judge Jamison at Minneapolis in a Case Involving a Valuable Gold Mine.

The Steamer Monarch Struck a Rock in Rainy River and Sank to the Bottom.

Three Cases of Smallpox Are Reported in St. Paul and There Are Fears of More.

Two Men Killed and Four Injured By the Explosion of a Boiler in North Dakota.

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 22.—Judge Jamison today filed his decision in the famous case of Moses Thompson against Henry D. Stocker, the Century Investment company, James C. Stout, Willis A. James, George L. Matchan et al. This case, which involves a gold mine in New Mexico valued at something like $1,000,000 and the reputation of Henry D. Stocker, the Minneapolis attorney, took thirty-six days for trial and argument, and consumed more time than any other case ever tried before a Hennepin county judge.

The decision will be in the nature of a victory for either side. The substance of the decision is that no allegation of fraud can be maintained against Mr. Stocker and that neither he nor his assistants were guilty of conspiracy. On the contrary, the decision holds that Mr. Stocker and his law partner, G. L. Matchan, did more for Thompson and his interests than the rules of practice required.

On the other hand Judge Jamison will hold that a portion of the stock was purchased by Stocker, who appeared as Thompson's attorney in the original suit, while he was acting as trustee, and that the Thompsons retain that portion of the stock by paying attorney's fees and other expenses and satisfying the original judgments.

All of the other defendants are secured in their interest in the mine, and a portion of the stock held by Stocker is not affected by the decision. While Mr. Stocker acted in good faith, the court holds that there was at the time of the purchase of the stock a fiduciary relation existing between him and Thompson. The findings of the court appear to be a virtual victory for the defendants, for while they lose some of their stock, they retain a vastly dominant interest in the mine.

SUNK IN RAINY RIVER.

The Steamer Monarch Wrecked, But All on Board Escaped.

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 22.—A Rat Portage, Ont., special to the Journal says: The steamer Monarch, of 160 tons burden, struck a rock and went to the bottom Aug. 19 at Long Sault, Rainy river, and fifty excursionists escaped by a rope. None were lost.

The steamer was the largest on the lake and lies in 50 fathoms. News of the wreck was brought in by an excursionist who returned here last night.

SMALLPOX IN ST. PAUL.

Three Cases in One Family and Others Likely to Result.

ST. PAUL, Aug. 22.—Three cases of smallpox have been discovered in the family of S. L. Bird in this city and the family has been quarantined. Many friends visited them before the nature of the disease was discovered and the authorities are doing all possible to crush out the disease.

Warner Boen, a 14-year-old boy, his body filled with shot by a farmer named Thielan, near his fish hatchery on Monday. The boy was eating plums on a tree in the public picnic grounds when shot.

By a vote of 7 to 2 the alderman passed a resolution last night calling for a special committee to investigate and recommend such salary reduction in the municipal offices as seems lawful and just.

The Globe today says the continued illness of Judge Buck, of the supreme court, may cause his resignation.

TWO MEN WERE KILLED.

Explosion of a Boiler of a Threshing Engine in Dakota.

LA MOURE, N. D., Aug. 22.—The boiler of a threshing engine on a farm 8 miles southeast exploded, instantly killing John Lind and Louis Berg. The latter was blown 300 feet and frightfully mangled. Four men were more or less injured and two horses killed.

Suit for Damages.

WINONA, Aug. 22.—Michael Kulas has sued Libera & Minarek, contractors, for $10,000 for injuries received in the falling walls of the cistern of the Catholic seminary on July 24.

A Sudden Death.

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 22.—George L. Hilt, a well known rental agent, died last night of quick consumption, aged 35 years. His wife and four children are well provided for.

Meadow Fires.

GRANTSBURG, Wis., Aug. 22.—The meadow fires here are not half as bad as reported, although considerable grass has burned.

Mark C. Baker's Recital.

Tonight the recital at the Spaulding by Mark C. Baker will be given. It is for the benefit of the Duluth Home society and will doubtless be well patronized. An excellent opportunity of hearing Mr. Baker will be afforded. Mrs. John Loman will be the accompanist.

JUDGE COOLEY'S ADDRESS.

Discusses State and Federal Rights and Governor Althoff's Protest.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Aug. 22.—The American Bar association, of which Judge Thomas M. Cooley, of Ann Arbor, Mich., is president, began its seventeenth annual meeting here this morning. The president being absent by reason of illness, his address was read by the acting president, Judge Samuel F. Hunt, of Cincinnati. It was very lengthy and communicated the most noteworthy changes in the statutory law on points of general interest which have been made in the several states and by congress during the preceding year.

The address repeated Judge Cooley's well-known views as to the constitutional rights of the states and the maintenance of regular troops to Chicago to protect the running of mail trains.

Referring to state and federal rights and the protest of Governor Althoff, he said: "There were national duties to be performed in Illinois, national officers, agents and courts to whom in part the performance was intrusted, and disorderly parties were interfering and rendering that performance difficult, often times impossible. But the position of the governor was that the maintenance of peace and the repression of disorder was a state duty, and the president was guilty of usurpation when he thus without request moved troops into the state for the purpose."

"We cannot admit that the position taken even plausible. It has no warrant whatever in the federal constitution, which on the contrary is distinctly against it. The president is to take care that the laws be faithfully executed, and his doing so is not made to depend upon the will or consent of any one state. The duty is specially and when disorder was dominant, saw fit to suppress it or to call upon the president to do so."

"If the protest was yielded to it would have been a concession that the governor and not the president was to take care that the laws of the United States be faithfully executed in his state, and if he failed to do so, a mob might at pleasure destroy the state. The action taken by the two houses of congress in approving in emphatic terms what had been done by the president was equivalent to an expression of the opinion that the protest of the governor was not only unconstitutional but revolutionary. The sentiment of the country as expressed in its public journals and otherwise was to the same effect and the question of constitutional law may be considered practically settled."

LOOKS LIKE MURDER.

Body of a Well-Dressed Woman Evidently Not Long Dead Found on the Point Today.

CHARLIE LAWRENCE, who runs the small store at O-at-ka beach, found the body of a woman on the lake shore about a half-mile below the end of the car line at noon today. "The police were notified and Capt. Thompson went down."

He found the body of a woman about 40 years of age and dressed in brown material of rather expensive quality. A watch was wound around her head and when this was removed, blood spouted from her nose. She wore a gold ring and a heavy gold breastpin. On the back of her head is a deep cut.

Capt. Thompson is certain the woman has not been dead over twelve hours or thereabouts and is firmly convinced that she was killed by violence. He came back and sent a boat down after the body. Nobody has been reported missing and it is a mysterious case.

EXCITEMENT AT NASHVILLE.

A Negro Nearly Lynched By an Angry Mob of Whites.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 22.—Almost a riot was caused in South Nashville last evening at 7 o'clock, and a life of a negro was at stake. At about 7 o'clock Andrew Johnson, aged 38 years, threw his arms around Miss Daisy Jackson, a young lady of high respectability, who was walking along the pavement.

The shock to her was so great that she fainted. Two passers by came to her aid and a crowd of whites soon gathered. The report spread that the negro had attempted an outrage, and angry men flocked to the spot. A deputy sheriff rescued the negro, who had been beaten and severely wounded, and placed him in the jail.

He Charged Corruption.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22.—George W. Turner, Pacific coast manager of the Northwestern National Insurance company of Milwaukee, has resigned from membership in the insurance combine. He is the gentleman who declined to pay the assessment of February, 1893, until he could be satisfied that none of the money was employed to corrupt legislators at Sacramento. The officers of the Pacific Insurance union say they showed him all the vouchers and proved beyond peradventure that their skirts were clear, but to no purpose.

The Coming Futurity.

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—In the Futurity on Saturday Fred Tarr will probably ride Mr. Keene's Agator. This far Agator has been regarded with favor by bettors, but with Tarr up and weighing 160 or thereabouts he is now likely to have many supporters. Cromwell, who has been in course of development at Jerome Park, will probably start in the Futurity.

Indicted for Fraud.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—The grand jury of Fairfax county, Va., returned two indictments against Dr. Granby Stanton Howard for fraud. Dr. Howard is the man who started what he called a new religious sect, in which he claimed to have obtained while an officer in the British army in India. He is said to be in Canada now.

STORM CALMED.

Chief Secretary Morley Has Succeeded in Overcoming the Trouble Caused By the Irish Members.

Angry Threats by the Latter Were Heralded as the Beginning of a Bitter Revolt.

Action of the House of Lords in Vetoing the Evicted Tenants Bill Caused the Row.

The Irish Members Suspected the Government of Collusion With the Tories on This Question.

LONDON, Aug. 22.—It is said that Mr. Morley, chief secretary of Ireland, has succeeded in calming the storm aroused by the Irish members as a result of the veto by the house of lords of the evicted tenants bill. The angry threats made against the government by the Irish members during the all night session of the house of commons on Monday were heralded as the beginning of a bitter revolt upon their part. Thomas Sexton, the anti-Parnellite member for North Kerry, started the bill rolling at that time by asking what action the government would take in view of the house of lords' veto.

Sir William Harcourt said that this was the greatest question that can occupy the government's attention, adding, however, that it was inadvisable to make a statement on the subject at present. Mr. Sexton then asked if the government would define its policy in the house of commons' speech. Again the Liberal leader announced that the government was not prepared to make a statement as to its policy in this respect.

On the conclusion of a number of Irish members proposed various motions with a view of forcing Sir William Harcourt to make a definite announcement of the course the government would pursue on the house of lords' veto. The motions were all defeated, in a house of only sixty members, by majorities of about twenty, and the commons adjourned at 4 a. m. on Tuesday. This revolt, it now appears, has been quickly neutralized by Mr. Morley, who had a long, persuasive conference with Mr. Sexton yesterday, which induced an entirely different tone in the house of commons last night. The Irish members, it is known, accused the government of collusion with the Conservatives to postpone the house of lords' veto. But Mr. Morley denied with emphasis that there was any such arrangement, and Mr. Balfour made a similar denial on behalf of the Conservatives.

The incidents of Monday night were followed with threats from the Irish press. In this connection, the Times today says: "Few people have doubted that it was more than a sham fight, done for the purpose of codding the Irish electors into the belief that the Irish members are not the servile tools of the government."

JOHN D. GILL HEARD FROM

He is Now in Washington and Has Begun a Campaign of Education and Reformation.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—[Special to The Herald.]—Rather an unique citizen has established his headquarters in this city. He claims to have once been a resident of Duluth and is a lawyer by profession. John D. Gill is the name on his office door at No. 1202 Pennsylvania avenue. He has been in this city since about Feb. 1 last, preparing for a campaign of education and reformation.

He has been studying the subject of finance for two years and has a book now ready for publication entitled "The Power of Money to Starve, Subdue and Enslave the World." He has also issued a 4-page publication entitled "For Fools in Hell." The first issue is devoted entirely to the monetary question. He argues against the free coinage of either gold or silver or the issuance of money by banks.

The proposition is for the government to issue all the money and distribute it for products or services. This would be established by the control of railroads, building a works, etc. It is claimed that by this means all the people would be benefited without preferences.

It is an indisputable fact that all the cranks of the country turn up in this city sooner or later.

IS FAVORABLE TO JAPAN.

Finding of the British Naval Court on the Kow Shing's Sinking.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—The Japanese legation here received information stating that it is reported in Tokio on reliable authority that the finding of the British naval court of inquiry which was held at Shanghai to investigate the fact of the sinking of the British steamer Kow Shing, when acting as a transport for Chinese troops to Korea, by the Japanese cruiser Naniwa Kain, is favorable to Japan.

It is also reported that the British admiral has officially stated to his government that he considers the sinking of the Kow Shing under the circumstances as equivalent to the sinking of a Chinese vessel, and that he has consequently advised the British government to make no claims.

THE DOINGS OF CONGRESS.

House Not in Session Today and the Senate Did Nothing.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Chairman Wilson has gone to West Virginia but will be back tomorrow, at which time it is expected he will see President Cleveland and some intimation will be given as to when congress can session up its business.

The house was not in session today and very few members put in an appearance. The senate held a short session, adjourning at 1:40 p. m. until tomorrow.

STOLE EXPRESS PACKAGES.

A Former Northern Pacific Operator Arrested in Arkansas.

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 22.—Police Inspector Child, of Clithral, Minn., left for that place tonight with Frank J. Nichols, formerly an operator on the Northern Pacific, who was arrested and brought to this city from Little Rock, Ark., yesterday, on a charge of stealing two express packages containing $8000 from the Northern Pacific's railway office at Clithral over four years ago.

Nichols was arrested by Inspector Child just as he was leaving the Arkansas penitentiary after serving four years for burglary.

DAVIS WILL INSIST.

Senator Davis Will Insist That the Interior Department Furnish the Information That He Wants.

It Relates to Minnesota's Claim to the Sixteen and Thirty-six Sections as School Lands.

This Applies to Cases Where Such Sections Are Situated in Indian or Military Reservations.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—[Special to The Herald.]—Officials of the interior department are endeavoring to get out of a compliance with the resolution introduced by Senator Davis calling for all the correspondence between that department and the state and territorial officials of Minnesota, relating to the claim of the state to the 16 and 36 sections as school lands, in cases where such sections are, or have been, situated in any Indian or military reservation, or in any unceded lands. They make the plea that it would take a large force of clerks several months to search out this correspondence and make copies of it, but in spite of their objections Senator Davis intends to insist that the information which he has requested be furnished to the senate.

Acting Commissioner Bowers, of the general land office, in his answer to the Davis resolution gives some interesting facts about these reservations in Minnesota. In regard to the paragraph in the resolution calling for information as to the number of acres of pine that have been examined and appraised he says: "I have to state that the Chippewa Indian reservations in the state of Minnesota affected by the act of January 14, 1889, (25 Stat., 612), are twelve in number, and are designated as follows: Boze Fort, Cass Lake, Deer Creek, Fond du Lac, Grand Portage, Leech Lake, Mille Lac, Red Lake, Vermilion Lake, White Earth, White Oak Point, and Lake Winnebago. The act provides for the examination of the lands by the secretary of the interior, who shall report the quantity of standing or growing pine timber found on each legal subdivision, or if none is found upon any particular subdivision, to report that fact, after which the lands upon which pine timber is found are to be appraised by this office, said appraisal to be subject to approval by the department.

"The ceded lands of the White Earth reservation are comprised in four townships, containing an aggregate area of 80,318.11 acres. The examination of said lands was begun in September, 1891, and completed in March, 1892. Judging from the result of the re-examination of lands in the Red Lake reservation, hereinafter referred to, it may be found upon investigation that the estimates of the pine timber upon said lands in the four townships submitted by the examiners are unreliable, and if so, a re-examination of these lands will be necessary. The ceded lands of the Red Lake reservation embrace 180 townships and parts of townships, of which eighty-two townships and parts of townships have been surveyed, comprising an area of 1,210,343.97 acres. The portion unsurveyed is estimated to contain 1,723,000 acres. The examination of these lands was begun in March, 1892. In May, 1893, the corps of examiners was reorganized, and up to that time 433,362.79 acres had been examined, and the estimates show 204,428.000 feet of pine timber as having been found thereon.

"At the time of the reorganization a portion of the area previously examined was re-examined, and it was found that:

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report.

the estimates submitted by the former corps of examiners were unreliable; the timber near the logging streams having been largely underestimated, while the timber distant from the logging streams was proportionately overestimated. It was therefore found necessary to set aside estimates and re-examine the entire area theretofore examined. The present corps of examiners began the re-examination in May, 1893, and is now engaged in that work. From reports received, the latest being dated June 16, 1894, it appears that 65,454.79 acres have been re-examined, on which there were found 89,701.000 feet of pine timber.

"Before the present corps of examiners began the re-examination they examined 60,000.12 acres, not, therefore, examined, of which reports have been received for 201,238.55 acres, the estimates showing 28,662,000 feet of timber as having been found thereon. It was seen from the foregoing that it took the former corps of examiners six months to examine the four townships, embracing 80,318.11 acres, and four months to examine 433,362.79 acres on the Red Lake reservation. The present corps of examiners were one year examining 600,000.12 acres on the Red Lake reservation.

"There remain about 1,895,615 acres to examine upon the Red Lake reservation in addition to the re-examination, which will probably be completed during the present calendar year. No reliable estimate can be made of the time that will be required to complete the examination of the ceded lands of the Red Lake reservation, as the speed with which the work can be done depends upon whether the land is open, or if it is timbered, sparsely timbered or barren of timber. If the rate of progress by the present corps of examiners is maintained, however, it will take about three and one-half years to complete the examination.

"As under existing law no portion of the pine lands made subject to disposal by said act of Jan. 14, 1889, can be offered for sale until the examination of all said lands is completed, no appraisal of any of the lands has yet been made. In view of this fact, and further because a report of the number of feet of pine found upon each legal subdivision has been examined, however, it will necessitate the transcription of the greater portion of forty-five books of seventy-two pages each, which would take at least a month, and also in consideration of the probable early adjournment of congress, it has been deemed advisable to delay the report of the condition of this general rather than to delay for the time stated the submission of a report which would necessarily even then be wanting in the matter of appraisals. This office deems it of the greatest importance that will permit the disposal of said lands as rapidly as the examination and appraisal of a sufficient area is completed. Forest fires frequently pass through and over the lands, and the timber is thereby destroyed in quantities of valuable timber, and no unnecessary delay should be allowed to prevent the disposal of the timbered lands as early as practicable. No good reason can be urged to justify the delay in disposing of any of said lands until the examination of all of them is completed.

Eight Men Drowned.
ST. JOHNS, N. B., Aug. 22.—Yesterday's yacht race for the Canada Cup resulted in putting mourning into at least eight families. When all the yachts returned a small squall struck them, and the boats were blown to sea. The Princeton was well in shore when struck and she lasted but a few moments. She was thrown on her beam ends and in an instant she plunged, bow first to the bottom. Four of those aboard were rescued. The following are the names of the drowned: Samuel Hutton, Fred Priest, son of the regatta captain; George Heathfield, of A. K. Kelly, George Bartlett, James Hurley, William Russell, H. Hoyt. Hutton was a member of the famous Paris crew.

Fires in Chicago.
CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—A fire in the 5-story building at the southeast corner of Madison and Market streets last night caused a total damage of $66,000, divided as follows: Wagon-Anderson company, $10,000; W. N. Fargo, boots and shoes, $10,000; Coulter & Co., notions, $10,000; building, $10,000. The freight house of the Wisconsin division of the Chicago & Northwestern railroad was totally destroyed last night. Loss, mainly on freight, is estimated at $35,000.

Appealing Situation.
NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—A World special from Colon says: Labor arrivals continue here despite the vagueness of canal prospects. Many are returning to the adjacent quays. There were many ill clad arrivals in the French Antilles yesterday. Distress is keenly felt by the unemployed. The situation is appalling. Monopolies are killing industries.

Arrested for Robbery.
ST. LOUIS, Aug. 22.—Philip Fohan, the wealthy bootmaker, for whom James Campbell caused a warrant to be sworn charging him with attempted abduction and highway robbery, has since been arrested and released on bonds $10,000 to appear before Judge Claiborne Aug. 28.

A Hopeful Convention.
MINNEOLA, Tex., Aug. 22.—The Third congressional district Democratic convention met in adjourned session here and started in on the two thousand five hundred and ninety-ninth ballot. McCord, 24%; Yokum, 10%; Kilgore, 10%. The convention hopes to reach a conclusion this week.

THE DULUTH EVENING HERALD: WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 22, 1894.

A BRIGHT LITTLE MISS.

She is Happy Because Her Hopes Were Realized in Treatment She Received at the Copeland Medical Institute.

ALICIA WILLOUGHBY.

A few months ago there appeared in the columns of The Herald the picture of a little girl who had been cured of a catarrhal trouble by the Copeland physicians. Upon seeing the picture and reading the story connected therewith, Alicia Willoughby thought that she, too, would like to be cured as that little girl had been, and so informed her father. Alicia had suffered for a long time not only from catarrh, but a complete stoppage of the nose, the cause of which, examination revealed, was the formation of adenoids, or growths in the back part of the nose. These growths chiefly occur in children, stopping respiration through the nose entirely and forcing the child to use the mouth as a breathing organ. As a result of disease the opening narrow, the mouth is constantly open, the upper lip recedes, and the child becomes what is commonly called a "snout-breathed." Other discomforting features in conjunction with these growths are affections of the voice and ears. There is a characteristic nasal twinge, and the voice is muffled and indistinct. The little tubes connecting the ears with the throat become stopped up, causing deafness and often carache and a discharge from the ear. Alicia Willoughby suffered from all of the foregoing symptoms when she began treatment at the Copeland Medical Institute, but in a short time had her hopes realized by the restoration of her nose to its proper function, and says she was not hurt a particle.

Her ears do not hurt her any more, her voice is clear and distinct and she is happy. Her address is 213 West Fifth street.

The Weather.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN.
Aug. 22.—A storm of moderate energy is central in Minnesota. The barometer has fallen decidedly from Ontario southwestward to South Dakota. The high pressure area is central over the Middle Mississippi state.
Heavy showers are reported in the Red River valley and Arkansas and light scattered showers in Montana and the Dakotas.
It is decidedly warmer in the Upper Mississippi, Red River and Missouri valleys,
and the northern portion of the lake region.
State of water at St. Mary's Falls, to canal
at 8 a.m. today, 14 ft 9 in; forecast for next three days, falling.
Duluth temperature at 7 a.m. today, 28 degrees; maximum yesterday, 38 degrees; minimum yesterday, 20 degrees.

DULUTH, Aug. 22.—Local forecast for Northwest Minnesota and Northwest Wisconsin for today and Thursday: Thunder, showers, cloud-

less; local rains Thursday; warmer Thursday;
warmer today and tonight; fair Thursday;
cloudy Thursday evening; cooler in eastern portion Thursday morning; southerly winds becoming variable.

JAMES KENNELLY,

Local Forecast Official.
Washington, Aug. 22.—Forecast till 8 p.m. tomorrow—For Wisconsin: Increasing, cloud-
less; local rains Thursday; warmer Thursday;
warmer today and tonight; fair Thursday;
cloudy Thursday evening; cooler in eastern portion Thursday morning; southerly winds becoming variable.
The decision of the officers of the newly organized St. Louis County Agricultural society, which has been quietly slumbering for several years, to hold a county fair this year, probably during the first week in October, should result in awakening an interest on the part of the citizens of the county in the proposed enterprise. There is an incorrect impression abroad in the state that there is no agricultural land in St. Louis county; that the only products of the county are iron ore, timber and rocks.
An exhibition such as is now proposed
would do much to dispel this mistaken
idea and to prove that there is no finer
or richer agricultural land in the country than is to be found within the confines of St. Louis county.

Several years ago an exhibition was held here, and it was an eye opener even to the old settlers who thought they knew something about the resources of the county. The display of vegetables was particularly fine, and everyone who saw them grew enthusiastic over their splendid quality, great size and prolific yield. Since that time there have been many additions to the ranks of the farmers and market gardeners in this county, and it is safe to say that a splendid exhibition can be gotten up, if all
will take a proper interest in the matter.
The new officers of the agricultural society are men of energy and determination, who generally succeed in carrying out what they undertake, and they will spare no time or pains to produce a first-class exhibition that will be a credit to St. Louis county and prove of great value in making its resources known to all.

The exhibition should not be confined to agricultural products only. While the farmers and market gardeners can make an excellent display, there should be an effort made to have on exhibition
specimens of the rich mineral resources of the county as well as exhibits from the manufacturers. Few people in Duluth know how large and varied are the lines of manufactures represented here.
A display of the products of our manufactories would give them a pleasant surprise and show the strides that Duluth is making in the manufacturing line. No feature of the state fair attracts more attention than the department devoted to fancy, artistic and useful articles produced by the ladies. The Herald is confident that the ladies of St. Louis county can, if they desire, produce an exhibition of such articles that will delight and instruct all who may visit the fair. These are some features which would add to the attractiveness of the exhibition and they should not be overlooked.

Now that the society has been reorganized and the ball has been started rolling, let all who can assist in any way
aid to the utmost of their ability in producing a creditable exhibition. It can be done, and The Herald is sure that when it has been accomplished it will furnish good cause for pride and congratulation on the part of the people of this great county.

The Growth of Cities.
The people of this country are accustomed to boast regarding the rapid growth of our cities in population and to compare them with foreign cities, to the disadvantage of the latter. The growth of foreign cities has been regarded as slow, in comparison with the advancement of American cities, but according to some figures given by Dr. Albert Shaw in the Century, our boasts are hardly warranted by the facts. For instance, Dr. Shaw points out that in 1862
Berlin was smaller than Philadelphia;
since then it has added 1,000,000 to its population, while Philadelphia has added
but 500,000. In 1870 Berlin had considerably fewer inhabitants than New York, the figures being 800,000 against 950,000. In 1890, according to the official enumerators, Berlin had 1,578,791 inhabitants, against 1,515,301 in New York.

Coming to the German city next in size, it is found that in 1875 Hamburg
had only 263,540 people, whereas Boston had 312,000. In 1890 Hamburg had 569,260, while Boston had but 548,000.
Again, in the early seventies, Hamburg and Baltimore were of equal size; in 1890 the German city had beaten its American rival by more than 131,000.
The third German city in respect of population is Leipzig, which has grown from 127,000 in 1875 to 355,000 in 1890, having consistently distanced San Francisco,
which was the larger in the year first named. In the same period Munich and Breslau have both beaten Cincinnati.

Among the gains which the people of this country have been accustomed to think remarkable during the last decade
may be mentioned that of Cleveland,
from 160,000 to 261,000; that of Buffalo,
from 155,000 to 255,000; and that of Pittsburg, from 150,000 to 238,600. All of these were surpassed by Cologne, which in the same time increased from 144,000
to 281,800. So, too, Minneapolis and St.
Paul, regarded as astonishing instances of growth, were both outside between 1885 and 1890 by Magdeburg. Even Chemnitz beat St. Paul, having had 110,- 800 against 110,000 in 1885, and having attained in 1890 to 138,955 to St. Paul's 133,156. The area, however, of many German cities would be considered small according to the present American standard. Thus Berlin, Hamburg, Leipzig and Munich, the four largest cities of Germany, cover each a superficies of only about 15,000 acres.

Viewed as a whole, the comparative statistics of the two countries sustain Mr.
Shaw's conclusion, that, since the war of 1870, the urban centers of Germany have been gaining population even more rapidly than those of the United States. It is a fact that will astonish most people.
The efforts of the Iowa legislature to enact a prohibition law which will permit
the sale of liquor appears destined to permanent failure, a justice of the peace
having declared the "mule" law unconstitutional. Commenting on this incident, the Milwaukee Sentinel says: "As we understand the practice of prohibitory law in Iowa, the only hope of the liquor seller now is to appeal from the justice of the peace to the coroner."

Dragon's blood, cutch, sauerkraut, dividivi, valonia, tapioca, unmanufactured
hops, old junk, fossils, skeletons, spunk,
ice and lemon peel, are to come in free
of duty under the Gorman tariff, while peanuts are to pay a duty. This is unjust discrimination, and the lovers of peanuts everywhere will arise as one man to condemn "that atrocity of class legislation."

The latest scheme started by the American Protective Tariff league is to possess itself of the addresses of the barbers of this country, in order, presumably, to fill those worthless to the muzzle with protection facts and figures,
and thus to secure the dissemination of said facts and figures broadcast. This will increase the terrors of the barber's chair.

"David Bennett Hill," says the Providence Journal, "came out of the long tariff struggle with more credit than any other man in congress of either party."
There is much truth in this statement.
Mr. Hill was consistent throughout and his speeches were of a high order, while in running debate he more than held his own with the best debaters in the senate.

That stalwart Democratic sheet, the Brooklyn Eagle, says President Cleveland ought to veto the Gorman tariff
"because it is not such a measure as should receive approval, and, secondly,
because he has said and proved that it is not." It is a safe bet, however, that Grover will not veto the bill.

Congressman Nils Haugen voted for the Democratic free coal bill. Knute Nelson, when in congress, voted for the Mills bill. Since then he has been elected a Republican governor. Perhaps Haugen thinks the rule might work
in his case.

The fact that the price of whisky has been raised by the passage of the senate
tariff bill makes that measure still more obnoxious to many Democrats—also to numerous Republicans and Populists.

The circus bill boards are now the delight of the small boy, and even the larger and older "boys" are interested.
The latter of course will take the children to see the menagerie?

That the Japanese have a big contract
on hand is evident from an estimate that it would require 1100 years to dispose of the whole population.

Smallpox has again begun to spread in Chicago, and the health authorities of Duluth should be on their guard against another invasion from that quarter.

Mrs. Lease charges $100 for each lecture she delivers. Mary Ellen is not preaching Populist doctrines for her health.

An adverse report on the nomination of James D. Porter, of Tennessee, to be United States circuit judge has been made by the senate judiciary committee.

The main objection is that he is 66 years old, within a few years of the age at which judges can retire. Mr. Porter is now minister to Chili.

Case Beyond Argument.

Never Been Used.
Madison State Journal: When the Wisconsin Democrats meet in state convention they might do well to adopt the Chicago platform. It is not quite new,
but then it has never been used.

Hilling Then Pretty Hard.
Fond du Lac Reporter: It is not surprising that a leading operator of the Chicago board of trade should have been put into a strait-jacket, as an uncontrollable madman, in a case up a distinction
so many of his fellow members are left
at large.

They Must Envy Duluth.
St. Louis Post-Dispatch: The heat of last night was almost unbearable.
Only professional watchmen and veteran policemen got any sleep.
The delicious summer breezes that have made St. Louis famous as a summer resort disappeared mysteriously and completely.

An Injurious Distinction.
Boston Herald: Men should hold office because they are fit for it. If a white man is fitter than a black man white should go to him, and vice versa. The true interest of the colored man is to be absorbed in the community and not to be recognized as any distinct portion of it.
The claim, therefore, of colored men to be elected to office because they are colored, while it may benefit a few aspirants for such places, is an injury to the community as a whole, and a distinction
which is likely to be too much retained
under the best conditions.

How Do They Stand?
Tower Budget: How do the Republican nominees for senator and representatives from this district stand on the choice of a successor to Senator Washburn? Are they for the re-election of Senator Washburn or not? They cannot afford to be silent on this point.
Washburn is a man who spends money
to secure votes when it is necessary.
That fact should prompt every honorable candidate for the legislature to plant himself on positive ground as regards the election of senator, lest evidenced persons should attribute his uncertainty to unworthy motives.

What the English Papers Forget.
Louisville Courier-Journal: The English papers are disposed to be over-
the demand for an allowance of $30,000
a year for the bringing up of two American children. They announce that the sum is larger than that expected for educating the children of royalty. That may be true, but it is possible to get $15,000 worth of useful ideas out of some American children, and it is not impossible to do it in the case of a son of royalty.

Music on the Water.
Tomorrow night the Bohemian club will present its Neph's Ark concert on the covered scow, J. W. H. 20, 30, 40.
The program is a fine one, replete with club
chorus work, and includes numbers by the members of the club. The program is a novel and will doubtless meet with great success. The boat leaves Northern Pacific dock at 8 o'clock.
Tickets can be procured at 25 cents each from any member of the club or at the dock.

Removal.
Gordon & Henzley have removed to 305 West Superior street, Duluth Trust company building.

A boat ride and a concert all for 35 cents. Noah's Ark tomorrow night.

TREMEMENDOUS ATTRACTIONS.

The Barnum & Bailey Show This Year Presents Many of Them.

Have the children by all means see the great ethnological congress of strange and savage tribes when Barnum & Bailey's greatest show on earth comes here on Saturday next. It is just possible that no books in the world will contain as much actual information about the curious races of human beings inhabiting this earth as an hour spent in viewing them in the circus. Here, too, may be seen the thieves, daughters and sons of these and other nations, with their curious but, together with weapons of war and the chase, bar and skin canoes, bow and arrows, lances, assegais, poisoned darts, crude agricultural implements and ancient tools, queer and outlandish costumes—some almost nude—quaint musical instruments, and all the other things that are so peculiarly belonging to barbarous and semi-civilized races. Here are Esquimaux, Hindus, Todas, Singhaless, Malays, Arabs, Soudanese, Japanese, and many others. The son is in the same tent may be seen also Chiko and Johanna, two remarkable giant male and female gorillas, which have become famous for being loaned to the zoological garden at Central park, New York, by Mr. Bailey, and where they excited the wonder of thousands daily. These are the only two gorillas at present in captivity in the world, and the only male and female ever seen together at any time. They are wonderful, they are a pair of giants. Besides these again there is a most amazing exhibition of trained animals which takes place in an enormous hall, where, sure, secure from the audience, when at the command of a fearless, unarmed trainer, lions, tigers, are harnessed to chariots and driven over the top of the arena, and where nearly all kinds of animals go through a series of performances of a most startling character. Deeds of opus, lion and the lamb playing together, the tiger and dog, bear and sheep, stork and panther, pig and hyacinth, ponies, monkeys, elephants, wolves, puma, zebras, leopards and other beasts, all singly, in groups and in whole companies doing remarkable things.

Equestrian tournaments, leaping and tumbling contests, aerial trapeze, ground, acrobatic, gymnastic and athletic feats follow each other in such rapid succession that the eye can scarce keep them within range. And all these are in three rings, on two stages, on the race track and in the arena. A veritable medley will be found in the double menagerie tent, where there are fifty cages of the rarest and costliest specimens of wild beasts from all over the world. The new free street parade is also a wonderful affair, in which the military uniforms of all nations are shown, as well as representatives of the present rulers of the world, civilized and barbarous.

Dancing Party.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Ham, of West Superior gave a dancing party Monday evening in honor of Mrs. Kaiser and daughter, of Minneapolis. A large party went over from this side of the bay among whom were Mr. and Mrs. D. Heller, Mr. and Mrs. L. Loeb, Mrs. Waikel, Mrs. B. Silberstein, and the Misses Strouse, Silberstein, Ham and Eugene Silberstein and C. O. Oswald.

State Fair This Year.

The Minnesota State Agricultural society will have a fair this year on its magnificent grounds midway between St. Paul and Minneapolis. No fair was held last year and the exhibit will mark more particularly the agricultural progress of the state in that two years. The managers of the fair already have the assurance of a big exhibit. The stock growers have in particular shown a desire to bring their herds, flocks and studs together for comparison and competition, and breeders from outside the state are going to bring the best products of their stables to Minnesota to show them to the Minnesota farmers. The dairy exhibit will also be large. In Steele, Fred, born, Mower, Olmsted and other of the southern counties of the state, where dairy interest has developed so rapidly, the friendly rivalry between the different cheese and butter manufacturers is very sharp. The rank the state took at the World's fair in this industry has stimulated the interest in this exhibit. There will be the usual races, dilly balloon ascensions, and the fact that there is going to be no exposition held in Minneapolis this year promises to result in the buildings devoted to the exhibits of merchants and manufacturers being large. The fair will have the heavy support of both St. Paul and Minneapolis. The dates of the fair are Sept. 10 to 15, inclusive.

Cases that have baffled the skill of many are easily pleased by Hoefler, the city expert, at Geist's jewelry store.

THE GROCERS' PICNIC.

They Will Forget Business and Enjoy a Whole Day's Outing Tomorrow at Fond du Lac.

Great Base Ball Game Between Representatives of the Wholesalers and Retailers of the City.

Field Sports and Contests With Handsome Prizes for the Winners—Twenty-four Events Schedule.

Tomorrow every grocery store in Duluth will be closed up tighter than a saloon on election day and the heads of families who do not lay in a supply today to cover two days will be kicking themselves about tomorrow evening. The grocers are going to picnic tomorrow and they want everybody to know it. For once they are not fastidiously going to the winners and they must then banquet the losers. The races and other contests will be put on in the morning and continue through the afternoon. There will be music and dancing all day and nothing will be lacking to make the day a delightful one. Lunch will be served on the grounds.

A special train leaves the Union depot for Fond du Lac at 9:30 a. m. Other trains go at 7:30 a. m. and 1:30 p. m. and return at 3 and 5:35 p. m. Besides the trains there will be a number of excursion boats running during the day. Before leaving in the morning the baseball games of the wholesalers and retailers will be played in costume. The game will be called at 11 a. m. and will be an exhibition worth going many miles to see. Fifty dollars has been put up to go to the winners and the losers will banquet the losers. The races and other contests will be put on in the morning and continue through the afternoon. There will be music and dancing all day and nothing will be lacking to make the day a delightful one. Lunch will be served on the grounds.

The boy and a police officer were sent down there one day and found and brought back. It was a light 22-caliber rifle and after examination was returned to Mr. Paddock.

WAS ACCIDENTAL.

Albert Paddock's Death Declared to Be so by the Coroner's Jury.

The coroner's jury returned a verdict yesterday afternoon to the effect that Albert G. Paddock, the boy who was shot on Sunday, came to his death by accident. It also recommended that the city ordinances and general laws be enforced in so far as they cover the carrying of arms by minors. Albert G. Paddock admitted on the stand that he had shot the boy. His denial previous to this had been steadfastly adhered to, and in spite of the most rigid questioning, his story could not be changed nor could he be confused. For one so young—he is only 11 years—he maintained the lie in a manner which was almost convincing of truth. He said Paddock had given him the gun to shoot at a snipe. He missed and Paddock reloaded it and laid it on the ground. He picked it up and it was discharged, the bullet entering Paddock's temple. He became frightened and ran away, carrying the gun with him. He hid it under the Eastern Minnesota plat and said it was still there unless there had been taken it. The boy and a police officer were sent down there one day and found and brought back. It was a light 22-caliber rifle and after examination was returned to Mr. Paddock.

ALMOST DESTITUTE.

An Indian Woman, One Hundred Years Old, is in Poor Circumstances.

A complaint was recently made to Humane Officer Haskins that an old woman at 314 Mesaba avenue was compelled to sleep in a woodshed, without proper care. The son is a Canadian Indian. Haskins found an old woman but, instead of being in a woodshed, she is in the kitchen of the house and is cared for as well as possible. The woman is a half-blooded Indian. Her daughter is a half breed, is a widow, as a son and daughter and bears the name of Smith. The son is a Canadian Indian and as Mrs. Smith is compelled to care for her mother, they are not in the best of circumstances. The woman is over 100 years old and is a Canadian Indian. Mrs. Smith says that a little assistance would be gratefully received and if a mattress for the old lady could be most acceptable.

'NEWSIES' AT THE PAVILION.

Newsboys of Duluth and Superior Entertained Last Evening.

Manager McCaffrey's entertainment of the newsboys of Duluth and West Superior at the Pavilion last night was an unqualified success. One did not need to look twice at the happy faces of the 'newsies' to learn that. About 100 from West Superior and 150 from Duluth were present, and every boy devoted his whole attention to having the best time he could and making all the noise he could at the proper time.

The Boys Formed in The Herald's

circle room at 7:30 o'clock and marched to the foot of the Pavilion, where they were joined by the Superior boys. The 6 o'clock car carried a freight of happy, good natured little newsboys to the top of the hill, where they instantly flooded the Pavilion, joining each other in their efforts to get seats.

They made the most appreciative audience ever gathered in the Pavilion, and the performances of the singers, dancers and the orchestra were received with enthusiastic demonstrations of approval from over 300 pairs of hands and feet. The program consisted of songs by Sadie Dorsell, Mattie Norcott and dances by the Bryant sisters, all of which were excellent. N. S. Murphy also sang "Mavournt" and "Pain Mollie O," and was given hearty applause.

An unexpected though pleasing number was a mouth organ solo by "Masco," the curly-headed little newsboy whose face is familiar to all Duluthians. The boys threatened to bring down the house literally at this clever performance.

No One Was Swindled.

Mr. Smith, who has a store near the Western hotel, where he sells watches and other jewelry, with a prize scheme attached, thinks that he has not been treated exactly fairly in the newspapers, and has printed the story told by the captain of police about several men claiming to be swindled at his place. Mr. Smith asserts that the men could not show any swindling on his part, that they received full value for the money they expended at his store, and that the detectives who looked into the matter are satisfied that he committed no fraud. This being the case, Mr. Smith desires to be placed right before the people of Duluth, where he has taken up his permanent residence.

Removal.

Cardon & Lutz have removed to 35 West Superior street, Duluth Trust company building.

Jelly South Sea Party.

A party given at the Jolly bathfathers have their tents pitched in the most picturesque spot imaginable at the mouth of Fish river, about 25 miles down the south shore. The place well described the name of Fish river, as was demonstrated by the large number of fish caught by the party, they have seen several deer and regretted exceedingly that they were out of season. The most enjoyable part of the whole outing has been the delight of the children and the concert under the management of Professor R. Schofield, of Chicago. The party consists of Capt. and Mrs. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. R. Schofield, Mr. and Mrs. F. Schofield, Mr. and Mrs. F. Green, Mrs. Wisbart, Misses Laycock, unknown, Green, Wisbart, Schofield and Mrs. Schofield. Green, Donald, the belle of the party is Emily, the 1-year-old daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Smith.

Corse Payton Company.

The "Kathleen Mavournt" old pretty Irish drama, at the Temple last evening. The house was well filled and the performance was very successful. Applause was hearty and frequent and well distributed among the members of the company. The company appeared at its best and the rendition of his part was very favorably received by the audience. His specialty work is always welcomed by the audience and last night was no exception. Miss Reed, Miss Fox and Mr. Wells all did well.

Tonight "Rose Cottage" will be presented.

COVERED HEAD & NECK

Eczema of Worst Type. School and Society Abandoned. Felt Death Would Be Relief. Cuticura Soon Put An End to all Sufferings.

Ever since I was three years old I have been troubled with Eczema of the worst type. It is a torment to me and I have tried all sorts of medicines, and have been doctoring myself very much, but with no favorable result. Sometimes my head was one mass of thick scum that would run and bleed, and in summer would be so much swollen that I could not go to school or mingle with society. As the disease spread so, I felt at times that death would be a relief, suffering and itching until I hardly knew what to do. I got your Cuticura and I shall have recovered from this disease. I had spent money and tried the best of doctors with but little relief.

THOMPSON'S HEARING

The St. Paul & Duluth Brakeman is Being Examined for Assaulting Charles Jackson, the Tramp.

Frank Walter, Held as a Witness Was Unable to Positively Identify Thompson as the Assailant.

Medical Testimony as to Jackson's Physical Condition—Questions of Jurisdiction and Venue Raised.

The preliminary examination of Sidney Thompson, the St. Paul & Duluth brakeman charged with assaulting Charles Jackson in the second degree, was commenced before Judge Powell this forenoon. County Attorney Tear prosecuted, and J. D. Armstrong, of St. Paul, the attorney of the St. Paul & Duluth road, looked after the interest of the defense.

The first witness was Frank Walter, the tramp who was in the car with Jackson at the time of the alleged assault, and who was arrested and held as a witness the other day. His story did not vary in detail with those previously told. He said that he did not see the brakeman kick Jackson but saw him given one blow on the head. The witness could not swear positively that the defendant was the brakeman, but said that he looked like the one.

Dr. Sherwin was the next witness. He testified that he has been attending Jackson at the hospital and that now he cannot move and is in a stupor part of the time. When first called the doctor found the patient very sensitive in the lumbar region. Today the limbs have no sense of feeling but the nerves of motion are paralyzed. The patient may get better but the outlook for recovery is exceedingly slim.

Dr. Salter was called, but upon stating that his testimony would be the same as that of Dr. Sherwin, was excused from giving testimony. Chief Armstrong testified as to the story told him by Walter, after which Mr. Tear asked that the examination be adjourned until such time as the state could bring forward other witnesses, should Judge Powell not be satisfied that the testimony presented was sufficient to warrant the holding to the grand jury of the defendant.

Attorney Armstrong objected to that as an injustice to his client, and maintained that the showing was not enough to warrant binding over the accused and also raised questions of jurisdiction and venue. Judge Powell wanted to look up authorities on the questions of jurisdiction and venue, so adjourned the case until 2 p. m.

Thompson was bailed out last week by the railroad company.

BARNUM GRAIN COMPANY.

New Corporation Which is to be Located in Duluth.

The Barnum Grain company filed articles of incorporation with the register of deeds this morning. The incorporators are W. H. Dunwoody, James S. Bell, Charles J. Peterson and Peter B. Smith, all of Minneapolis, and George G. Barnum, of Duluth, who will constitute the first board of directors. W. H. Dunwoody will be president, I. S. Bell, vice president, and George G. Barnum secretary and treasurer.

The object of the corporation is stated to be the handling of grain and farm products. The capital stock is $50,000, $30,000 of which is to be paid in before business is commenced and the remainder when required by the board of directors. There will be 500 shares of a par value of $100 each. The limit of indebtedness is $100,000. The first meeting will be held Sept. 4 in the office of the St. Anthony and Dakota Elevator company in Minneapolis. The principal place of business of the company is in Duluth, with an office in Minneapolis.

Mr. Barnum, the secretary and treasurer, lately resigned his position of general manager of the Duluth Elevator company which he held for several years, for the purpose of joining the new company. The company is to be part of the Washburn-Crosby interests and will handle the grain from the St. Anthony and Dakota Elevator company line of elevators.

LUNATIC KILLED

Joseph Sties, an Inmate of the Insane Hospital at Rochester, Mangled by a Train.

A Prominent Lawyer and the Wife of a Dentist Arrested in St. Paul for Adultery.

Former St. Paul Youth Found Guilty of Murder in Montana and Sentenced to be Hanged.

North Dakota Farmers' Request to Railroads to Lower Rates Not Likely to be Granted.

ROCHESTER, Minn., Aug. 23.—Joseph Sties, an inmate of the state hospital, was struck and killed yesterday morning by the westbound passenger train at a private crossing on the hospital grounds. The brakeman saw the man sitting in a stooping position on the track, but as the whistle was blown vigorously it was supposed he would get off. He did not, and the engine could not be reversed in time to save him. He was thrown two rods from the track, his brains being dashed out and his body badly mangled.

Sties was a patient on parole and had liberty to go nearly where he pleased. He was an epileptic, and it is possible that he might have been seized by one of his fits while on the track.

TAKEN TO THE PEST HOUSE.
Six Members of a St. Paul Family Placed in Quarantine.

ST. PAUL, Aug. 23.—All the members of the family of S. L. Bird, of 511 Laurel avenue, who have been exposed to smallpox, were removed Tuesday night to the pest house and are there quarantined. Only three of the six members have had the disease, and these in a light form.

Energetic measures are being taken to stamp out the further spread of the disease, and the health authorities are convinced that no further trouble will be developed.

CHARGED WITH ADULTERY.
A Prominent Lawyer and a Married Woman at St. Paul Arrested.

ST. PAUL, Aug. 23.—Another sensational chapter in the domestic troubles of the Hurd family was written last night when Mrs. Anna Hurd, wife of Dr. W. J. Hurd, the dentist, was arrested in a house of questionable character, in company with a prominent lawyer of this city.

Both were locked up at the central police station on a charge of disorderly conduct. This morning the charge was changed to adultery, and both went back to jail in default of $1000 bail.

SENTENCED TO BE HANGED.
A St. Paul Youth Found Guilty of Murder in Montana.

ST. PAUL, Aug. 23.—Calvin J. Christie, a young man who was reared in St. Paul and whose parents are eminently respectable people, still reside here, has been found guilty of murdering Mrs. J. W. Cunningham at Columbia Falls, Mont., and has been sentenced to be hanged.

Christie was a member of the notorious Rice street gang of St. Paul, and under the name of Charles Adams was committed to the Stillwater penitentiary four years ago on a charge of grand larceny in the first degree. His term was for five years, but eight months after being committed he feigned insanity so successfully that he was transferred to the St. Peter asylum for the insane, from which institution he escaped May 13, 1892.

Nothing more was heard of Christie, or Adams, as he was then known, until Mrs. Cunningham was killed in a most atrocious manner near the Columbia falls, Montana, last winter. His trial has just ended and he has been sentenced to hang.

THEY WANT LOWER RATES.
North Dakota Farmers Ask the Railroads to Cut Wheat Rates.

ST. PAUL, Aug. 23.—If the railroad companies decline to comply with the request of the North Dakota farmers, made through their commission of that state, for lower rates, they will at least give some striking statistics in justification of their stand.

For the past ten years the rates have been subjected to a steady reduction until today they are scarcely two-thirds of what they were. The railroad companies say they are weary of so much and such persistent importuning for lower rates, especially as the rates are now so low that scarcely any margin is left for revenue after the actual operating expenses have been paid.

The request for still lower rates will be presented at Fargo today before the railroad commission of North Dakota. The Minnesota railroad commission will be present, having left for that point last evening. Among the St. Paul railroad men who will participate will be General Manager Kendrick and General Freight Agent Moore, of the Northern Pacific.

BURGLARS IN MINNEAPOLIS.
They Robbed the Phi Psi Fraternity House but Were Captured.

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 23.—Phi Cappa Psi fraternity house, 303 Washington avenue southeast, was yesterday afternoon visited by two burglars who climbed in through a cellar window and undertook to go through the place in the absence of the boys.

George H. Budds, who resides next door to the fraternity house, saw the entrance, and hurried to the university where he found H. S. Wilson, proprietor of the book store and one of the Phi Psi boys. Wilson climbed upon his wheel and made a bee line for the house, opening the front door just as the burglars were coming out.

They had their pockets full of trinkets and were also making off with a satchel full of valuable articles. Wilson followed on his wheel and kept close to them even after they seized a delivery wagon and tried to escape across the railroad tracks. A crowd of switchmen surrounded the men and they were caught. They gave the names of Dennis Harrigan and Edward Morris.

Against the Railroad.
ST. PAUL, Aug. 23.—In the case of the Northern Pacific against the United States, Judge Williams yesterday sustained the demurrer to the complaint. The company sued to recover a quarter section of land valued at $600, the case being a test one to recover damages for the refusal of the government to issue a patent. On it some other cases hinge, involving thousands of dollars. An appeal will be taken.

Pierre Wants the Fight.
ST. PAUL, Aug. 23.—A Pierre, S. D., special to the Pioneer Press says: Efforts are being made by New York parties to find out if the governor will interfere with the Corbett-Jackson mill if attempted in that state, across the line from Sioux City. The penalty in this state is only for a misdemeanor.

THE ARMOR PLATE INQUIRY.
Committee Reports That Charges of Fraud Were Proven.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Representative Amos J. Cummings, chairman of the house committee on naval affairs, presented to the house today the preliminary report upon the investigation of the armor plate and bullets furnished to the government by the Carnegie Steel company. The investigation has been in progress for weeks, and during its course testimony has been given by the principal officials of the Carnegie company, by workmen and by government officials. The report is a remarkably complete and good review of the case.

The committee finds that charges of fraud have been sustained, scores of the company severely and recommends, as has been stated in these dispatches, that fifty-nine suspected plates in use should be taken as the only method of proving their fitness or unfitness. It only finds that the government inspection was negligent, but no charge of dishonesty rests upon the inspectors.

WILL NOT VETO

There is no Doubt That President Cleveland Will Not Veto the Senate Tariff Bill.

Pressure Being Brought to Bear to Induce Him to Sign, But no Decision Announced.

Democratic Members Say it Would Help Them in the Campaign if He Would Sign.

It is Not Expected That Congress Will be Able to Adjourn Before Next Tuesday.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—The president remains firm in his purpose to let the tariff bill become a law without his signature. This, as was stated by the Associated Press at the time was his intention when he left Washington for Gray Gables and there is excellent authority for the statement that Mr. Cleveland since his return has indicated that he is of the same opinion as before he left here.

A great deal of pressure has been and is still exerting to induce Mr. Cleveland to forego his present purpose and to sign the bill, either with or without some message expressing his views, but the president gave no encouragement to those who have pressed views of this nature of his situation, and has indicated that he will allow the bill to become a law by expiration of the ten days' clause of the constitution.

The persons most urgent in suggesting to the president that he sign the bill are members of congress who have represented very strongly to the president that a signature of the bill will help them considerably in their defense of it in the coming campaign, and that should it not have the measure of presidential approval indicated by President Cleveland's signature, their position on the stump will be embarrassed to some extent at least.

Speaker Crisp and a number of other congressmen have presented this view of the matter and the speaker saw Mr. Cleveland today on the subject. So far as can be learned, the president's attitude has been one of patient listening to and consideration of the arguments presented, but he has refrained carefully from making any promises or giving encouragement to congressmen who wish the bill signed. A veto of the bill, however is not even suggested. It cannot become a law without the presidential signature until next Monday, and this being the case the adjournment of congress will hardly take place before next Tuesday.

The fact that it is Mr. Cleveland's purpose to permit the bill to become a law without his signature is also strongly indicated by the improbability of any message on the tariff from the president.

Beside Speaker Crisp, who spent some time with the president in a discussion of the tariff situation, Representative McMillin, of Tennessee, of the ways and means committee, and one of the house conferees, also talked with Mr. Cleveland. Speaker Crisp told members of the house who were anxious to get away that he thought the session would last until next Tuesday. Mr. McMillin did not discuss the tariff bill with the president.

Chairman Wilson is expected back from West Virginia today, but he was not about the house during the session.

NOT A QUORUM PRESENT.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Even before the reading of yesterday's journal in the senate today, the absence of a quorum was pointed out by Mr. Manderson and the roll being called showed the presence of thirty-three senators, ten less than a quorum.

Mr. Harris moved that the sergeant-at-arms be directed to request the presence of absentees, but Mr. Pasco and Mr. Cockrell pointed out that the same order made yesterday was still in force and the latter asked for the report of the sergeant-at-arms. This was dated Aug. 23 (today) and reported that of the forty-two senators who failed to answer to their names yesterday, only two were in the city, and one of these (Mr. Voorhees) was too ill to attend. The other senators were telegraphed to attend immediately. Up to 12:35 only thirty-five senators had attended.

Finding it impossible to get a quorum the senate adjourned at 1:20 p. m. until tomorrow at 12 o'clock.

THE HOUSE.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—About fifty members were on the floor when the house met today. There was, as usual, a great rush on the part of members for recognition to pass bills of local importance. Mr. Cummings, chairman of the committee on naval affairs, presented the report of the committee on the armor plate frauds. With it he presented a joint resolution to authorize and direct the secretary of the navy to remove from the Monaghan, the monitor Terror, the ships Oregon, Indiana and Massachusetts and the cruiser Monterey certain specific armor plates and to subject them to the ballistic test at the Indian Head proving ground. The resolution also directed a speedy report on these tests.

The resolution was adopted without division, and at 1:05 p. m. the house adjourned till tomorrow.

Barnes People Win.
NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—The sub-committee today submitted the full committee report recognizing the Barnes people in the regular Republican organization of Albany county. The report was adopted.

Coal Miners to Resume.
MASSILLON, Ohio, Aug. 23.—Operations will be resumed in the coal mines in and about East Palestine, on Sept. 1. After having been out on a strike since April 25, demanding 72½ and 77½ cents, the miners have accepted 65 and 70 cents offered by the operators.

GOING BACK TO HAWAII.

Queen Lili's Envoys Say Their Visit Was Quite Satisfactory.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 23.—Commissioner Samuel Parker, H. A. Wiseman, J. A. Cummings and W. T. Seward, of Hawaii, who went to Washington over a month ago to see President Cleveland on behalf of the deposed Queen Liliuokalani and who returned here Tuesday, will sail for Hawaii today.

In an interview Commissioner Parker said that, Washington dispatches to the contrary, they saw all the great men in Washington, including President Cleveland, and that their interview was satisfactory. "We went to Washington," he said, "to get an answer from the government as to what it intended to do and we got it. It was to the effect that the government would not at present interfere, which was in substance the answer furnished by the senate some time ago. "Still we got much encouragement of a substantial sort, the nature of which is private until we return to Hawaii and render our report to the people who sent us. I can say this much, that it is satisfactory. I stayed at the same hotel with Secretary Gresham and saw and talked with him nearly every day."

FOR THE AMERICA'S CUP.

Next Challenge to Be Issued By the Earl of Lonsdale.

LONDON, Aug. 23.—The Yachtsmen says that it learns upon good authority that the next challenge for the America's cup will be issued by the earl of Lonsdale.

Vanity Fair today says that it hears that the prince of Wales was greatly annoyed at the failure on Saturday last to sail the match race between Britannia and Vigilant. Vanity Fair adds that when Mr. Gould boarded the royal yacht Osborne in order to explain matters, the prince of Wales remarked in an irritated tone: "Don't talk to me about centerboards. I know nothing about them."

WAS INSTANTLY KILLED.

A Teamster Shot by a Man Whose Wife He Assaulted.

LOUISIANA, Mo., Aug. 23.—Oscar Purghan, a Salt River farmer, has shot and killed John Irby, a teamster. Irby, during the absence of Purghan, entered the latter's home and found Mrs. Purghan alone. He criminally assaulted her, forcing his demands with a pistol.

Purghan, learning what had happened, loaded his gun and proceeded in quest of Irby, whom he met in the public road, and sent the contents of two barrels into his head, and body killing him instantly. Purghan at once delivered himself to the authorities.

Two Records Broken.
SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Aug. 23.—J. P. Bliss made a new world's bicycle record, half mile flying start of 54½ sec, also a world's standing start of 58½ sec at Hampden Park yesterday afternoon.

DENOUNCED THE A. P. A.

A Republican National Committeeman Talks of it Cautiously.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—Richard C. Kerens, member of the Republican national committee for Missouri, and whose attempt to have the Missouri Republican convention place itself upon record as opposed to the American Protective association, is in the city.

To a newspaper reporter, who interviewed him upon the matter, Mr. Kerens said that he had no intention of carrying the A. P. A. question before the national committee. He spoke cautiously, however, of the aims and works of the association. "The A. P. A.'s," he said, "are a lot of bushwhackers and political sandbaggers. They swing back and forth between parties, and corrupt ward and city politics of both parties, making use of the organization."

"My fear," continued Mr. Kerens, "is that the attempt of this element, foreign to the party with its pernicious doctrine, to fasten itself to the Republican revenue and to the Missouri Republican party will drive away hundreds of thousands of honest voters. The movement is, in fact, nothing more than a revival of the ancient 'know-nothing' doctrine which, although short-lived, was not without its effect upon our politics. The Republican party has ever been outspoken upon every public question, and has always had the courage of its convictions. I do not think it will dodge this issue now."

"The Republican party is less friendly than any other party to such doctrines and will not fail in my judgment to meet this issue, if it can be called such, manfully."

A SWIFT REVENUE CUTTER.

Will Be in Chicago to Enforce the Harbor Regulations.

BUFFALO, Aug. 23.—A 90-foot revenue vessel named the Calumet will be turned out of David Bell's ship yards within three weeks, ready for service on the lakes. She will be used chiefly in Chicago harbor and she is expected to materially assist in enforcing the new harbor regulations there, as she will be the speediest craft in the harbor.

This is the fifth vessel that has been built here for the United States revenue marine service and the newest ever turned out here. Her cost is $38,000.

Suicide in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Aug. 23.—A. S. Tucker, a prominent board of trade broker, shot and killed himself in Washington park today. No cause is known for the suicide.

Later—Shortly before the news of his death was received at the bus Barnes people in the regular Republican organization of Albany county, the report was adopted.

A notice was posted on the bulletin board announcing that he had failed. The amount of his indebtedness is small.

GOSSIP OF CONGRESS

Senator Vilas Talks About the Special Committee That Was Appointed During the Coxy Movement.

It Soon Found Itself Without Any Business and It Never Held But Two Meetings.

Knights of Labor Officials Sounding Members of Congress in Regard to an Arbitration Measure.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—The select committee on the "prevailing distress" which was appointed by the senate during the height of the Coxy movement, soon found itself without business. It never held but two meetings, and heard only two complaints. One of these came from Morrison I. Swift, of the Boston contingent, industrial army, and the other from one of the leaders of the Galvin company named Ward.

Speaking of the committee today, Senator Vilas, its chairman, said that when it was called into existence there was a general feeling about the senate that, owing to the pressure of the times and the persistence of the industrialists, it would be necessary to formulate some measure that would, in some way meet the conditions which seemed to exist.

The conditions changed so quickly, however, he said, "that soon became evident that the committee would not be called upon to do much. The Chicago strike came on, and with that climax the pressure of the industrialists appeared to diminish rapidly until it had died out entirely. We hear no more of them. While there existed more or less opposition concerning the approach, they have come and gone. There was no voice of protest when the governor of Maryland had those quarantined in the state arrested, or when the governor of Virginia had the crowd on the Virginia side of the Potomac put out of the state by the militia.

"There seems," said Senator Vilas, "to have been a mistaken idea as to the duties of the committee. It was not authorized to investigate the public distress at all, but merely to receive memorials and petitions on the subject and to consider the questions of legislation. Mr. Swift presented a lengthy document and Mr. Elard made a lengthy speech to it, while the president of the bimetallic league sent us a long letter. Beyond these we have received nothing whatever."

Some people obtained the impression that the committee would attempt to right the private wrongs of individuals arising from whatever cause. One gentleman residing in Philadelphia spent his last cent to come to Washington to lay the facts of his case before a rented house by the landlord who, he said, was a wealthy man, before the committee and to obtain redress for the wrong done him. He was told that the committee could take no cognizance of such a case and he appeared greatly surprised that it could not. The committee will continue its duties, but the present Congress if not longer, and it may possibly be made one of the permanent committees of the senate.

Members of the negro national Democratic league are determined to have the Africa-American bureau of organization of the Democratic congressional committee abolished and Robert G. Sill, chief of the bureau, and his colleagues are equally determined that the bureau shall be maintained. The former asserts that the league is the only organization required to meet the demands of the colored voters of the country and to harmonize all factions of negro Democrats, and the latter strenuously insists that the bureau is a necessary adjunct to the committee.

In the letter sent by the league to Senator Faulkner, chairman of the Democratic congressional committee; H. C. Atwood, chairman of the executive committee of the league; and negro Democrats, and the latter strenuously insist that the bureau is a necessary adjunct to the committee.

needs but a moment's consideration of the interests of the party at stake. Continuance of the bureau cannot fail to engender strife and factional opposition. Mr. Atwood called on Senator Faulkner today to urge immediate action in abolishing the bureau.

Two members of the executive board of the Knights of Labor, J. W. Hayes, of Philadelphia, the general secretary-treasurer, and B. H. Martin, of Minneapolis, have been in Washington for two days working for legislation in the interest of labor. They have canvassed those members of the house who are in the city very generally to learn how many can be depended upon to vote for an arbitration measure. They declare that labor organizations will take a larger part in politics this fall than ever before. Records of all members of the house who are in the city for reelection this fall are being compiled and their votes on questions pertaining to the interests of the laboring classes looked into. It is said that these records will be used in the future campaigns for or against the members.

Bishop Bonicum's Troubles.
HASTINGS, Neb., Aug. 23.—The trouble with Bishop Bonicum, of Lincoln, and his priests of this diocese broke out anew here last night when an indignation meeting was held at St. Cecilia's church to take measures to prevent the removal of Father English. AN EXCITING ESCAPE

Tug Rockaway Came Near Being Cut in Two by the Battleship Oregon in Frisco Bay.

While the Oregon Was Going at a Terrible Pace the Tug Crossed Her Bow.

The Battleship Was Carried on by Her Momentum Almost on Top of the Tug.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 23.—The battleship Oregon was out on the bay yesterday and her engines worked beautifully. Coming down the bay from Goat Island Capt. Goodall opened her out for a sport and she fairly flew through the water. She presented a very fine showing as she sped along the water front with a bone in her mouth which seemed to be about 10 feet high. She sent the spray flying in all directions.

While she was going along at this terrible pace the tug Rockaway had the temerity to cross her bow. The little boat barely escaped being cut in two. It was very exciting for a while and those on the tug had an experience which they will remember for a long time. The tug had been sent out with a photographer to take a snap shot at the vessel while she was throwing up the spray. It would have been a better picture if the vessels had been snappier, but as it was the tug came near being snapped.

Capt. Goodall saw the danger, but at first did not imagine that the little boat was going to attempt such a foolhardy experiment. Goodall sounded two whistles and the tug responded with only one. In a moment the greatest confusion prevailed, and it seemed impossible for the Oregon to miss the Rockaway, as the latter kept right on her course. The tug was going at a big rate and Capt. Goodall rang to back the warship at full speed.

Her impetus could not be checked at such short notice and she was carried on by her momentum almost on top of the tug. The latter's stern was under the Oregon's bow, and the next moment she was lost to sight from the shore. A big roller from the Oregon had struck the tug's stern and actually pushed the vessel out of harm's way.

TO TALK ARBITRATION.
State Board Will Try to Settle the New Bedford Strike.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Aug. 23.—Mayor Brownell has invited the state board of arbitration to be present at the conference of the strikers and manufacturers tonight. The labor councils have voted to attend. The manufacturers are noncommittal, but it is thought that they will take no notice of the call. It is reported that the Bennett and Columbia mill overseers have been ordered to report for duty Monday morning, but the officials refuse to confirm the story.

Adulterated Wine.

"I know of an old soldier who had chronic diarrhea of long standing to have been permanently cured by taking Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy when three members of his family were sick with dysentery. This small bottle cured them all and he had some left which he gave to George W. Baker, a prominent merchant of the place, Lewiston, N. C., and it cured him of the same complaint. When troubled with dysentery, diarrhoea, colic or cholera morbus give this remedy a trial and you will be more than pleased with the result. The praise that naturally follows its introduction and use has made it very popular. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by all druggists.

WEST DULUTH ITEMS

Several Checks Have Been Presented Lately at the Manufacturers' Bank Which Prove to be Bogus.

They Come From Clouet and Are Signed by T. McLean, Unknown at the Bank.

Program to be Given Tomorrow Evening at the Concert for Miss Sawyer—Other News.

The bogus check swindler is again abroad in the land. Three checks have been lately presented at the Manufacturers' bank signed by parties whom Cashier Smith does not know, and who, he says, never held an account with his bank. Two of them came from Clouet and one was presented yesterday by D. Martineau, an Italian, who keeps a store on Fifty-seventh avenue west. The bogus paper is all signed by T. McLean. The endorsements on the back of the several checks are evidently in the same handwriting, but with different names. Mr. Smith says that he thinks there are two parties in the swindle, one who signed the instruments and the endorser.

Gave One Warning.

The West Duluth milk men had their fluid sampled this morning by the deputy dairy inspector. One man was found without his name and number on the wagon and another was criticized for lack of cleanliness with his cans. The inspector warned him of the fact and told him that he would rather find his milk watered than in poisonous cans. Taken as a whole the inspector stated that the West Duluth people were getting very good milk. When told that some of the milkmen here were feeding their cows slops from the boarding houses and hotels he said that such cases were not within his jurisdiction, being unfortunately left out of the provision of the dairy law.

West Duluth Briefs.

W. F. Byrnes has moved from an extended trip to California.

The Knights of Pythias dance will take place this evening at Great Eastern hall.

M. E. Parsons, of Grand Forks, N. D., is here visiting relatives.

J. A. Scott, of Fifty-sixth avenue west, has returned from a visit at New Richmond, Wis.

Rev. T. M. Price, pastor of the Congregational church, has returned from his vacation and will conduct his usual services next Sunday.

P. F. Smith, proprietor of the Bennett, was fined $50 for keeping his bar open after hours.

S. O. Kidd left today for an Eastern trip.

R. O. Arigen, of Marquette, is in the city on business.

The West Duluth Scrubs expect to play ball some day this week with the New Duluths.

Congressman Shaw Dying.

Eau Claire, Wis., Aug. 23.—The condition of Congressman George H. Shaw is very critical and unless a radical change occurs it is feared he will not live through tonight.

The Weather.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN.
Aug. 23.—The barometer is highest north of Duluth, where it has risen five-tenths of an inch since yesterday morning; it has fallen slightly in the upper lake region, and is lowest north of Lake Superior.

It is shown that a strong wind from the west
and south-west is blowing in Western Tennessee,
and scattered showers occurred yesterday
in Eastern Minnesota; elsewhere the weather has continued fair.

It is decidedly cooler in the Red River and upper Missouri valleys, and warmer in the upper lake region.

afternoon; cooler in East Wisconsin Friday morning; light, variable winds, becoming fresh,
westerly; slightly cooler Friday afternoon.

For Minnesota:
Fair; cooler, northerly winds.

Will Boom McKinley.

A report comes from Chicago that H.
H. Kohlhaas has purchased a controlling interest in the New York Times.

There have been rumors for several months past that Mr. Kohlhaas was negotiating for the purchase of a New York paper,
and therefore the announcement that he has secured the Times does not come as a surprise. Mr. Kohlhaas, who is now on his way to Europe for a brief rest, was until recently part owner and business manager of the Chicago Inter-Ocean, selling his interest in that paper to William Penn Nixon for a sum said to be equal to that which he has paid for the New York paper.

When Mr. Kohlhaas purchased an interest in the Inter-Ocean several years ago and became its manager, it was his first venture in the newspaper business. Heretofore he had been amassing a fortune
in the bakery business and by speculating
in real estate, and many of his friends feared that in such a precarious
business as the conduct of a large daily newspaper he would lose a part of his wealth. In this they were agreeably disappointed, as Mr. Kohlhaas from the start became one of the most aggressive
and successful newspaper managers in the country. He expended large sums in improving the Inter-Ocean, but it was a good investment, as the paper became one of the best in the West and gained a large circulation and advertising patronage, which it still retains.

What Mr. Kohlhaas will be able to do with the New York Times remains to be seen. He will find in New York a much different field to that which he has been accustomed to in Chicago,
but there is no good reason
why he should not push the Times rapidly to the front. There will be much speculation as to the political complexion of the Times under Mr. Kohlhaas's management, but it is safe to predict that it will be straightened Republican and will boom Governor McKinley for president.
Of late years the Times has been classed as a Mugwump paper and it has been a consistent worshipper at the shrine of President Cleveland. Mr. Kohlhaas will hardly assume such an attitude. He is an outspoken and uncompromising Republican and a great admirer and warm
personal friend of Governor McKinley.
The influence which the Times will be able to exert in New York and other Eastern states in favor of McKinley's nomination for president will be considerable.

Under the new tariff law a tax of 2
cents a pack is levied on all playing cards. The tax applies at once and every dealer, whether wholesaler or retailer, is compelled to make a return of the number of packs he has in stock the day the tariff bill goes into effect. This return must be made to the collector of internal revenues of the district in which such dealer or manufacturer resides and must be made on oath.

The constitutional convention in New York has declared against the limit of $500 damages which may be collected from a railroad for killing a human being. Other states should follow the example. Under the existing law in many states only $500 can be collected
where a man is killed in a railroad accident, while $50,000 or more, if a jury
says so, can be collected for a broken leg.

The Chicago Times says that on the main street of Lexington, Ky., a church
and a turf club stand facing each other.
The situation is grotesque, in itself, but is made doubly so by the connection of church and club by a rope stretched across the thoroughfare, from which depends a banner exhorting all passers-by to vote for W. C. P. Breckinridge for congress.

Turning the Tables.

From reports received at the state department, it appears that the United States has at least turned the tables on England and is now shipping to that country carpets of the value of nearly $500,000 annually. To make the case
still stronger, it is stated that these carpets are the finest Axminsters, supposed here to be produced in perfection only in England, and the trade is steadily increasing.

It is pleasing to note that this country is steadily wresting from England the commercial power which that nation has so long possessed. If it be possible to sell American carpets in England, in direct competition with manufacturers who have attained the reputation of being the best carpet weavers in the world, it should be possible for American manufacturers in other lines to enter into competition with their English rivals.

The success of our carpet makers will encourage other manufacturers to renew efforts in this direction. And if we can compete with the Englishman on his own little island, surely we can compete with him at other points throughout the world.

The export trade of the United States in the future, and the time is probably not far distant, when the balance of trade
will be largely in our favor.

The Michigan legislature will elect two United States senators next winter and even the Chicago Herald is forced to admit that both will probably be Republicans. The opening for senatorial aspirants caused by the double vacancy is wide enough to allure J. A. Hubbell, of Houghton, from his obscurity. Hubbell was chairman of the national Republican committee in 1880, and has been a power in upper peninsula politics for many years.

The latest manifestation of idiocy in connection with the "Commonwealth"
army is the adoption of a prison stripe uniform by the "soldiers." This is selfabasement run mad, says the Kansas City Star. The result will be to excite contempt and to make every man who voluntarily assumes such a garb an object of ridicule. Persons who have no respect for themselves cannot hope to enjoy the respect and sympathy of their fellows.

The following, from the Louisville Courier-Journal, states a fact that deserves the attention of everyone: "Times are hard, but they are made harder by unreasonable and unfounded complaints.
If everyone would meet his obligations
as promptly as possible, instead of im-puting his voluntary failure to a depression in business, the times would at once exhibit a marvelous improvement."

Congressman Holman, of Indiana, who gained the name of "Objector" Holman
owing to his persistent objection in congress to bills authorizing expenditure of money, has been renominated, and probably will be re-elected. At the expiration of this term, Mr. Holman will have been a member of congress thirty years.

A Boston spiritualist has received the following interesting message:
"You will get telephone to Mars and other planets. You will see remarkable discoveries and inventions during the next few years. You will live to see more marvels than have occurred in the past. The Atlantic cable is nothing in comparison." CYRUS W. FIELD.

Frank Lawler, the noted Chicago politician, who has been an unsuccessful
applicant for nearly every office there is in the gift of President Cleveland, was nominated yesterday for congress by the Populists. As Lawler has a strong personal following among the Chicago Democrats, he will make an interesting fight.

The police records of Portland, Me., show that the arrests for drunkenness
are more there in proportion to the population than in any other city in the United States. Yet Maine has a prohibition law.

My boy was taken with a disease re-

THE BARNUM SHOW.

Some Old Time Ideas That Have Been Improved Upon This Year.

The Barnum & Bailey greatest show on earth will visit Duluth on Saturday. In the character of the exhibition, there has been considerable of a change since last season, it being the desire of the management to remove as far as possible the opportunity of saying that the circus is the "same old thing." To begin with, the spectacle, which has been a feature of the Barnum & Bailey show for several seasons, has been dropped, and the circus program has been proportionately lengthened. Several old-time acts have been revived, notably the tournaments of tumbling and leaping. With this old feature, which, in accordance with the Barnum & Bailey scale of magnitude, is participated in by a large company of acrobats, the talking and singing clowns have made their reappearance.

Of course pantomime and acrobatic burlesques continue to monopolize the power of the clowns as of old, but the Shakespearean jester, the low comedy punster, and the funny fellow who sings with the other clowns for laughing chorus, again have place. The clowns are mentioned only as showing on what scale everything is done, with the Barnum & Bailey shows, for there are twenty of them in all. There are sixteen back-back riders and any number of big circus acts. In the management are Chiko and Johanna, the only pair of giant gorillas living in captivity, who are so great a curiosity as to be alone worth all that is charged for admission to the entire show.

Another Scrap in Sight.
James Freaney, who announces himself as the champion lightweight of California, has a challenge out to fight any lightweight in the Northwest a limited number of rounds or to a finish, within two weeks, the match to come off in two weeks if a suitable purse can be secured. The challenge was accepted on behalf of Harry Finnick, the Arkansas Kid, who knocked out Ed Shephard, a few weeks ago. It will probably come off under the management of Frank Hayes. It is expected to be a finish fight with four gloves for $100 and 75 per cent of gate receipts to the winner and 25 per cent to the loser. The contestants will be required to weigh in at 135 pounds.

Wants a Receiver Named.
George N. Holland has petitioned the district court for the appointment of a receiver for the Duluth Iron Mining and Development company. It is alleged that an execution issued on a judgment for $3771.84, in favor of the plaintiff and C. E. Shannon, was returned unsatisfied, the sheriff finding only $220 in royalties on which to levy. Judge Engsig granted an order to show cause returnable in thirty days.

Forty Acres Sold.
Forty acres in 22-49-14 were sold yesterday by order of the district court for $300 an acre. The order was the result of an old partition case between F. W. Higgins, the purchaser, and the Blood heirs.

Carlson County Suits.
Mark Downs, an old Carlson county settler, sued Monday at his camp on Moose lake. He has been drinking heavily for several months and has been living as a hermit. He was well known here owning considerable St. Louis county property.

When the Liver Reminds Us
For our neglect of it by inflicting upon us sick headache, by dying the skin yellow, coating the tongue with fur, producing vertigo, pains in the right side and souring the breath, we are little less than lunatics if we disregard the chastisement. If we call Hostetter's Stomach Bitters to our aid, tranquility and health follow speedily, and with the departure of the symptoms mentioned, departs also irregularity of the bowels, which invariably attends disorder of the liver. In malarial complaints the liver is always involved, and it is a fortunate circumstance that this fine anti-bilious medicine is also the finest specific in existence for every form of malarial disease. Nor is it less efficacious for dyspepsia, failure of appetite and strength, nervousness and a rheumatic tendency. It renews the ability to sleep, and greatly promotes convalescence after wasting diseases.

Melody on the Bay.
The Bohemian club tonight will present its Noah's Ark concert on the covered scow J. W. Fee. The program is one of the finest ever prepared in the city and includes numbers by some of our leading artists. The club gives about eight choruses, light, humorous and catchy. This is the first occasion of the kind ever given here and promises to draw a crowd. The Ark leaves Northern Pacific dock at 8 o'clock. Tickets 35 cents, can be obtained at the dock or from any member of the club.

EDWARD FULLER DEAD

Telegram Received This Morning Announcing His Death Yesterday at His Former Home, Skowhegan, Me.

Complications Following the Extraction of Some Troublesome Teeth Caused Death—Will be Buried Tomorrow.

Tragic Death of Charles Prince, of Cloquet, Formerly of Duluth, a Gun Being Accidentally Discharged.

A telegram was received in Duluth this morning announcing the death of Edward Fuller at his home in Skowhegan, Me., yesterday afternoon. About six weeks ago Mr. Fuller, who was a well-known and popular Duluth lawyer, was called home by his mother's illness. He took with him his wife and child and arrived in time to witness his mother's death.

When he left here he was suffering from ulcerated teeth. He had four extractions and blood poisoning set in. This came near causing his death but he grew better. A bad cough then fastened itself upon him to the great alarm of his physicians. This with other complications caused his death.

Edward Fuller was born 32 years ago in Skowhegan, Maine. In 1885 he graduated from Colby university in Maine and went from there to the Harvard law school, graduating from there. He was married in 1887 at Roxbury, Mass., to Mabel W. Porter, who with Margaret, a daughter 3 years of age, survives him. He came to Duluth about six years ago and has ever since been a resident here. He was a member of the bar association of which he was a member has also been a member of the Bohemian and Union clubs.

The funeral takes place tomorrow at Skowhegan, Me.

Charles Prince, of Cloquet, the Victim of an Accidental Gun Discharge.
Charles F. Prince, teller in Prince, Sheldon & Co's bank at Cloquet, and formerly of Duluth and well known here, was accidentally shot and instantly killed yesterday morning at Cloquet. With Charles Quinn, a friend, and Miss Stewart, and Miss Wright, he was going boat riding. Bears had been seen in the neighborhood and he took along a loaded heavily with buckshot. Prince picked it up with the muzzle toward him to place it in the boat. It struck the bottom rather hard and the charge exploded. The shot passed clear through the body.

Coroner Sukeforth, of Carlton county, was notified but decided to hold no inquest. F. M. Prince, of Minneapolis, brother of deceased, was notified. The body will be taken to Waltham, Mass., for burial.

Her Ridesalben's Concert.
The "Forelle Quintet," by Schubert, to be played by the Schubert Quartet club next Tuesday is considered the greatest chamber music. The chamber songs have written. It has received its name, "Forelle Trout," from one of Schubert's songs, entitled "The Trout." The theme of this song is used as a second part of the quintet, and the variations written about it are among the best ever composed by any classical writer.

HEADQUARTERS ROUTE.

To Pittsburg via the "Milwaukee" for the G. A. R. Encampment.

As per General Orders No. 5, arrangements have been made by the department commander for a special train via the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway, which road has been selected as the headquarters route from the state of Minnesota, to run through from Minneapolis and Paul to Pittsburg, to carry the commander and staff and also the comrades of the state to the twenty-eighth national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, to be held at Pittsburg, Sept. 10 to 15.

It is hoped that all comrades who can possibly arrange to attend this encampment will join this special train with the view that the department of Minnesota go into Pittsburg with flying colors.

The above special train will consist of free reclining chair cars, in addition to sleeping cars. Leave Minneapolis, 7:30 p. m. (from "Milwaukee" depot) and St. Paul at 8:10 p. m. (Union depot), Sept. 8. Arrive Pittsburg, 6:10 a. m., Monday, Sept. 10. G. A. R. comrades and friends desiring space in the free reclining chair cars or the sleeping cars should communicate at once with the undersigned. The rate for the round trip from the Northwest to Pittsburg will be one half fare to Chicago, plus $10. Chicago to Pittsburg and return. (From St. Paul and Minneapolis to Pittsburg and return, $21.50). Tickets will be sold Sept. 8 and 9, extreme limit being Sept. 25. This is rare opportunity for an extremely cheap rate to the East during the delightful month of September.

Facilities and accommodations afforded will be unsurpassed.

J. T. CONLEY, Asst. Gen'l. Pass. Agent, St. Paul, Minn.

The Mermaid will be out in the bay tonight with the Bohemians.

FOUR BLACK WEEKS.

Death's Busiest Harvest Time Among the Babies.

August Heat Adds Hundreds to the Mortality Rate.

Lactated Food Keeps Babies' Strength and Saves Their Lives.

More persons will die during the coming four weeks than at any other time of the year.

"And the greatest proportion of these deaths," says the New York Press, "will strike down children under 5 years of age, and from six to eight out of every ten will be traced by the board of health to the ignorance and carelessness of mothers who will yet mourn the loss of their children as sincerely and deeply as any mother could."

The greatest source of mortality this month and next will be diarrhoea and colic, due to improper food, which sows the seed of disease. Hot, wilting nights ripen them into ill fruition.

Boards of health, physicians and mothers are called upon to be vigilant, for which babies' lives may be absolutely insured against cholera infantum and the wasting disorders of hot weather. One is healthy mother's milk, and the other is lactated food.

FLORENCE MARY HARKER.

This step does when a physician is called because the "baby is not well," he sees that all that is needed is a more nourishing diet, and after advising such a rich but easily assimilated nutriment as lactated food the child shows right off a gain in weight and color and liveliness.

This step does when a physician is called because the "baby is not well," he sees that all that is needed is a more nourishing diet, and after advising such a rich but easily assimilated nutriment as lactated food the child shows right off a gain in weight and color and liveliness.

Sunshine is food; it is meat for strong men, baby, young, the aged and the feeble are fed and warmed by the fierce heat. For them as well as for mothers trying to nurse their children, lactated food is the best. It is quick and easily keeps them strong as lactated food. Every intelligent mother at once understands why it is possible to feed her baby on lactated food so rapidly and to give strength to babies and persons with delicate stomachs when her physician explains to her the simple ingredients of this preparation—sugar, milk, and the nutritive qualities of wheat, barley and oats.

"The weight and size, not the age of the baby, should determine its food," says Dr. A. Siebert, of the New York Polyclinic Children's hospital. At the first indication that a baby is thriving, give it lactated food. But be sure to feed it regularly. Lactated food will plump out the cheeks of thin, pale-lipped babies and make them stand steady on their feet. It is the best food for the teething period there is no substitute for lactated food. It resembles in every respect healthy mother's milk. It is particularly grateful to nervous, fretful children who are hungry and inefficiently nourished, yet find their usual food disagreeable to their weak and disturbed stomachs.

Ask the first mother you talk with what she knows about lactated food. You will find that many mothers who find a mother who has brought up a family who has not a personal knowledge of this splendid nutriment. Says Mrs. D. C. Baker, of Tiffin, Ohio, whose baby is shown above:

"We have been so well pleased with the use of lactated food for our baby that we feel like doing something to further the use of it by special recommendation. Our baby was very delicate when born and weighed but three pounds. We were very soon compelled to resort to artificial food, and by the advice of Dr. H. C. Wells, our family physician, we commenced using lactated food, which time she has made a steady, healthy growth, and has never had one single day of sickness in sixteen months, and we have never lost one hour of sleep on account of teething."

HIT BY A BRICK

Henry Berger Received Injuries in Old Tribune Ruins at Minneapolis That May Prove Fatal.

Struck on the Head With a Brick and Fell Thirty Feet Off an Elevator.

Freeman Lane, the Well Known Republican Politician, Has Announced His Allegiance to Populist Doctrines.

Minneapolis Water Power Company Wants Compensation for Water Used by the City of St. Paul.

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 24.—Henry Berger, a laborer, living at 238 Sixteenth avenue south, was struck on the top of his head by a falling brick about 5 o'clock last evening, while at work in the old Tribune ruins, and received injuries which are liable to prove fatal. His escape from instant death was miraculous. His labor consisted of mixing mortar in the basement and loading it onto an elevator which operated between the basement and top floor. He had just finished loading the car when the brick struck him, rendering him insensible.

He fell onto the elevator, which began to ascend, taking him with it. It was not until the elevator reached the third story windows that the men on the upper portion of the building noticed the form of their fellow workman. They were horror-stricken a moment. He particularly roared toward the edge and fell to the basement below.

Berger seemed to strike on his back. The laborers on the roof, however, had been killed instantly, but there was life in the body when they reached it, despite the fall of 30 feet.

FREE LANE A POPULIST.

Donors Republican Financial Views and Senator Washburn.

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 24.—Freeman P. Lane, the well known lawyer and Republican politician, at a political meeting last night announced his allegiance to the Populist doctrine. He particularly denounced Republican financial views and Senator Washburn and demanded the passage of resolutions demanding the forfeiture of certain railroad franchises; demanding the indictment of Guaranty Loan and bank officials and that proceedings be instituted against Nelson, Clough and Kenyon together with a resolution which reads:

Whereas, approaching 4,000,000 acres of alleged swamp lands have been illegally conveyed or granted to sundry railroad companies; therefore, be it Resolved, that we demand that the auditor and governor of this state shall not convey any more lands under said grants to any railroad company, and that the attorney general commence suit to recover all lands heretofore so conveyed.

AN IMPORTANT CASE.

Minneapolis Parties Want Compensation for Water Used by St. Paul.

ST. PAUL, Aug. 24.—Judge Gillilan, of the state supreme court, has granted a writ of error in the case of the Minneapolis Water Power company against the city water board of St. Paul for appeal to the United States supreme court. The plaintiffs, who have water power rights granted them by the Mississippi, in territorial days, contend that they should be compensated for the water taken from a feed stream of the river by St. Paul for city purposes.

The supreme court has sustained the Hennepin district court in a decision in favor of the defendant, but, regarding the litigation as involving federal questions, it will now go to the United States supreme court for decision. The point at issue is one upon which no precedent is established, and therefore the case is looked upon as quite important.

His Neck Broken.

OWATONNA, Minn., Aug. 24.—Henry Stevens was killed instantly yesterday afternoon by falling off a load of straw. He and a companion were descending a hill near town when the neck yoke broke, throwing both to the ground. Stevens' neck was broken.

Work for Unemployed.

ST. PAUL, Aug. 24.—Nearly 500 laborers will be given for over three months in dredging Lake Como, which has been decided upon by the park board. The army of the unemployed will be reduced therefore by that many.

Summer School Closed.

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 24.—The summer school, or educational congress at the state university, closed its session today with examinations for teachers' certificates.

Was Unsuccessful.

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, Aug. 24.—Joseph Bishop, of Columbus, secretary of the state board of arbitration, returned home today after endeavoring unsuccessfully for two days to bring about a settlement of the street railway office trouble. The most he accomplished was to bring Manager Anderson and the union together. The lines continue in operation with non-union men, but the boycott by the trades' union is continued.

A Small Skirmish.

LONDON, Ga., Aug. 24.—It is talked of in railroad circles that an effort will be made before the next legislature to break up the Southern Railway combine so far as the East Tennessee road is concerned. It is claimed that under the the Richmond & Danville and the East Tennessee were competitors and that section 168 of Georgia forbids corporations from owning stock or controlling competing lines.

Arrested in Sweden.

GOTHENBERG, Sweden, Aug. 24.—

ON ITS RECORD

Mr. McMillin Makes a Speech Giving a Summary of What the Present Congress Has Done.

A Semi-Official Showing From a Political Standpoint of What the Majority Has Accomplished.

Repealed the Force Laws and Authorized the Taxation of Greenbacks and United States Currency.

Has Reduced the Appropriations and Passed the Most Stringent Laws Against Trusts Ever Enacted.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Representative McMillin has inserted in the Congressional Record a speech, intended as a summary of what the present congress has accomplished. Mr. McMillin's associates have deferred to him in preparing this statement and it is a semi-official showing from a political standpoint of what the majority has done. After reviewing what laws it has heretofore framed, Mr. McMillin says:

"I come to a few things it has done during this administration. It has repealed all force laws and left elections free. It found a system of oppressive laws on the statute books authorizing the use of troops at the polls and has repealed them. In the dark days of the republic, the Republican party also enacted a law authorizing the United States supervisors of elections and deputy marshals to be appointed by the federal courts wholly independent of the states where the elections were to be held. They were expected to dominate and did dominate the elections.

"Thousands of men were arrested without cause and imprisoned within the states of New York, Ohio and Indiana in a single election and imprisoned to prevent them from voting. They were turned out after it was too late to vote without the formality of indictment, pre-sentment and arraignment or trial. The Democratic party determined this should not continue. To repeal it, it forced an extra session of congress in 1879 and passed the repealing law. Mr. Hayes vetoed it. But it has kept up the fight nearly a sixth of a century and at last has triumphed during this administration.

"It has repealed the law authorizing the president to levy and remit taxes. It cannot conceive of a surrender of a great prerogative more dangerous and undemocratic than this. We denounced it at the time in this hall. We went forth to the people and denounced it. We pledged them in our platform that if entrusted with power we would take this ancient right from the president and give it to the people's representatives. We have now kept the promise.

"This congress has also authorized the states to tax greenbacks and United States currency. For years the exemption of these has been a crying ill. The law authorizing the issue of greenbacks and the treasury warrants under the Sherman act exempted them from state, county and municipal taxation. Hundreds of millions thereby escaped all taxation. Individuals escaped it by having their funds in bank voluntarily invested in greenbacks or treasury warrants on the day for assessment. Banks accomplished the same object in the same way.

"No doubt can exist that in some banks the United States warrants were placed to the credits of mere individuals on the day for assessment to escape municipal and state taxes. It is also charged that certain banks would aid each other in different states by changing their treasury warrants deposits from one to the other to suit the different days for assessment existing in different states. All this is stopped now. Under the bill introduced and passed by the gentleman from Indiana (Mr. Cooper) all United States currency heretofore escaping taxation will be reached by the tax gatherer. United States treasury warrants known as greenbacks and the bills issued under the Sherman bill amount to about half a billion dollars, and the country owes him a debt of gratitude for his patriotic exertion."

Mr. McMillin next reviews the reductions of appropriations heretofore set forth by Representative Sayers, of the appropriation committee. He then continues: "It has passed the most stringent law against trusts ever enacted in this country. At the same time the attorney general has instituted proceedings in the courts to try to dissolve illegal trusts.

"The amendment offered by the senator from Alabama (Mr. Morgan) carries into law the most effective means ever devised for controlling and curbing the power of trusts. A law against them was passed last congress, but it dealt with the question in a way so mild and gingerly that it has not been found sufficient to crush these combinations that have been fostered under protection. The Democratic party was pledged to the enactment of more stringent legislation against trusts. It has kept this pledge and offers this as its fulfillment.

"It has inaugurated an income tax, thereby taking taxes off want and putting them on wealth. It is true the senate amendment has changed somewhat this feature of the bill and has released some that ought to have been taxed; but it remains a great benefit to the American people. It found the treasury bankrupt and by the tariff bill is not only replenishing it, but at the same time producing taxes.

"Mr. McMillin then reviews the repeal of the Sherman silver law and gives an elaborate summary of the tariff.

A Conductor Killed. MADISON, Wis., Aug. 24.—Richard Goggin, a freight conductor on the Northwestern was killed last night by being thrown from a train in a fight with thugs near Jefferson Junction. His home is near Union Center.

WARLIKE AT BLUEFIELDS

The Nicaraguan Troops Have Made Prisoners of a British Consular Agent and Eight Foreigners.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Advices received here from Bluefields evidently later than those received at Colon say that the Nicaraguan troops are returning from Bluefields and that they reached Greytown yesterday, bringing with them a Mr. Hatch, the British consular agent, and eight foreigners as prisoners. It has also been announced that a British war vessel arrived at Greytown yesterday evening.

New Orleans advices received here last night described the arrest of Mr. Hatch and the arrest of Capt. G. W. Wilbanks, an American who accepted the position of judge under Mosquito government, and several Nicaraguan officers. Mr. Hatch succeeded in dispatching a note to the English cruiser off Bluefields and Mr. Seat, the United States consul, communicated with the United States cruiser Colombia. It is believed that Mr. Hatch is charged with having incited the Jamaicans to riot and bloodshed.

When these advices left Bluefields that place was in a state of great excitement and it was said that the Americans would demand, by force of arms if necessary, the release of the innocent men, and the United States cruiser Colombia and British cruiser Mohawk were expected to take action in the matter.

Question of Superiority. LONDON, Aug. 24.—The Pall Mall Gazette publishes this afternoon a long review of yachting contests, concluding as follows: "While making full allowance for the Britannia's advantages in her skipper and crew, so large a proportion as twelve to five victories in her favor seems to determine the question of the relative superiority the inanimate portions of the Vigilant and Britannia in favor of Watson's hull and Ratzeff sails."

Presidential Appointments. WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—The president today sent the following nominations to the senate: William C. Doyle, to be postmaster at Syracuse, Ill.; Samuel Puleston, marshal of the Northern district of Florida; James Daugherty, surveyor of customs, Peoria; Robert Macreedy, of Wisconsin, to be consul of the United States at Leith, Scotland.

To Break Up a Combine. ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 24.—It is talked of in railroad circles that an effort will be made before the next legislature to break up the Southern Railway combine so far as the East Tennessee road is concerned. It is claimed that under the the Richmond & Danville and the East Tennessee were competitors and that section 168 of Georgia forbids corporations from owning stock or controlling competing lines.

PANTON & WATSON.

WILL BE A SURPRISE

Reports Reach Washington That the Minnesota Republicans Will Not Have a Walkover This Year.

The Growth of the Populist Element May Prove a Surprise to Both Old Parties.

The Populists May Have a Controlling Vote in the Legislature, Which is Washburn's Danger.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—[Special to The Herald.]—If information which comes to Washington from Minnesota in reference to the political situation in that state can be relied upon, the Republicans are by no means going to have the walkover that was expected by the leaders in that state a few months ago. It now appears that the Populist element in the state has been strengthened greatly, and there are indications that the Populist vote in the North Star state in November will be a surprise both to the Republicans and Democrats. Information has been received here that the Populists are continually growing stronger in the Sixth congressional district. Whether this augurs ill for the Republicans or Democrats is not known. The Democrats here, from Minnesota, however, are of the opinion that in the congressional fight the Republicans will suffer a worse loss, on account of the increase in the Populist vote, than will the Democrats. It is doubtful a fact that Representative Baldwin is not so certain as he was some time ago that if he is re-nominated for congress he will have smooth sailing for re-election. The big loss that both the old parties are likely to sustain, by the increase in the Populist vote, may injure Baldwin fully as much, if not more, than his Republican competitor.

The indications now, too, point to the re-election of Boen in the Seventh district, notwithstanding the fact that those who have watched his record here are satisfied that he is useless to his constituents and it will be a public calamity for the people of his district to have him returned. It cannot be figured out, however, by the Republican leaders just now how they can elect Eddy, the Republican candidate who has been put up against Boen.

The Populists may also cut some figure against Representative Fletcher in the Hennepin county district. In the event that they should decide to endorse Erickson, the Democratic nominee, Mr. Fletcher would have an uphill fight to secure a re-election. In the first three districts there is sure to be a large increase in the Populist vote. There is danger for Tawney in the First district because of this uncertainty in the Populist element. It may defeat him.

It is now conceded also that Representative Hall is not going to have a very easy time to secure a re-election. The Populists in this district are going to cut into the Democratic vote almost entirely, according to reports coming from that district to Washington. While the Republican state ticket may be elected, notwithstanding the increase in the Populist vote, it is not so certain now that the Populists will have a controlling vote in the Minnesota legislature by an alliance with the Democrats or Republicans. If this should prove true, of course, Senator Washburn would be in a large measure for re-election. This is one danger apprehended by his friends.

The campaign in Minnesota this fall, according to both the Democrats and the Republican national campaign committees, in Washington is certain to be lively. Many of the Republican senators do not consider it at all essential that the bill repealing the provisions in the tariff bill for the redemption from the revenue tax of alcohol used in the arts should pass, and while the majority of them are willing that the Democrats should have their way about this matter, they admit, wisely administered, the provision is an entirely proper one. Hence their motive in preventing the transaction of business by the senate in the absence of a quorum. They say it is not based upon the desire to annoy the Democrats so far as this measure is concerned.

The principal opposition made to the provision for free alcohol for the arts and manufactures is that it will be extremely difficult, if not impossible, to make regulations which will not permit gross frauds. The treasury department has raised this point. Republican senators who have given attention to the subject think it will be possible to reduce the possibilities of fraud to a minimum, and they say the details for such regulations as will accomplish this result are found in the amendment to the Mills bill on this subject which passed the senate in 1888, but was not agreed to by the house.

This measure was presented in the senate during the pending there of the Wilson tariff bill as amended by Senator Platt, but was not acted upon. This measure provided for private bonded warehouses in which distilled spirits of alcoholic strength to be used in the arts and manufactures, might be stored, having been removed from public bonded warehouses in original casks, or packages, properly stamped. Each of these private warehouses was to be placed in the joint custody of the storekeeper, the proprietor not being allowed to enter it except in the presence of the former.

Before receiving the spirits from the public warehouse the proprietor of the private establishment was to be required to give a bond, stating the purpose for which the spirits were to be used, and heavy penalties were imposed in case of a violation of the bond or of the act as a whole. The amendment also provides for the removal of spirits from the private warehouse to the store room of the manufacturer, which removal could be made without paying the revenue tax upon compliance with the law and regulations.

It was then to be placed in a store room which should have but one door, and to which only the proprietor and the revenue officer were to have access, and the spirits were not to be taken out of the original casks until they should be withdrawn for immediate use. The bill also provided that the revenue officials could have access to all parts of the manufactory and should report to the internal revenue monthly.

The same bill provided for the methylation of spirits in private bonded warehouses and their withdrawal free of tax after undergoing this process. The Republican senators call attention to the fact that the provision in the tariff bill which the Democrats desire to repeal leaves it to the secretary to make all necessary regulations for putting the law into effect, and they think that if the law is not strictly enforced, the provision may be allowed to stand with safety and even with benefit.

GAMBLE AND PICKLER.
Republican Candidates for Congress in South Dakota.

YANKTON, S. D., Aug. 24.—R. J. Gamble and John A. Pickler were nominated by the Republican convention for congress amid great excitement and the booming of cannon. The vote stood: Pickler, 10; Gamble, 9. The convention was held at the Y. M. C. A. building. Only one ballot was taken, but delegates were permitted to vote for two congressmen at a time.

The state ticket is as follows: For governor, C. H. Sheldon; for lieutenant governor, Charles N. Herried; for secretary of state, Thomas Thorsen; for auditor, J. E. Hipple; for treasurer, Kirk G. Phillips; for attorney general, C. E. Crawford. The platform includes the following:

"We favor the use of both silver and gold as money at a ratio of 16 to 1, confining the coinage of silver to the American product at the net cost of the actual expense of coinage, and we demand that silver as well as gold shall be a legal tender for the payment of all debts, both public and private; and we pledge the congressional nominees of this convention to support the principles herein contained."

THE INDIAN COAL MINERS.
Effects of the Long Strike are Disastrous to All Concerned.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—The condition of the coal mines in Indian territory is described in detail in the annual report of United States Mine Inspector L. W. Bryan. The output of the mines was 1,000,000 tons of coal, and the number of men employed was 10,000. The strike of the Choctaw Coal and Railway company's miners, the report says: "A company of soldiers is now camped at Krebs and the men at all of their strip pits have gone to work. The company now hopes to be able to continue work untroubled. None of the coal mines, however, have yet started up. The effects of this prolonged strike are disastrous to all concerned."

A GRATEFUL POTAGE

Governor Altgeld Makes a Sarcastic Reply to Judge Cooley's Criticisms on His Recent Course.

Says the Judge Was Such a Friend of Corporations That He Was Beaten in Michigan.

Grover Cleveland Having Given Him a Fat Office Once, He Must Now Support Him.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 24.—Governor Altgeld has been interviewed today regarding Judge Cooley's address before the American Bar association criticizing Altgeld's protest to President Cleveland against sending federal troops to Chicago during the late strike. Governor Altgeld said: "Judge Cooley's reputation is liable to have an injustice done to it unless the people will discriminate between the real Cooley and the later Cooley."

"In addressing the Bar association he was in the position of a fashionable preacher who, if he wished to be popular with his audience, had to cater to its taste. The American Bar association is a small body of men, most of whom have corporate clients. They are shrewd and able men who know where fat comes from. A lawyer whose first term as president of the Bar was at Saratoga and had a good time and attended a bar meeting."

"Judge Cooley's utterances there must be taken with some others recently made, and the question is, how much importance attaches to them simply because they came from Judge Cooley? Nearly thirty years ago when Judge Cooley was in his prime, when he was a teacher in the Ann Harbor law school he wrote a book on constitutional law, which was an able work and gave him a reputation. In this work he points out the limitations upon the federal government and calls attention to the constant danger that arises from the encroachments of a central power through the agency of a standing army."

"Among other things he said: 'A standing army is a necessary evil, but a free government and is more dreaded by the people as an instrument of oppression than a tyrannical monarch or a despotic emperor.' He was a teacher in the Ann Harbor law school he wrote a book on constitutional law, which was an able work and gave him a reputation. In this work he points out the limitations upon the federal government and calls attention to the constant danger that arises from the encroachments of a central power through the agency of a standing army."

"But after writing this book and while a member of the supreme court of the state he established a reputation of being a corporation judge and made himself obnoxious that when his term was up, the people of Michigan arose and put an end to his career. He was a teacher in the Ann Harbor law school he wrote a book on constitutional law, which was an able work and gave him a reputation. In this work he points out the limitations upon the federal government and calls attention to the constant danger that arises from the encroachments of a central power through the agency of a standing army."

THE CHIEF SURRENDERED.
Peace Prevails in the Transvaal, Chief Malaboch Submits.

CAPE TOWN, Aug. 24.—Advices received here from Pretoria dated Aug. 7 show that the unexpected submission of Chief Malaboch has been joyfully received throughout the Transvaal. The details of the chief's surrender show that Malaboch, under cover of a white flag, accompanied by his brother, his two young sons and four Indians, emerged from the caves in which they had sought refuge and surrendered to the Boers.

But the chief did not surrender until his enemies had employed every means including the smoke of large fires to drive him from his place of refuge. The Boers were very angry and had intended to execute him, but he was spared and twice attempted to commit suicide by plunging into the camp fire. Upon both occasions he was rescued by his friends. He was badly burned.

When Chief Malaboch and his party were being escorted to the larger of the Boers one of the Indians was shot at attempting to escape.

TINGED WITH ROMANCE.
Marriage of a St. Louis Girl to a Young Chicago Man.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 24.—Miss Lillie M. Hudson, the pretty cashier at the drug store in the Equitable building, surprised her friends and employers yesterday by her unexpected marriage to Charles H. Obeys, son of a prominent attorney in Chicago. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. John Matthews at Centenary M. E. church.

This matrimonial venture is tinged in romance. The principals were engaged for a whole week. It was because of this that the bride concluded that it would be dangerous to disclose her matrimonial intentions to her father. Mr. Obeys boards at a fashionable house on Pine street, west of Garrison avenue. He is employed in the local freight office of the M. & C. T. road.

ARRESTED FOR INSANITY.
A Former Professor at Harvard and Stanford Is Insane.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—M. M. Mansfield, formerly professor of languages at Stanford university, was arrested yesterday for insanity. For some time past he has been so erratic that people in the neighborhood stood in great fear of him. It is said that his eccentricities caused him to be dismissed from his position at the university. He was once professor of languages at Harvard college, but there also his mental vagaries caused him to lose the confidence of his associates and finally his position. He was taken into custody yesterday while delivering an incoherent religious address on the street.

The Weather.
U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN.
Aug. 21. The weather is light over the Pacific and the Middle Atlantic states; is relatively low over the lake regions, Mississippi valley and Northwest Montana.
Showers have occurred in Tennessee, Missouri, Kansas and Colorado.
The temperature in the Dakotas, Minnesota and Wyoming, and risen in Minnesota.
State of water at St. Mary's Falls ship canal at 10 a. m. today, 15 ft. forecast for next thirty hours stationary.

Leads the Procession.
The true story of the suicide of the black bear on Minnesota Point will be told exclusively in the Saturday Herald.
It is a sad and touching tale, that would bring tears to the eyes of even Bruin himself, were he alive to read it. In addition to this story, there will be numerous other articles of interest to be found only in tomorrow's edition, while
all the regular departments will be found
bright and up to date, and the news columns, both local and telegraphic, will be filled to overflowing with the latest events at home and abroad.
The reputation of The Saturday Herald
as the best newspaper published on Lake Superior is well established. In its own field it has no rival. All the attempts of other Saturday and Sunday papers to equal it have proven miserable failures and
it stands at the head—the popular paper
of the people and the most widely read and enjoyed. Its circulation during the past year has steadily increased, despite
the depression in business everywhere,
and in this respect it can make a showing unequalled by any other paper in this section. Even with press facilities greatly exceeding those of any of its
would-be rivals, The Herald finds difficulty at times in meeting the demands of the newsdealers and the newsboys.
This is a proof of the greatest circulation
that cannot be successfully disputed.
Advertisers, however, do not question
the fact that The Herald has a greater circulation than all other dailies in Duluth combined. They show this by preferring The Herald as an advertising medium, and they have ascertained the truth of this statement by the returns
from their advertising.

What the Public?
Three years ago Policeman Crawley, of Kansas City, murdered his wife in the most brutal manner. It was discovered that he was "out of his mind" and he was sent to the asylum at Nevada. Now it is learned that he has been "completely restored," and his discharge is asked.
"This is all very smooth for Crawley,"
says the Kansas City Star, "but what of the public? What if he should have an other attack of mental aberration and kill somebody else's wife? If it is true that Crawley committed the murder in a condition of irresponsibility, the public is very sorry for Crawley, but it demands a better guarantee than a mere bulletin
from the asylum superintendent that he is not going to have a relapse. If he was not irresponsible at the time of the murder, his discharge will be a travesty
on justice. In the interest of public safety Mr. Crawley should be properly guarded for the rest of his days, whether his murderous proclivities come from an infirmity of disposition or an infirmity
of mind. People of the Crawley temperament should not be turned loose on the community."
The Herald has not quoted the above
because of any interest taken in Crawley
by any one residing here, but because of the principle which is involved and the danger to which society everywhere is exposed by murderous lunatics of the Crawley type being turned out of insane asylums, with the statement that they have entirely recovered their sanity.
There have been so many cases where people of this class have quickly followed their release from confinement by committing shocking crimes that it is necessary for the safety of the lives of innocent people that all criminals who have been sent to insane asylums instead of state prisons should be confined
there until death gives them release.
The public should be protected from the danger occasioned by such people being
at large.
They say that Russell Sage's neighbors
on Long Island object to the unkept condition of his place, and his refusal to hire a man to mow the lawn.
Mr. Sage has told them he will cut the grass himself when he gets ready and he wants to save the hay. And now the neighboring who don't like to see economy in others, are threatening to make up a party and go and cut that grass some night in the dark of the moon.

Investing State Funds.
A Minneapolis man a few days ago
indulged in a rather bitter criticism of State Treasurer Bobbier for investing $1,000,000 of the state funds in Tennessee
bonds bearing 3 per cent interest,
when St. Paul had on the market $100-000 worth of bonds bearing 6 per cent.
"Were not the city bonds good enough for Bobbier?" asked the state treasurer's critic. "Ought not the school funds to earn 6 per cent interest so long as the city of St. Paul was bound to pay that rate?"

The above is a fair illustration of the gross injustice that is frequently done to
a public official by the criticisms of ignorant or poorly informed persons. Evidently Treasurer Bobbier's critic does not know that the investment in Tennessee state bonds was made strictly in accordance with the laws of Minnesota, that he had no option in the matter, and that the existing law he could not invest the state's money in the bonds of St. Paul or any other city. The law requires the permanent funds of the state to be invested in either government bonds bearing 4 per cent interest or state bonds at 3
per cent, and even the investment is restricted to certain states.

Investment in city bonds at present is entirely out of the question. Mr. Bob-bier says that in his next report to the legislature he will recommend that the law be changed so that investments can be made in municipal bonds and the money be kept at home. Such a change should be made in the law. It would result in making Minnesota less dependent upon Eastern investors and Eastern capital, and would keep a large amount of money in circulation at home.

The New York World continues the discussion of the right of suicide, by publishing many letters from correspondents on the subject, and adding daily
from real life an account of a suicide's death. If, as many physicians and others believe, full details and long accounts of murders, incite to fresh murders, these things incite to suicide.

The Little Jap.
Out at the park the other night
Some nervous Japanese
While waiting for the proper light
Smoked cigarettes beneath the trees.

The little fellow played around;
The youngest, with his hair in tips,
Picked up a nut from the ground
And stood the rest between his lips.

Then through the air he made a swipe
And caught a passing fly;
With which he tried to light his pipe
And puffed his cheeks and smiled his eyes.

Then rubbed his hair the other way
And gave his little back a slap,
And by his nervous seem of a way
"You are the cat's little Jap!"

In that fair land beyond the sea,
Where skin are tightly clung with ten,
A poor soul was given them,
Dear little fellow Japanese.

THE DULUTH EVENING HERALD: FRIDAY, AUGUST 24, 1894.

COMPLAINT OF A PHYSICIAN.

Delay of Four Hours in Getting Out the Ambulance.
To the Editor of The Herald:
Tuesday noon I called at Mr. Lerch's livery barn and engaged the ambulance to convey a son of Mr. Nowak, living up on the hill above the boulevard, to St.
Mary's hospital where he was to be operated upon, to repair injuries that had been caused by a hand car passing lengthwise over his body. I told the parents of the boy that I would send the ambulance at 2 o'clock. They said they would carry the little fellow down to the gate across the field so as to meet the ambulance when it came, which I suppose they did.

When I ordered the ambulance the man at the barn asked if it should be charged to me. I replied "no," that I was the physician and I presumed the boy's parents would pay the bill; if they could charge it to the city, as I had been charged against the city, and if Mr.
Lerch's charges against the city, and if
some of them were for the use of the ambulance, I again asked the man if he would send the ambulance.

He replied "yes," and agreed to have the boy at the hospital at 3 o'clock,
the time set for the operation. I myself
met at the hospital shortly before 3 o'clock, to perform the operation. The patient had not arrived. I telephoned to Mr. Lerch and was told that they had not sent for the boy at all, because they did not know
to whom to charge the ambulance and because I had not guaranteed the payment of the bill. I told the man at the phone that the boy must be sent for at once, that four physicians were waiting to operate upon him, that the boy would die if he was not operated upon at once, that the parents of the boy had said they would take him down to the gate, and that he was in all probability lying on the ground
up on the hillside waiting for the ambulance to take him to the hospital. They then said they would go after him at once.

I waited about fifteen minutes, when I telephoned again to be sure that they had gone. Then the man who answered me said that he had had the horses hitched
to the ambulance to go, but Mr. Lerch asked for the ambulance to go, but Mr.

CHAMPION OF WOMEN

Bill Nye Comes Out Flat-Footed for the Granting of the Suffrage to Women.

They Gave Him Their Support When He Was in Need and He is Duly Grateful.

Does Not Believe That They Supported Him Because of His Frail But Fatal Beauty.

(Copyright, 1894, by Edgar W. Nye.)

Several times each week I have been asked by friends and admirers to say something regarding life among the female voters and what it is like. I have held off for some years hoping that I might be selected for some official position, in which case I would rather be silent on such questions. This journal, however, has requested me to make a clean breast of it, and so I venture here to give my impressions covering eight years under the reign and management of those who were chosen by joint ballot of the ladies and gentlemen.

Wyoming has been for many years a political division of the United States wherein women of suitable age have voted. They have not only had the right, but during my residence there they exercised it. Later I have been told that offensive loud talkers, who desired to have the job because they claimed to belong to the female sex, have made themselves less popular, but during the years I lived among the voters and voteless of Wyoming I am compelled to say that election day was one of the calmest and sweetest of the whole year.

I went to Wyoming impregnated with the idea that woman did not wish to vote, and even if she did she was totally unfit for the job. I carry away after eight years satisfied that she is fully as capable of exercising this right as man, and that she feels its importance and solemnity even more.

She also shows excellent taste, judgment and knowledge of men. (I filled out these seven years myself.)

But, seriously, why shouldn't a woman know whom to vote for as well as her husband? Moreover, she is freer from the thrall of machine politics. The women of Wyoming did not pay any attention to caucuses, but when they went to the polls they had a scratched and mutilated ballot inside the glove, and the knowledge of how their vote went rested between themselves and God.

Whether my wife voted for or against me when I was called by my fellow citizens to accept the portfolio of justice of the peace will never be known till the great big diary of the recording angel is read aloud after Gabriel's musical selection. But whichever way she voted I am ready to abide by it.

The first question asked naturally by those interested in this question is, Can women go to the dirty, nasty polls and vote without losing their self respect?

This question is easily answered. Women who respect themselves are respected most everywhere they go, and the polls in Wyoming are no exception. They were as quiet and orderly as the vestibule of a high church. The reason is very simple. If I am running for office and dependent on woman's vote, am I going to allow my friends or my party to offend her in the slightest degree? Not so long as reason continues to remain seated on her throne.

It is the same with all candidates and their friends. They do not allow any one to get within a block of the ballot box who isn't polite, silent and clean. Did you ever see a lady drive up to the postoffice and get a money order? The process is not so easy as voting because there is no law to keep other people 40 feet away from the money order window, but it is very much the same as voting where women have and exercise the right.

There are a good many men in the United States who believe that education injures the negro. They are the same kind of philosophers who fear to give the ballot to their wives. I've seen wives I wouldn't want to give the ballot to. I wouldn't want to give them anything unless it might be 30 days or something like that, but a man ought not to get socially mixed up with a companion who doesn't know enough to vote.

Two known many and many a man, gentle reader, who could well afford to give his proxy to his wife while he spends a few valuable years at the foot-house.

In Wyoming it was customary for the strongest and ablest party to secure all the available carriages, horses, hacks, hansoms, landaus, victorias, wagons, wagnettes, etc., long before election.

in order to convey the women to the polls quickly and pleasantly, but later the ladies decided to walk and thus feel no obligation to either party.

Of course wicked, naughty women vote if they get the chance. This is true of low, coarse men too. In fact, the solid and sin stained soul seems called upon to vote earlier and oftener than the purer one. This is true with both sexes, and it is all the more important, therefore, that they should not outvote the good, the true and the beautiful.

It is true now and then that bad ladies will vote if they have a chance, but we who know that the good ladies outnumber them 1,000 to 1 are not afraid on that account to extend and divide with our wives and sisters this solemn right. We allow our wives and sisters to go to church for us and pray for us while we go fishing. Why not let them vote for us? We allow our daughters and their mothers to intercede for us at the throne of grace. Why not let them represent us at the polls also?

But women are peculiar, of course, from a man's standpoint. For instance, there can be no law passed to prevent a ewe-necked, man-rich, gothic shoulder-bladed and a bloodshot nose if she should desire to vote, but other ladies should not get mad and remain at home because this kind of voter makes herself offensive and votes. Neither should the good woman remain at home because the wealthy Mrs. Dewdick does. If woman accepts one-half of man's duty as a patriot and as a good citizen, not only as a taxpayer, but as a voter, she should be as faithful to the discharge of this duty as she is to the discharge of her moral and religious obligations, which she seems now to attend to almost entirely.

When we admit that woman is very apt to occupy the front seats in paradise and wear a hat so that man can only see the neck and shoulders of the bass viol, why are we so infernally pig-headed about the right to the ballot?

She doesn't need to go to war because she votes. Nobody is going to war in 50 years from now. We will wear bullet-proof mackintoshes made in Germany and remain at home. When we get so that we have guns that will shoot 50 miles and the enemy is able to catch the bullets in the lining of his coat and give them to the children to play with, men will turn their swords into cultivators and their spears into Limerick books, and we should have no more wars.

Why should a man whose parents three or four generations back lived in trees and hung by their tails from the branches thereof vote in America, not knowing a ringworm from a joint resolution, while the noble mother of statesman and warrior, taxed without representation, remains dumb during the decay of patriotism?

It has been said that the advocacy of woman suffrage has always been in the hands of long haired men and short haired women, but I hope that I may be regarded as a glaring and glossy exception.

While in England I cracked a bonnet which will be remembered in London long after the gilded statue of Prince Albert and the memory of Mrs. Maybrick's case have moldered into oblivion. I had occasion only twice while abroad to open a case of bonnets, and one of these I found damaged, but a London humorist, Mr. Odell, was referring one evening at a dinner given to me by the archbishop of Canterbury to the loss of his hair.

"Mr. Nye," he said, "doubtless had very thin, weak hair, even in his youth, but though I am very, very bald now, I once had beautiful long flowing hair."

"Ah, sir!" I exclaimed, with ready wit, "I spread a little maple syrup on a trifle and ate it jantly." "mine, too," Mr. Odell, was long flowing, but now it is long fled."

"Flowing" and "fled" of course being used interchangeably to make the wit more pungent, but, as the reader will see, in utter defiance of the actual sense of the words. The wit of the remark is so all-fired subtle that some of the clergy were at sea for some time, and even began the service generally used at sea when all at once the thin spikely and delicate fist of the joke flashed like a Damascus blade, as it were, through the opaque atmosphere, so that the archbishop laughed heartily and slapped me on the back like everything.

But, by way of conclusion, let me say one word (for I find that nothing is better for that purpose). We may be, after all, better off without woman suffrage. Perhaps a majority of that sex would not accept or exercise the right if they had it, and to have any kind of a right and not exercise it, allowing it perhaps to stand around and get its head off. It is folly of the milkiest kind, but I am here to say that it is none the less a right, and no one has ever yet offered an argument against it that would stand for one moment without a wholesale invasion of its back. Moreover, the exercise of this right is no more unadvisable nor disgusting, if properly conducted, than for the seraphim to meander through the firmament without chaplains.

Earthquake in Italy. PALERMO, Aug. 24.—An earthquake shock was experienced yesterday at Santa Calarina. People fled in terror to the fields.

P. S.—A friend of mine after reading the above says that the fact of my having been triumphantly elected to office for seven years where woman suffrage prevailed is rather an argument against the measure, for it would go to show that their logic too often becomes subservient to their love of the beautiful, but I prefer to think that their support in my own case was due chiefly to my sterling qualities of mind and heart, and not to my frail but fatal beauty.

EGAN ON THE STAND.

Denied That the Railroads Employed Men to Burn Property.

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—General Manager St. John of the Rock Island road was recalled by the strike commission today. Mr. St. John's testimony of yesterday regarding the black list had apparently not satisfied the commissioners, and he was closely questioned regarding it. He denied again that there was a blacklist or that the roads had adopted a uniform scale of wages.

John M. Egan, strike manager of the General Managers' association, succeeded Mr. St. John on the stand. Mr. Egan was questioned regarding his duties during the strike, and said it was his duty to receive reports from the various roads of the progress of the trouble and to submit the same to the association.

After preliminary questions, Commissioner Wright asked Mr. Egan if in his official capacity he had made any effort to settle the strike peaceably.

"I did not," answered the strike manager. "It is the policy of the railroads to settle such troubles by force."

"In this case at least it was," the witness replied frankly.

The commissioners then asked the witness for his views regarding measures for the prevention of strikes. Mr. Egan said that he thought all railroad employees, above common laborers, should be required to wear uniforms plainly indicating the positions they held. Such means, he believed, would tend to prevent the kind of men in the service and would prevent such troubles as those of the present summer.

Commissioner Kernan, by a shrewd series of questions, succeeded in badly mixing the witness and his theories, and Mr. Egan finally admitted that, even with a series of licenses, conditions might arise that would necessitate outside assistance or arbitration.

"Mr. Egan," said Commissioner Wright, "a witness has stated before you that you used railroad money and employed men to burn and otherwise destroy railroad property during the strike. Is this true?"

The witness grew evidently angry and straightening up in his seat said emphatically, "Considering the source from which that testimony came it seems to me that it should be apparent that it is the most foolish sort. I will, however, enter a general denial to any and such stories. I never employed men for such work and can state authentically that no one else connected with the General Managers' association hired or commanded any one to burn or destroy railroad property. The story is absurd."

TO TRAVEL IN A YACHT.

A Trip to China, Japan, India and Then to Europe.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—There is at the Palace hotel a party of ladies and gentlemen from Cleveland, Ohio, who in the near future will be very close to the seat of the Chinese-Japanese war. They are going to make a trip in Oriental waters on the pleasure yacht which was chartered for the party by Mr. Wade, who is now at the hotel.

Mr. Wade is not at the hotel with his wife and three children, his mother, Mrs. Randall Wade, Mrs. Wade's mother, Mrs. Garretson, Dr. George Russell and Mr. Mrs. George W. Howe. This trip was planned before the outbreak of the war and is to be carried out in spite of it, though Mr. Wade has no intention of testing the small brass cannon of his yacht, Wadena, on the armor plate of either the Chinese or Japanese warships.

His intention was to run the yacht up one of the Chinese rivers and obtain a glimpse of life in the Celestial kingdom. This will be done if the war is over soon enough; if not, the yacht will travel on to India.

As soon as the party reaches Japan a trip into the interior will be made by rail and some weeks will be spent in the land of the mikado. Even to this there is an "if" in the shape of a bare possibility that the heathen Chinese might reach Japan first and make a trip into the interior on his own account.

After leaving Japan, instead of going to Korea, the Philippines islands and Formosa will be visited and then the bow of the Wadena will be headed for the land of the Hindoo, after which they will visit the chief attractions of Europe and then return home.

NO RESULTS IN BEDFORD.

The Strike Conference at New Bedford Produced No Results.

NEW BEDFORD, Aug. 24.—No tangible result has attended the strike conference which was held last evening. The strikers are angry because the manufacturers absented themselves from the conference at which they were, however, represented by an attorney. All but one of the state board of conciliation have left the city.

As a strike is on here the members of the board say that their authority by statute limited to conciliation. They cannot arbitrate until the employees go back to work. The arbitrators do not believe that the situation is favorable to effort at conciliation now. Their present intention is to get all the information possible from both sides and then watch developments, and when the right moment seems to arrive endeavor to effect a settlement.

Will Run Independent.

DANVILLE, Ky., Aug. 24.—Ex-Congressman John D. White has bolted the action of the Republican committee in the Eleventh district in ordering a primary election and announced himself an independent candidate. The district is now represented by Siles A. Adams, Republican candidate for re-election.

IS STILL A MYSTERY

The Identity of the Woman Found Dead on Minnesota Point is Still Absolutely Unknown.

Several Opinions Have Been Advanced by People Viewing the Remains But None Can Be Substantiated.

Detectives Give a Theory But Another One Equally as Good is Advanced by Other People.

Little but dark mystery surrounds the Minnesota Point murder case. Hundreds, probably thousands, have viewed the remains but no one, as yet, has been able to identify them. Who, what or from where the woman was may never be cleared up to a certainty.

Yesterday Carl Thiel took several negatives of the corpse. The eyes were opened and everything made as natural as possible, yet, despite all that, proofs furnished Chief Armstrong this afternoon are ghastly affairs.

Several teeth are missing and their place is taken with artificial plates—one having on it four teeth and the other two. Several natural teeth are filled with gold and Dr. McNulty, who examined them, says the work is first class and recently done. This afternoon he intended to make a formula of her mouth. Cuts of that can be made and sent out to dentists. Identification may result from that.

One of the drivers at Kendall's livery stable thinks that he knew the woman five years ago. Her name then was Jackson and she lived in Duluth with her husband who was a contractor and stone mason. The two disagreed and quarreled. Jackson left the city and soon afterwards the woman dropped out of sight.

Late last evening, R. W. Stack called at police headquarters and said that his sister had identified the remains as those of Mary Moraz, who, five years ago, was a servant in the house of H. Willis in Winona. By a peculiar coincidence Mr. Willis has been in the city since Sunday visiting the family of O. H. Clarke. His wife was here for three weeks but is now at Ashland. Mr. Willis called at the morgue and viewed the remains and unhesitatingly pronounced the Stack story as incorrect. The servant in the Willis household has been with them eleven years. She is considerably younger than this woman and much darker in complexion. She had no false teeth either, and the dead woman has several. This theory is therefore exploded.

This morning, H. J. Milsted called on Chief Armstrong and expressed a belief that possibly the dead woman might be a late employee of the Boston bakery at West Superior. Another person had an idea that the deceased was an inmate of a disorderly house at West Superior. Detectives Benson and Hayden went over to Superior early this morning to follow up those clues. At noon Tom Hayden came over so as to be present at the arrival of the North West. He had nothing new to tell and expected to go back and join Benson after finishing his duties at the boat.

Yesterday the clothing of the victim was washed at the Acme laundry. Mr. Armstrong, the proprietor of the laundry, this morning said:

"The garments were stained with the lake water and the color from the brown dress. We thought at first that we could not get the linen white, but after being boiled a couple of times, it came out nice and white. My wife said, 'Those are the garments of a good woman.' We do all kinds of washing and there are not such as sporting women wear. They looked to us like a wedding outfit. Everything was new with not a laundry mark to be found. The linen was of good quality and made entirely by hand, there not being a machine stitch on it. The undershirt was hand-sewn, lavishly and very trimly made with expensive work and material. The garters were such as suspend from the waist and they were new."

This is the theory of the murder given by Detectives Benson and Hayden: "Everything points to the fact that the woman had some money. This induced some scoundrel to marry her, which he did. When he gained complete control of her money he deliberately took her out to an isolated place and put her out of the way."

A further search on O-at-ka beach resulted in finding another piece of the tortoise shell comb, but nothing further. There is a possibility, of course, that both the man and woman were murdered. He was a well-to-do looking fellow and some desperate character may have killed them for their money, and all know that desperate characters do not shun Minnesota Point. The man may have been more effectively disposed of just for the purpose of throwing suspicion on him and to blind the authorities and the public. Then, too, there may not have been time to more effectively conceal the body of the woman.

The woman is known to have had at least some change. Not a cent was found on her. If her companion killed her, some say, why did he take the money and leave that bracelet, pin and the rings as silent witnesses of his horrible crime?

Street Commissioner J. C. Carey called at the morgue this afternoon and immediately upon seeing the body declared that he had seen the woman at the Lester Park bridge on Sunday afternoon. She was with a man about 5 feet 9 inches tall and who would weigh about 200 pounds. He was dressed in gray clothes. He noticed the man particularly and did not like his looks. He looked to be some years older than the woman. The street car employees noticed them sufficiently to make some remarks as to their personal appearance.

Was Severely Burned. This forenoon the little girl of a family living back of Dutchart's saloon was quite severely burned. She was playing with matches and set her clothing on fire, burning the whole front of her person, clear to the breast. A physician was called and it is not thought that the injuries are necessary fatal.

Trout Fishing About Over For the Season, But Several Parties Had Good Luck This Week.

The Black Bass and Pickerel Fishing at Deerwood and Other Lakes Is Reported Good.

The Shooting Season Will Open a Week From Today, and Good Sport Is Expected.

Trout fishing seems to be about over for this season, although the close season does not begin until Oct. 1. Several parties from distant cities have been out the past week and had good sport. The black bass and pickerel fishing at Deerwood is good, and the same may be said of the small lakes near Duluth. The finest rainbow trout seen this season were displayed by one of the Superior street restaurants yesterday, and they were beauties, weighing 2½ to 3½ pounds. The booth company brought them down from Isle Royale.

The shooting season will open a week from today and good sport is expected. Already the hunters are busy loading shells and getting their guns in order. But few ducks are seen on the river or around Spirit Lake just now but partridges are thick and in good condition. Game Warden Fullerton is doing great work in prosecuting violators of the game and fish laws. He secured the conviction of a couple more lawbreakers this week from Caribou Lake and they received fines of $50 and costs. A settler from Green township is serving out a Goddy sentence in the county jail for having a fawn in his possession and he is quite likely to have plenty of company soon for the game warden means business.

Judge Williams, of Little Rock, Ark., with his wife and son, O. B. Hillis, clerk of the circuit court, St. Paul, and family went down to the Brule yesterday as guests of Hon. C. D. O'Brien.

The fishing in the Croquet river is unusually good this season. Messrs. Downie, Knauf, Dr. McKay and Harry Robinson caught 700 pickerel, pike and catfish Thursday and exhibited them at the West End.

More bears have been seen and killed around Duluth this summer than ever before within the memory of the oldest inhabitant. While most of them were young cubs among the seven or eight killed lately almost within the city limits were some old ones who ought to have known better than to come to town, and the cause of their appearance is evidently due to a scarcity of food in the burned districts. Efforts were made to organize a grand bear drive but the grocers' picnic proved more attractive and it was given up. Several narrow escapes have been reported. While on the Woodland road Monday the daughter of an ex-elderman was terribly frightened by the sudden appearance of an old bear. Several parties who do not enjoy walking around in the woods but who are anxious to possess a bear skin or a barrel of hair oil have hit upon a scheme to bring the bears out. They intend to mix a quantity of whisky and sugar and put it in troughs at convenient places and then climb a tree and wait for the bears to smell the bait and come around and be shot.

Dr. Ticombe shot an old bear and a cub Monday, near Lester Park.

A. J. Frantz met a big bear out at Woodland, opposite the Hardy school, about dark Sunday evening. He was not sure the close season on bears had expired so he let this one escape.

SPORT AMID RAPIDS.
On the Negipon River, Which is Famous for Its Big Trout.

"There is not the ghost of a show for the fish liar up there. The facts themselves are so startling and so extraordinary."

Mr. Truax said the Negipon is little troubled by insects after Aug. 10. The pest can be guarded against at any time, he said, by the taking of simple precautions. He has invented a mosquito cape which he has found to be very effective.

One of the most interesting experiences of the trip, as described by Mr. Truax, is the "shooting" or running the rapids on the return voyage. Many of the smaller falls and cascades may be safely passed in the canoe, provided the latter is handled by strong and expert canoe men. At many points the river is filled with large rocks and boulders, over and past which the water dashes with great speed and force, breaking into huge, white-crested waves, and here and there forming large, and oftentimes dangerous eddies and pools.

These places require not only experience, but strong muscles and a cool head. On approaching the rapids the guide who is to take the position as head man equips himself with a long and very strong paddle. Armed with this he stands erect in the bow of the canoe, and with the blade of the paddle projected somewhat forward, and immersed in the water from two to three feet, the middle of the handle resting against the bow of the canoe, he uses it as a lever by which the canoe is thrown instantly from side to side at will. This is necessary in order to avoid striking the rocks, and to guide the canoe safely from point to point as necessary.

The guide in the stern of the canoe is provided with a short, heavy paddle with which he keeps the canoe in line with its movement in front. The orders given by the head man to his partner in the rear follow each other in rapid succession, and as they cannot be understood by the sportsman, he is left in doubt as to whether or not the canoe is at any time in danger.

The great speed attained by the canoe, the roar of the falls and rapids, the dashing of the waves, and the wild whirling of the waters produce a combination of scenes exciting and form a scene long to be remembered.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report.

nary that the imaginative angler has not any chance whatever." In this emphatic strain spoke Charles Truax to a Chicago Inter-Ocean reporter concerning the fishing grounds of the Negipon river, Ont., from which he has just returned after a two weeks' sojourn.

"I have looked for sport in every state and territory in this broad land," continued Mr. Truax; "I have fished for bass, pickerel, muskellunge and salmon in the most famous waters, but for genuine, unadulterated sport I give the palm to the Negipon. Its trout, both in numbers and size, are without equal. It has far outdistanced the famous Bangley lakes of Maine, which for many years were accorded first place among the brook-trout waters of this continent. The Negipon river empties itself into the northern waters of Lake Superior. It is in reality a strait or channel, thirty-five miles long, connecting Lake Superior with Lake Negipon, a magnificent body of water farther north, which covers an area of seventy-five miles square. The channel or strait is a majestic river, but in volume it is about the size of the Mississippi at Dubuque. It is broken at frequent intervals by cascades, rapids and falls, and every three or four miles it broadens into a beautiful lake. It is famed as one of the most picturesque pieces of water in the world.

The channel of the river is through a beautiful ravine, flanked on both sides by bluffs and small mountains crested by splendid timber. In the neighborhood are excellent shooting grounds, black bear, moose, caribou and ruffed grouse being generously distributed thereabouts. Negipon river is within easy and pleasant reach of Chicago. The voyager may go by rail to Duluth and thence by steamer to Port Arthur, from where a train can be taken over the Canadian Pacific road to Negipon station. Here one can rent a complete outfit—guides, fishing tackle, camp outfit, and birch bark canoes.

"You can have the most serviceable guides at $1.50 or $2 a day," said Mr. Truax. "They are obedient to every wish and are the most faithful attendants. They are Chippewa and Ojibwa, and the manner in which they carry immense loads over the portages is wonderful."

Mr. Truax is recognized as an authority on brook trout fishing. When asked for some advice to intending visitors to Negipon he spoke as follows:

"To begin with the fisherman must bring with him bass fishing tackle. Otherwise his equipment will be shattered in a very short time. The trout is strong and large and live in rapid waters. They are very muscular, and it takes from fifteen minutes to an hour to land one of them. A trout weighing less than one pound is a rarity in the Negipon. During my thirteen days' solid fishing I caught from five to twenty-five daily and weighing from three to five pounds. I am not counting the smaller ones. I caught scores weighing from one to two pounds. I always fished in the deep places in the neighborhood of the cascades and whirlpools. There you find the biggest fish, and I have brought back with me five specimens for mounting, the largest of which weighed six pounds and the smallest seven and a half pounds. I am preparing these by a special method. The fish is split from tail to head and the head and skin removed in one piece. A little salt is rubbed in and then the whole is stretched on a large piece of birch bark. It is then sewed in wooden frames prepared by the Indians, the thread used being slender strips split from the spruce tree, a favorite thread with the Indians in the manufacture of baskets.

"The flies to be recommended are the 'silver doctor,' 'grizzly king,' 'royal coman,' and 'jack scot.' Any of these Polka flies, too, will be found useful. These should be of a large size, but smaller than I-o. All should be double-tipped and should have a double gill leader. It would be also well to take along a spoon hook and some artificial minnows.

Mr. Truax said the Negipon is little troubled by insects after Aug. 10. The pest can be guarded against at any time, he said, by the taking of simple precautions. He has invented a mosquito cape which he has found to be very effective.

SPIRIT LAKE AND VICINITY.

Mrs. Matthew Noble, of Duluth, with her friend, Mrs. A. D. Clark and son Robert, of Chicago, picnicked at Spirit Lake last Saturday.

Al Overton lost a very valuable horse last Saturday. The horse stepped on a rusty nail some time ago. Blood-poisoning was the result.

Mrs. E. Noonan, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Sullivan, returned to her home near Mankato, Minn.

Mrs. James Love and Mrs. J. Long, of West Superior, were the guests of Mrs. R. A. Folkers last Tuesday.

Miss Mamie Nacey returned from St. Paul on Thursday, accompanied by her cousin, Miss Julia Griffin.

Arthur Brown received a telegram on Thursday announcing the sad news of the death of his father in Danville, Pa.

The watchman on Spirit Island has discovered a fine spring of water, which is as cold and clear as water. He dug down a few feet and now has about 3 feet of lovely water.

This week among those camping on Spirit Island are Marcus Schooner and family, the Misses McKen and Minnie Leacroft and Miss Bruce Olson.

Miss Laura Searing, of Duluth, was the guest of Mrs. Douglas on Friday.

James Sullivan and family visited his brother, D. Sullivan, at Ironton last Sunday.

Hazel Smith is confined to her bed with tonsillitis.

The young people of West Duluth held a social at the Ironton hotel next Friday night. Everybody is invited and a good time assured to all. Refreshments and a program are the attractions of the evening.

Miss Ella McGilver, of Duluth, was the guest of Mrs. Douglas on Friday.

The social at Spirit Lake hotel last night was a great success for so small a place. Over forty took supper.

The ladies of the society wish to thank all the members of the literary society and their friends who took part in the program which was excellent and well rendered.

All miss the genial face of the old conductor James Sargent and wish him success on his new route.

My boy was taken with a disease resembling bloody flux. The first thing I thought of was Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Two doses of it settled the matter and cured him sound and well. I heartily recommend this remedy to all persons suffering from a like complaint. I will answer any inquiry regarding it when stamp is enclosed. I refer to any county official as to my reliability. William Roach, J. P., Primory, Campbell county, Tenn. For sale by all druggists.

Wilson Barrett produced at his Leeds theater last Wednesday "The Manxman" an adaptation of his friend Hall Caine's book and drama. It is an exceedingly powerful play drawn from a book which the critics have not hesitated to describe as "one of the very finest novels of the century." The play follows the book very closely—Mr. Barrett's adaptation having the advantage of condensation and elimination of what an excited reader of the book would call the "useless." The value of this compression Mr. Barrett made patent in "Ben Hur," his adaptation of Hall Caine's "The Decemvir."

The story of "The Manxman" as followed in the play is as old as the Bible. It is the story of David, Bathsheba and Uriah and the moral of the play is laid down with terrific emphasis in the old text: "What shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul?" The play is a tragedy and it possesses the true note of tragedy—inevitability. In bringing about the calamities, the awful crisis which the plot surrounds, human will plays its part but inefable fate, the inflexible laws of society, even a sort of malicious chance, play a larger part still. It is the same keynote as in "Othello."

There were five acts and five scenes. The scenery was most elaborate and painted from nature. "The Manxman" will be produced in London preparatory to being taken to New York where it will open Mr. Barrett's 8-weeks' engagement at the American theater. Mr. Barrett will also be seen in two or three other American cities.

The libretto of a new opera, the joint work of Harry and Edward Paulton, has just been completed for Pauline Hall. The next promised development of the tableaux vivants is a huge tableaux depicting the battle of Waterloo. It is an engagement at Tel-El-Kebir and the march on Kandahar. It is proposed to have two or three living figures in addition to the painted ones and the innumerable accessories.

Comyns Carr opens the Comedy on Sept. 1 with Sydney Grundy's "The New American." The American rights of which have been purchased by Charles Froh.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

Mattie Vickers, the Bright Soubrette, Will Be at the Lyceum Soon in "The Circus Queen."

Marie Tavery Grand English Opera Company Will Contain Many Stars of Well Known Ability.

The Marquis of Lorne Has Written an Opera Which is to Be Produced Soon.

Mattie Vickers and company will present "The Circus Queen" at the Lyceum theater Sept. 3 and 4. The piece was written especially for Miss Vickers by Gus Henge, the well known author of "You Yarns," "The Circus Queen," and other successful plays. It possesses bright lines, funny situations and an excellent plot. The audience catches a funny view of "life under the white tents" and has an opportunity of seeing a transient showman, a funny circus clown, a beautiful girl, who wants to join the circus, a Circassian girl, acrobats, singers, dancers, pretty girls and comedians.

A BRILLIANT ORGANIZATION.
Principal Artists Who Are Engaged for the Marie Tavery Opera Company.

The Marie Tavery Grand English Opera company which tours the United States and Mexico the coming season and comes to Duluth will be particularly noticeable for the brilliancy of the support surrounding Madame Tavery. Manager Charles H. Pratt is deserving of no small praise for the excellence of his organization which will compare favorably to any ever gotten together. The tour embraces all the largest cities and the repertoire is exceptionally large and varied. There will be over 100 people engaged including orchestra, chorus and ballet.

The support for Mme. Tavery is Emma Martini, a prima donna soprano of great ability; likewise Sophia Romani, who has an established reputation. Helen Von Dornheim is the prima donna contralto. The primo tenor of the company will be A. L. Guille, who is admittedly the foremost of living tenors.

"Uncle John Whitcomb." Tonight the Corse Playhouse company will close its week at the Temple, playing "Uncle John Whitcomb." Last night the American company drew a large audience and seemed to give excellent satisfaction.

At tonight's performance a $45 bed room set will be given away.

The Marquis of Lorne Has Written an Opera, Soon to Be Given.

[Copyrighted, 1894, by the Associated Press.]
LONDON, Aug. 25.—There has been no novelty at the theaters this week, but the Marquis of Lorne has written an opera, "The Manxman," which is to be produced at the Lyceum theater in London.

MAKING THINGS PLAIN

These Are Symptoms of Catarrh—If They Apply to You Go at Once to the Copeland Medical Institute in the Lyceum Building for Treatment.

Pain over the eyes or across the bridge of the nose.
A dull headache and tired feeling from an unknown cause.
Stopping up of the nose, right or left, nostril, often changing.

Ringing or buzzing noises in the ears, often impairing the hearing.
Weak and watery eyes, in some cases a tendency to take cold on the slightest provocation and without apparent cause.

A choked feeling in the throat, which no effort appears to be able to remove.
Sneezing at night, and a dry, parched throat, with a bad taste in the mouth in the morning.

Itching and dryness in the ears, with no secretion, and a dullness of hearing.
An offensive discharge from the ears, a most frequent result of catarrh of the head.

Formations of hard lumps in the nose and in the back part of the throat, often difficult to remove.
Nervous and discouraged. Labor formerly done with ease now accomplished with great difficulty.

A constant effort to clear the throat, generally unsuccessful and causing great soreness.
A feeling of apprehension of evil and dread about him, although the former may not be aware of it, owing to inability to smell.

Hoarseness, the voice tiring easily, and with singers an inability from business to sing.
Gradual loss of flesh and strength, though the usual amount of food has been eaten.

Rapid palpitation of the heart, often attended with great nervousness; occurs at night or after meals.
Bad breath, repulsive to patient and those about him, although the former may not be aware of it, owing to inability to smell.

Showing pains through the chest, showing that catarrh is extending to the lungs and may be the cause of serious mischief.
Secretions gathering in the back part of nose and throat, having to be cleared by drawing back and spitting in the morning and during the day to obtain relief.

They are many other symptoms of catarrh not to be cured by the Copeland system of treatment. The most obstinate cases yield to this treatment. The above symptoms are, in fact, because they are a perfect description of the disease, and because hundreds of people suffering from them are under the impression that something else is the cause of their trouble.

THEIR REFERENCES.
The Copeland physicians are entering upon the third year of practice in this city. That their methods and system of treatment are popular is evidenced by the testimonials received from time to time in the daily press, from people well known in Duluth. Nowhere can better treatment be had for the diseases they make a specialty of and nowhere are the charges as low.

"Mike-un-us" Club Entertainers.
The "Mike-un-us" Club entertained a few Duluth and Superior friends at a grand and dancing party at their retreat on Park Point on Thursday evening. These present were Messrs. Chandler, Slocum, Farrington, Bellingher, Miller, Bancroft, Cook, Grapen, Pullman, Anderson, Seeks, Stoddard and Johnson, and Messrs. McKay, Kent, Daugherty, Flood, Holcomb, Davis, Benson, Klein, Ehle, Morris, Robinson, Curran, Shaler and Hoople.

His Pockets Were Picked.
R. F. Curtis, of Boston, a round-trip passenger on the North West, had his pockets picked yesterday as he was coming off the boat. While looking around for his valuables the boat went off, leaving him without ticket, baggage or money. The matter was reported to the Northern Steamship company's office and he was given a ticket to the Soo and will catch the boat there.

Damage by Grasshoppers.
CHEYENNE, Wyo., Aug. 25.—Several cattlemen from Fort Laramie, in this county, about 100 miles north of the junction of the Laramie with the North Platte river, report that settlers and residents have been annoyed and pestered by myriads of grasshoppers eating up the grass for miles until scarcely any hay will be left for winter. From latest accounts they appear to be leaving slowly but the damage is incalculable.

The Weather.
U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN.
Aug. 25.—An area of high pressure extends from Minnesota to Illinois. The pressure is relatively low from Southern Michigan southwestward over the Lake. The weather is fair, with a slight breeze from the north. A disturbance of slight energy is centered north of Duluth.
The temperature has risen in North Dakota and Western Minnesota and falls slightly in Kansas, Nebraska and Wisconsin.
Stage of water at Mary's Falls ship canal
at 8 a. m. today, 11 ft. 11 in.; forecast for next twenty-four hours, falling.
Duluth temperature at 7 a. m. today, 62 degrees; maximum yesterday, 72 degrees; minimum yesterday, 44 degrees.

DELTA, Aug. 25.—Local forecast till 8 p. m. tomorrow: Fair. Duluth and the immediate vicinity of western Lake Superior. Fair; slightly cooler Sunday; light variable winds becoming easterly. For the interior of Northeast Minnesota and Northwest Wisconsin: Fair; warmer Sunday; northerly winds, becoming southeasterly.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—Forecast till 8 p. m.
tomorrow: For Wisconsin: Fair, preceded by showers in southern portion today or tonight;
cooler Sunday morning; northerly winds becoming variable. For Minnesota: Fair; warmer Sunday; northerly winds, becoming southeasterly.

The Life-Saving Service.
There is one bureau of the treasury department which has steadily grown in importance since its establishment, although but little is known about it. This is the life-saving service. Modern ingeniety in the construction of surf boats and life cars and other apparatus for rescuing people from wrecked vessels
has enormously decreased the loss of life from the foundering of vessels upon dangerous coasts. Although the somewhat crude life car of Francis has been supplanted by more modern appliances,
he first led the way in this direction, and thousands of persons today owe their lives to his genius.

The first idea of the establishment of a life saving service was simply to protect ships at certain dangerous points along the coast, but now these stations are scattered along the entire seaboard of the United States as well as on the great lakes. A recent order issued by the superintendent provides for patrolling the coast at dangerous places during eight months of the year instead of six
as at present.

The life-saving service is one branch of the government service in which there is no politics. There is not only a law against bringing political influence
to bear to secure appointment as a surfman or keeper of a station, but politicians themselves do not care to bring their influence to bear to secure appointment to these places. When a vacancy occurs in the service, the superintendent of the station issues a recommendation
for the man he is satisfied to fill the office of the station. It is for the keeper of a station, one of the crew who has shown himself to be brave and level headed is generally selected. The members of the crew are usually fishermen who are familiar with managing boats in the surf.
Those who are used to being caught in sudden squalls and who know how to manage the kind of boats that are used in the life saving service. A deep water sailor would be no good for a position of this kind.

Cape Hatteras and the Jersey coast
are generally regarded as the most fruitful in wrecks, but the coast of Southern California also comes in for a pretty good share as there is no deep water harbor in which a vessel can put in to avoid a storm. The number of ships annually lost upon the great lakes is also large. Squalls arise so suddenly on these large bodies of fresh water that the life-savers must always be on the qui vive. It is said that there are sometimes worse storms on these lakes than on the ocean itself. Owing to the policy of members of congress from inland states who have no interest in shipping,
both the lighthouse and life-saving services have been greatly crippled by insufficient appropriations. In spite of this fact, however, they are both doing
a valuable, as well as humane, work in the saving of lives and property.

The Lake Erie Canal.
The project of a ship canal from Lake
Erie to the Ohio river has had advocates
for many years both in and out of congress and opponents as well. The first practical step towards a solution of the engineering problem is taken in the river and harbor appropriation act of this year, requiring the secretary of war
to appoint a board of army engineers to make a survey of the different routes
proposed and report to the next session of congress as to the practicability of the project and its cost.

Three routes proposed are from Erie
to Pittsburgh; from Cleveland to Marietta,
Ohio, and from Toledo to Cincinnati.
There is already existing an all waterway for canal boats over each of these routes. The cost of widening and deepening the channels and putting in locks

as so as to accommodate vessels of 280
tons burden is what is sought to ascertain.
While the floating of great vessels without unloading from the lakes to gulf is a fascinating conception, the opponents of the expenditure urge that the vessels built so as to navigate the lakes would be helpless and unsatisfactory were they brought into the Ohio and Mississippi
rivers and vice versa with the river craft
in the lakes. On the other hand it is argued that an all water route for the Lake Superior iron ores and the Pennsylvania and Ohio coal supply is the only thing that will enable the Western Pennsylvania and Ohio iron manufacturers to compete with the fast developing industry in the South. Advocates of the project see prospects of an immense growth of water traffic if it is completed.
Some authoritative settlement of these conflicting opinions is hoped for from the work of the commission to be appointed.

Dr. Ely's Vindication.
Dr. Richard T. Ely, professor of political economy in the University of Wisconsin, has scored a victory over certain of his enemies who sought to have him declared an economic heretic. The final board of regents of Wisconsin's institution, upon charges presented by State Superintendent Wells,
has resulted in his complete vindication.
Mr. Wells' charges were not sustained in any particular and fell flat, he being obliged to admit that he could not prove what he had alleged. The charge was made that Dr. Ely was a socialist and an anarchist and that his doctrines were subversive of the present order of society, and garbled extracts from his published works on economic and social problems were cited to sustain the charges. In reply the professor, who is recognized as one of the most profound thinkers and ablest students of economic questions in the country, denied emphatically that he was an anarchist or had any sympathy with anarchistic doctrines and offered in evidence all his published works as proof of the soundness of the views which he entertains.

Dr. Ely is avowedly not a socialist,
and after a scholarly investigation of socialism has stamped the scheme with his disapproval, and neither does he believe in the single tax theory of Henry George. What he does believe is that natural monopolies should be controlled by the people, and that a protective tariff is unwise and calculated to foster private monopolies. He has with grim humor put forward the claim that the heads of great trusts and corporations are allies of the trusts and regarded as such. This is what he says:

"Perhaps I ought to make an exception when I say the increase of monopolies of the artificial sort is viewed with alarm by the public. Socialists view it with satisfaction, because they believe that competition in industry is an evil
which ought to make way for complete
and perfect monopoly in every pursuit.
Socialists see in the trusts and syndicates nothing but the remorseless march of monopoly which they have long predicted would never cease until competition of business becomes complete.
The last stage in this evolution, according to their doctrine, is the transfer of monopolized business to public control and the consequent inauguration of the socialistic state. The capitalists engaged in these combinations are hailed by socialistic writers
as fellow socialists, and the socialistic tendency in trusts and other artificial monopolies admit of no doubt. When we come to a discussion of artificial monopolies we, in fact, touch the only really dangerous socialism in the United States. Those who spend energy in fighting the socialism of the doctrinaires who write books and deliver lectures are in my opinion, simple Don Quixotes attacking windmills.

"The game is not worth the candle,"
and that is the reason why—if a personal explanation is in order—I have never spent much time in criticism of the socialists. I have believed there were certain truths in the teachings of scientific socialism which it was well enough to notice, but the prospect of professed socialists ever gaining an ascendency in America has seemed to me
so remote a contingency that I have never thought it worth while to spoil pen and paper and waste ink in exposing their errors. The results of years of study, reflection and investigation have convinced me that the only dangerous
socialism in America is monopoly controlled by private greed."

While every one may not agree with Dr. Ely's views on these questions, it is absurd to say that on this account he is an economic heretic. Who shall decide what is orthodox and what is heresy,
in the discussion of these social problems? But it was alleged that his teachings have a pernicious influence on his students, making them socialists and anarchists. In reply to this Dr. Ely made the following answer in a recent address
at Chautauque: "I have been teaching for thirteen years and my students are mostly young men, but you know some of them, and more than one has begun to acquire national fame. Who are these dangerous men? Shall I name a few?
They are men like Professors Turner,
Haskins, Scott, Blackman, Ross, Warner,
Charles Lee Smith, Dennis, Small, Commons, Powers, Kinley, Gould, Wilson, Dewey, President John Finley;
journalists like Edward Ingie,
George P. Morris, W. B. Shaw, Robert Finley and Albert Shaw; workers in associated charities and municipal reforms like McDougall, Hubbard, Ayres and Tolman. A host of others in various walks of life could be named, men who,

wherever they are, are faithfully discharging the duties of citizenship, are prominent in all good works, are leaders
in their community, who are contributing of their strength and resources to the elevation and advancement of humanity.
Of few things will I boast, but of my students I will boast. No other school has fewer black sheep and to those to whom I have borne the relation of teacher I will say, like the noble Roman matron: 'These are my jewels.' No one need fear that a professor, who can point to such distinguished students, will ever injure by his teachings and doctrines
those who may come under his influence in the lecture room.

The following, from the Mesaba Range, published at Biwabik, is an indication of the way the people living outside of Duluth regard one of the city's greatest attractions: "Duluth possesses one of the finest bands in the country and her people would be unwise to allow it to disband for lack of support. One of the greatest pleasures of a visit to Duluth is to listen to music furnished by Professor Meier's organization." The loss of this band would not be beneficial to Duluth.

The first lady to whom Ward McAllister was asked to give his arm at a London
dinner party seemed disappointed,
he says, because she was to go out with an American. He adds, with his own engaging artlessness: "I flatter myself that before that grande dame left the table she discovered that American men could at least talk."

A large fruit grower of California estimates that his state lost $1,500,000 by the railroad strike. Not only was much fruit lost, but prices have been greatly reduced by the glutting of eastern markets. The San Francisco fruit market is deluged with fine Bartlett pears
and Crawford peaches. Peddlers sell sixteen large pears or peaches for 5 cents.

Says the Baltimore American: "Eleven thousand baths have been given to the men and boys at Baltimore at a cost of only $327. This is less than 3 cents per bath. It is the best investment the city ever made." Duluth should follow this example and establish a public bath house.

A wonderful case is reported from Sault Ste. Marie. The deputy collector of customs has resigned, and he had just been given an increase of $300 in his salary! Perhaps he had an aversion to having his salary raised. Some men are so peculiar.

The statement of bank clearings for the past week shows increases at every leading city in the country, and in most cases the increases are very heavy. The clearings at Duluth were 45.9 per cent greater than for the corresponding period of last year.

It is estimated by the Omaha Bee that in consequence of the drought thousands of families in Nebraska will require relief to save them from starvation. Fortunately there is a very large wheat crop
in Minnesota and the Dakotas, and the people of these states are generous.

The elevators at Buffalo have formed a combine and increased the storage rates. These are the benefits of the reduction by the Duluth elevators discounted.

The Minneapolis Tribune publishes a cartoon labelled "The Sphinx." The face bears a suspicious resemblance to the well known features of Governor Nelson.

Among the Flowers.
The garden sets swine to and foot
then came a whisper soft and low;
"That is her lover, I suppose."
"He looks like her," the pensive said,
"I wonder what they have to say."
"They don't see us," the jasmine sighs,
"Each looks into the other's eyes."
"He loves her so?" the rose replied,
"Oh—here they come!" the violet cried,
"He looks like her," the pansy said,
"And like the rose, she blushes red."
"And now remember!" the rose called out,
"To all their loves and tender sighs—Oh, dear—the blood red—oh, dear!"
—Exclamation.

THE CAPITAL FIGHT

Some Reminiscences of the Struggle Between the Citizens of South Dakota Over the Capital.

Fights Over County Offices Were Forgotten and But One Question Interested the People.

Men Voted "Early and Often," and Even Small Boys Deposited Their Ballots Without Hindrance.

"Speaking of the coming political campaign in this county," said a politician the other day, "reminds me of a campaign that I was once actively engaged in that surpassed anything in my experience for warmth. It was the struggle between the prominent cities of South Dakota to see which one should be the capital."

"In 1860, after long refusing admission to the divided Dakotas, passed an enabling act which was ratified by the people, and the territory of Dakota became the states of North and South Dakota. The next thing was to get capitals for the two new states. In North Dakota there was no trouble. The old territorial capital, Bismarck, was made the capital of the new people.

"In South Dakota, however, things were different. Those were 'boom' days, and each city wanted to be capital, with the idea of working up a boom out of it. So when it became necessary to select a temporary capital, there were many candidates. Huron, Pierre, Sioux Falls were in the race to win and each felt assured of victory. The fight lasted from Huron and Pierre principally, as each had good arguments to back its claims.

"Huron was the center of population and the geographical center. Each thought its own qualification the one that should decide the question, and the discussion was furious.

"The election of the capital was a campaign without a precedent. Every man in every town who could talk at all was sent out to talk up the town which he believed was the best. Every town was sent out with money to get votes at the best figure they could.

"When votes could not be openly bought they were paid for with options on town lots in addition to the contributions. Some of the additions were anywhere but in town, and the options did not amount to much. In one town on the Missouri river lots were platted on the sand bars in the river. The following spring the sand bars had disappeared and the voters were left to the Sioux reservation.

"Well, after a summer of hard work with all means that anyone could think of, the election was held in Huron at the time. The experiences in other towns were the same as I afterwards learned.

"The morning of the election the polls opened and were crowded and they continued so all day. If anyone approached who was suspected of an intention to vote for Pierre, he was promptly challenged and hustled away.
